Glenwood Little League All Stars Triumph Over Westgate 3-2

Steve Galentine came through in the final inning of play to drive in two runs and give the Glenwood All Stars a 3-2 victory over the Westgate All Stars. The game was played August 11 on Westgate's diamond.

Westgate opened the game up in the first inning by scoring a run off a double by Meinhart. Pat Mentel collected a single in Glenwood's half of the inning, but no runs were scored.

There was no more action until the top of the fourth inning when Hill collected a single for Westgate, but Bill Karn struck out the next two batters to end the threat.

In the top of he sixth and final inning, Ames stole home to give Westgate a 2-0 lead as Glenwood went to bat in the last of the sixth.

Jerry Jaynes led off with a single, Eddy Diedrich flyed out, Bill Karn singled, Harold White flyed out, and then Junior Rinehart got a base on a fielder's choice. During the fielder's choice, an unsuccessful play was made on Jaynes at home plate. This made the score 2-1 in favor of Westgate. Mike Mentel then received a walk to load the bases.

Steve Galentine then stepped up to bat with two men out and the winning run on base. He took a called strike, a ball, swung at a ball for strike two, and then blasted the next ball out into right center field for a double, scoring Karn and Rinehart from second and third, making the score 3-2 in favor of Glenwood, and giving Glenwood the game.

Glenwood got 3 runs on 4 hits and committed 3 errors. Westgate turned 2 hits into 2 runs with 2 errors. Bill Karn and Bill Dildine formed the battery for Glenwood; Linson and Meinhart started for Westgate.

The All Stars will play Westgate at Glenwood's diamond on Thursday, August 18.

All-Stars Lose Skill Of Cantlon Fractured Wrist

The All-Stars lost the service of Mike Cantlon for the remainder of the season as he fractured his wrist in an All-Star practice. Mike's .368 batting average and his 3-0 record as a pitcher will be missed by the All-Star team.

The Hilltop YMCA Little Nine All-Stars won two more games last week as they defeated the Little Nine Champion Tigers 7-0 and Allensville 12-6.

The All-Stars scored the only run they needed in the third inning on a single by Jim Thornton and a triple by Mike Cantlon. The winners added two tallies in the fourth, three in the fifth and one in the sixth to complete the scoring in the game.

Terry Linson started the game and allowed the only hit, a single by Bob Wesley, in the first inning. Linson struck out nine batters in the four frames he worked. Don Henne pitched the last two innings and struck out the six men he faced. Linson was the winner and Bill Hill was charged with the defeat.

Saturday the "Y" All-Stars travelled to Allensville to pound out 15 hits for a 12-6 victory. The Hilltop squad scored four runs in the second inning to take a 4-0 lead. A single by Bob Ross, doubles by Bob Wesley and Terry Linson and a triple by Don Henne did all the damage.

The local boys scored a single run in the third and three more in the fifth on singles by Bill Hill, Glen Rohrer, Bob Wesley and a triple by Bob Saint. They scored another tally in the sixth and three in the seventh on singles by Dean Grabill, Tom Hartranft, Wesley and a walk to Linson.

Don Henne went the distance for the win. He allowed eight hits as he struck out eight batters.

Glenwood Junior Softballers Lose To Sunshine Center 9-8

The junior boys softball team of Glenwood Recreation Center dropped a close game to Sunshine by a score of 9-8. The game was played on Sunshine's diamond on Tuesday, August 9.

Glenwood scored three runs in the first inning on hits by Dave Dildine and Eddy Diedrich. Sunshine scored two runs on one hit, also in the first inning.

Each team scored one run in the second inning, making the score 4-3, Glenwood. In the top of the third, the Sunshine team caught fire, scoring six more runs on six hits. Hits by Mitchell, Boyer and Branham all helped Sunshine's cause. The score at the end of the third inning stood 9-4, Sunshine.

A double play by Bill Karn in the bottom of the fourth scored Dick Dildine who had previously reached base on an error. Sunshine failed to score in their half of the fifth inning, and Glenwood rallied up three more runs to make the score 9-8 in favor of Sunshine. At this point, after five complete innings of play, it started to rain and the game had to be called, with Sunshine in the lead.

Bill Karn and Bill Dildine formed the battery for Glenwood. It was McComis and Harris for Sunshine.

Glenwood got eight runs on three hits and committed four errors. Sunshine scored nine runs on seven hits with four errors.

Tigers Win Loop Now New Champs

Little Nine Baseball League

The Tigers won the championship of the Hilltop YMCA Little Nine Baseball League as they defeated the Cards 8-4 and the Dodgers 6-5.

Bob Wesley and Terry Linson each pounded out three hits to lead the Tigers to victory over the Cards. Bill Hill started on mound and received credit for the win. Harold Pennington was the loser for the Cards.

A single by Bill Bitticks scored Bob Wesley from second in the championship game as the Tigers edged the Dodgers in the eighth inning 6-5. Bill started on the mound for the Tigers but Linson relieved him in the sixth inning and held the Dodgers hitless the rest of the way. Linson got the win and Glen Rohrer was charged with the defeat.

The Cards took undisputed possession of third place as they won on a forfeit over the Dodgers.

Harris-Mound Is Bad Corner

The accident at the corner of Harris-av and Mound-st last week pointed out that something must be done at that intersection.

Two men were uninjured, but their cars were damaged and one could not be driven from the scene of the accident. A usually careful fire engine driver drove down a one-way street the wrong way and caused a needless accident which could have been fatal.

This was not the first accident at that corner. A resident living at the intersection found a car on their front lawn one evening following an accident at the corner. Every night they see several violations at the one-way street intersection with Mound-st.

Where does the trouble lie? . . . In this case it was in NOT responding to street signs. The one-way street was ADEQUATELY marked. This accident merely brought out the problem of the dangerous corner.

What is needed, according to residents, is a flashing stop light at the corner. Why? On such a heavily traveled street as Mound, traffic travels very fast and drivers going north on Harris need a special, vivid warning. Perhaps other streets west of Harris need a blinker light too. At the intersection of Harris and Mound, though, the greatest problem exists. Some 365 violations and near crashes as well as actual tragedies occur during the year.

Another help for this excessive speed on Mound-st would be adequate police protection. On Mound-st when the industrial plants let out, drivers travel at least 50 miles-per-hour, far too fast in a residential area. Police checks have been made, but not during the right times. How about a little more enforcement in this Hilltop area?

"Wonder When Diane Will Blow In?"

One Man's Opinion

From THE EDITOR'S DESK

This week the Franklin County Fair began . . . few finer institutions for community cooperativeness are to be found.

If you were looking for many of the farmers and businessmen in west Franklin County and could not find them in their usual place . . . you would have found them at the fair grounds.

As an image out of "Alice in Wonderland" . . . the fair grew this week. Cattle and sheep, horses and pigs, men and boys, all began coming to the fair early. They had to show and be shown before some very critical judges at the fair. A show not paralleled in any other daily activity than the fair would call out such devotion of exhibitors.

Mother, Grandma, Aunt Mae, daughter and sister were busy at the stove this week too. There is that special receipt which had to be completed, canned or baked to present at the fair.

Some people in the county are not so fortunate as to live on a farm, but they still have entries in contests at the fair.

Junior was telling me last week how he was grooming his dog for the obedience show. It was the best trained dog anywhere, he said. There were many professionals who showed their dogs in the Wednesday exhibit. (Unfortunately we must write this before the show yet it will be over as you read it.)

The biggest event and perhaps the best attended will be the activities of the 4-H groups. Members of many clubs throughout the county have taken honors in the past and are sure to take more honors during this the 43 annual fair.

The Future Farmers of America will exhibit their talents as safe drivers and are sure to have many exhibits at the fair.

Now we have said it . . . were you there? . . . will you be there for the last few days of the fair? . . . if not you'll miss some of the greatest thrills you could imagine.

The Call That Counts

Thank goodness for those who call the paper to ask to have news items suppressed. Not infrequently, without the calls, the news would have escaped reporters' attention and would otherwise have been printed. (Hutchinson Kansas News).

Korean Prisoners of War Claims

Several hundred young Americans who served their country during the Korean War and were taken into imprisonment have failed to file claims for benefits accruing to them as a result of this confinement.

In the event of their death during imprisonment or since their release, their survivors are entitled to assert these claims with the United States Foreign Claims Commission at Washington, D. C.

Deadline for these claimants is midnight Aug. 31, 1955.

The Commission has made an earnest effort to communicate with all known claimants, we hear, but there is a substantial group who have moved to new homes and have lost contact with the Commission.

In Ohio alone, some 27 prospective beneficiaries have failed to file the necessary requests.

If you know of any Korean War Veterans who were imprisoned by the Reds and who have not yet received their benefit payments, have them contact the Commission directly or write, call, or wire Senator George H. Bender at Washington, D. C.

They Want You to Pay More

PAY TELEVISION . . . yes they want you to pay for some of the finer television shows which they say they will produce, but they haven't done too much of it yet . . . they are the TV people.

When you pick up your newspaper you read some of the finest feature articles produced in any form anywhere in the world. You read about your neighbor; you read about the funny things that are happening in your community. You see pictures of the tragedies, the beautiful things, new buildings, football, baseball and other sports teams, and often times you see yourself in the newspaper. And you get your paper for a standard rate.

What's more you get some features about yourselves and your neighbors in your community paper too.

But some people think that they have the right to take the worthwhile programs on TV and make you pay extra to see them.

Just how do they propose to do this?

An electronic device would scramble the station's picture and sound. All sets tuned to the channel at the time the scrambled program was being sent out would be just a series of cross lines. This picture could be scrambled in other ways depending on the technique used.

Sets which had been specially equipped with a decoder or unscrambler could, upon payment, restore the picture to its unscrambled form so that viewers could enjoy the show.

Pay television in effect would highjack the American public into paying for the privilege of looking at its own TV set. This is a betrayal of the 36 million families who have already spent $13½ billion for their sets in the expectation that they would be able to use them as much as they wanted without paying for the prerogative of watching.

Under pay-television, stations which are now broadcasting free programs would scramble the pictures and sound so that the set owner could not receive them unless he paid for each program.

Such programs could be unscrambled only when a costly gadget, attached to the home receiver, is fed a coin or slug, a key or card for which the viewer pays.

Since a station cannot televise two programs at once, any station broadcasting a scrambled pay program would necessarily have to eliminate its free program during that time period.

And would the advertisers stand for such an arrangement? We doubt it. Is there a chance that the cream-of-television(?) would be taken from us in this manner . . . it is doubtful . . . but we thought you would be interested in some of the projected ideas involved in the controversy.

By far, your newspaper is your best bet. Be sure to read it from cover to cover. Your newspaper will never sell you short or charge you too much. Your community newspaper will always be there with a complete coverage of news that YOU are vitally interested in.

Mail — From a shutin: I have seen the places you mentioned in your columns and treasure the memory of all the lovely things and places I've seen. There is no limiting my horizon for I still go places in my imagination . . . From my sister in Oregon: 80 degrees at 11 a.m. today. Aren't you envious? I hear it's 100 in Ohio. (I'm gonna kill me a sister, for it was 100 that day) . . . From Kentucky: There are two kinds of corn down here now. For weeks, posters have told us to Get Happy With Happy. Who can be happy with anybody, this hot weather? . . . From Hocking County: Goldenrod is blooming already. That means Christmas can't be too far behind.

Once somebody asked, "Why should the spirit of mortal be proud?" If I ever were proud, three remarks made to me recently have made me bite the dust. Six-year-old Beverly is visiting next door and I have had several enjoyable conversations with her and her little sister and brother. She is a sweet child.

A day or two ago we were talking and Beverly said, "I saw the most AWFUL show on television the other night. Guess what it was." I told her I could never guess, but when she persisted, I timidly guessed Howdy Doody. Beverly retorted curtly, "I said it was an AWFUL show!" Now I'm persona non grata—how was I to know she is one of H.D.'s most ardent fans?

Another put-Esther-in-her-place item: During a phone conversation with a friend whose husband is a well-known local singer, I reminded her that I want her husband to sing at my funeral. She answered—too quickly—He'd be glad to."

If you care, the third remark: A lady who several years ago admitted to being 78 years old was telling me about an ex-neighbor who was having a birthday that day, and added "She is 78—about OUR age." So I look 78—it's worry that kills it.

From somewhere—Do unto others as though you were the others . . . A sign on a shop window in Paris reads: "English spoken—American understood" . . . One person gives pleasure by coming into a room, another by going out . . .

He was a careless driver;
Little more need be said.
The police called him careless
But the coroner called him dead . . .

The difference between a bachelor and a married man is that when a bachelor walks the floor with baby, he's dancing . . . He: "She is a woman who has gone through a great deal for her belief." She "Indeed? What is her belief?" He: "That she can wear a size 8 shoe on a size 7 foot." . . . Love is what makes the world go 'round, but then so does your first cigar . . . The secret of getting on is getting started.

Dear Editor

This newspaper invites letters from its readers on subjects of timely interest. All letters are subject to the approval of the editor. Editorial revision will be made in all letters to correct grammar and spelling. All letters MUST be signed by the writer . . . his name will be omitted, if requested. The Editor.

Dear Editor,

The Eighth Psalm is one of my favorite books of the Bible because it points out so many things concerning man.

As the Psalmist gazed in wonder at the great expanse of God's creation, he exclaimed in part, "when I consider thy heavens the work of thy fingers, what is man that thou art mindful of him, thou hast crowned him with honor and glory. Thou madest him to have dominion over the works of thy hands."

This explains Gods purpose for the creation of man. He is to be God's agent to carry on His plans.

This led me to an intensive study of the Bible to find out how well man has fulfilled his mission. Wherein he has been successful and why and wherein he has failed and why.

May I say here and now that if you have as clear an understanding of Genesis and Revelation, the beginning and the end of God's plan, you have the keys to the entire Bible.

So to get the complete connected picture of man's work, I divided the Bible into seven periods, with an outstanding personality, marking the turning point between the periods.

The first period from Adam to Noah. The second from Noah to Abraham. The third from Abraham to Moses. The fourth from Moses to Joshua. The fifth from Joshua to David. The sixth from David to John the Baptist. The seventh from John the Baptist to John the Revelator.

This plan has been a great help to me, so I pass it on to those interested in the Bible.

Our bodies are mirrors that reflect the image of God after whose likeness man is formed.

What kind of an image does the outstanding characters of the Bible reflect? To mention a few beside the above, Abel, Cain, Seth, Enoch, Sarah, Ishmael, Isaac, Rebekah, Jacob, Rachel, Joseph, Samuel, Saul, etc. All of these were agents of God.

We, too, are his agents. What kind of an image do we reflect? Good or bad the community is what the people make it. The same goes for the state, the nation, the world.

Macaroni Teams With Mushrooms for a Tasty Picnic Treat

BY DOROTHY MADDOX

A HEARTY salad that travels well always makes a picnic more pleasant. This macaroni-mushroom salad is almost a balanced meal in itself. Serve it with grilled frankfurters, warm buttered frankfurter rolls and chilled fruit drinks and you have a gala meal to relish under the distant trees, or in your own back yard on a warm summer night.

Macaroni-Mushroom Salad (4 to 6 servings)

Four ounces elbow macaroni, 3-ounce can sliced, broiled mushrooms; ¼ cup well-seasoned French dressing, ⅓ cup mayonnaise, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, 1 teaspoon prepared mustard, ½ teaspoon salt, 2 cups celery, sliced diagonally, 1 cup unpeeled, sliced, cucumber wedges; 1 cup sliced radishes.

Cook macaroni in boiling salted water until tender. Drain mushrooms, saving broth for some future use in gravy or sauce. Place mushrooms in suitable container with macaroni. Add French dressing and mix thoroughly.

Cover and chill for several hours, turning ingredients occasionally. Drain off any excess French dressing. Combine and add mayonnaise, lemon juice, mustard and salt.

Just before serving, add crisp vegetables and toss salad lightly together.

Grilled Frankfurters

Eight frankfurters (about one pound), 2 teaspoons kitchen bouquet, 8 frankfurter rolls, heated.

Score frankfurters lightly in a spiral from end to end. Brush all over with kitchen bouquet. Place on grill about 3 inches from moderate heat. Let broil from 5 to 8 minutes. Turn and broil on second side about 3 to 5 minutes longer. Serve immediately in heated roll.

Macaroni-mushroom salad is a well seasoned traveler; makes a delicious, hearty dish to take on late summer picnics.

Let's Shop for Tomatoes

The tomato, which is of American origin, traveled around the globe for many years under a veil of superstition before it became well known in the United States in the late 18th century. Botanists classify the tomato as a fruit, but the U.S. Supreme Court, in 1893, ruled it a vegetable.

Tomatoes are an excellent source of Vitamins A and C, one medium-sized tomato giving one-half the vitamin C and one-third the vitamin A needed by the average person in a day. Since sources of these two vitamins are limited, and because Vitamin C is one which the human body does not store from day to day, you need to definitely plan for them in your daily meals. During the homegrown tomato season this is easy to do, especially since field-grown tomatoes are twice as high in vitamin C as fall and winter greenhouse tomatoes. The members of your family on a reducing diet will welcome tomatoes for they are low in calories — one medium-sized tomato containing only 30 calories. Yet may want to capture the goodness and nutrients of tomatoes for winter use by canning them during their peak season. You can get 18-20 quarts from one bushel.

When you shop for tomatoes, look, but don't touch! Customers have to pay for damaged tomatoes in the higher prices charged by the retailer to cover losses. Look for tomatoes which appear firm but not over ripe, at least fairly well formed and free from blemishes, plump, smooth, and of a good red color. Remember tomatoes are not a deep red in extremely hot weather.

Fresh tomatoes with a greenish cast will ripen in a day or two at a room temperature of 65-70 degrees. No sunlight is needed. When fully ripe, store tomatoes in the refrigerator and they will keep a week or ten days.

Meat Buying Tip

Just a tip on buying meat. If you can "take" the heat of the kitchen, take advantage of the good buys in round steak and in beef, pork, and lamb roasts. If you prepare a large roast you have some left for easy, cold meals later. These are good buys only because others are passing them up due to the hot weather.

Teen Troubles

Question: Most people seem to hate their jobs. How can I be sure I'll find a job I'll like?

Answer: You have to start planning early—now—if you want to find the job that is right for you.

You're right about most people disliking their jobs. Most of us just endure them in order to earn a living. This is true only because we just sort of drift into a job instead of planning our career according to the work we like and can do best.

It shouldn't be that way, at all. Work that you like is never dull. It makes the day seem short because you don't get tired doing something you are interested in. Besides, if you are happy in your work, you do a better job, get better pay, more promotions, etc.

You don't have to decide on the exact job now. Just try to find out for yourself the general field of work in which you will be happiest and most useful. Ask yourself, "Would I enjoy doing this work? Does this job help people?"

The following outline has helped many in choosing their careers:

1. Learn all you can about yourself. What are your main interests? What things can you do easily and best? What things are not so easy for you? How well do you get along with people? What are your personality defects? What should you do to overcome those defects?

2. Learn about many different kinds of jobs. What is the nature of the work? Is it helpful or harmful? What training is required? How can you get that training? Is the field crowded or open? Opportunities for advancement? What kind of wages? Where are such jobs located?

3. Compare your job information with what you know about your own likes and dislikes. Then decide what kind of work will best suit you and in which you will be happiest.

There are more than 21,000 different kinds of jobs in the U.S.A. If you will spend enough time and thought on it, you'll find the right one for you.

Glenwood Defeats Westgate In Little Jet League Tourny

The Glenwood Cowboys won their second game in the city's Little Jet League tournament by defeating the Westgate Giants 4-2. The game was played August 3 on Westgate's diamond.

Pat Mental opened the game up by blasting a single for Glenwood. The next two men were struck out, and then Jerry Jaynes was walked. With two men on, Terry Briggs smacked a double, scoring both Jaynes and Mental.

The score remained 2-0 until the top of the fourth inning. Here, Westgate collected its first hit in the ball game. Houck tripled, Cantlon singled scoring Houck, and then Johnson singled making two men on base. Ruff then got a single on a fielder's choice, and Cantlon scored, making the score Glenwood 2, Westgate 2.

In the Cowboys' half of the fourth, Jerry Jaynes was walked, and Terry Briggs stepped up to the plate and blasted a long ball out to left field which turned into a home run, making the score 4-2 which was the way the ball game ended.

Mike Mental of the Cowboys fanned 13 men, and walked only four. He allowed Westgate three hits. It was four runs on four hits with one error for Glenwood, and two runs on three hits with one error for Westgate.

Glenwood's next game will be against Fairmoor at Glenwood's diamond.

Westgate Home Has Unusual Living Room Features

Eagens' Plan Has Surprising Angles

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Eagan and their three children live in a lovely home of granite block at 265 S. Southampton-av in the Westgate area of the Hilltop.

Mr. Eagan, who designed the floor plan himself and installed the wood panelling in the living room and cedar closets, is the produce buyer for the Columbus branch of the Kroger Co.

The Eagan children are Dick, 17, David, 15, and Denise, 8.

Visitors to the home walk up to the front door on dark gray slabs of slate from Bangor, Pa. The front porch also has a floor of the same slate.

Upon entering the living room one is impressed by the originality expressed by Mr. Eagan when he planned the unusual room.

Facing the street is a large arched plate glass window which adds a great quantity of light to the room as well as a view of well-kept lawns belonging to the Eagan's and their neighbors. It is draped with floral draperies with natural background and pulled back to show the view. The window is flanked by mahogany desk and television set. A graceful drop-leaf table with stunning glass-based lamp stands before the window.

On the opposite side of the living room is the second unique feature. Carpeted stairs lead up to a balcony and a balcony bedroom, used by the Eagan sons. A wrought iron railing runs up the stairs and along the length of the balcony.

The walls of the living room are panelled in natural-finished birch which has a soft golden glow.

The exposed roof rafters are light oak, while the ceiling, which is actually the roof sheathing, is panelled in knotty pine. Hidden flourescent tube lights illuminate the ceiling.

Carpeting of gray and blue loop pile takes on a steel gray appearance at a distance and makes a perfect background for the large three-piece sectional red-orange sofa which spans a complete corner of the room. Two gold chairs form a conversation grouping in front of the fireplace. The other upholstered chair is done in nubby gray.

The mantel is made of Indiana Brierhill limestone, while the hearth and mantel shelf are of Bangor slate which has been oiled to make it black. The same oiled slate forms all the windows sills throughout the home.

The hall which opens off the living room of the Eagan home leads to the two downstairs bedrooms and the kitchen, bath and furnace room. All have asphalt tile floors.

Denise's room is charming with a pink, white and green color scheme. The floor is dark green asphalt tile and the chenille spread on the bed is green and white. Rugs are fluffy and white. Curtains are clear plastic with a white lace pattern, and are tied back with green tie-backs.

The furniture, of modern design, has a limed oak finish and contrasts nicely with the pink walls. Stuffed animals and dolls sit on the bed and among the books in the cunning wall niche.

The master bedroom, with windows on both front porch and breezeway between the garage and house, has gray tile floor and yellow walls. The furniture is natural-finish oak.

Draperies and bedspread are fashioned of matching rose-strewn chintz. The flower clorors are repeated in the pink rugs, rose boudoir chair and white lamps.

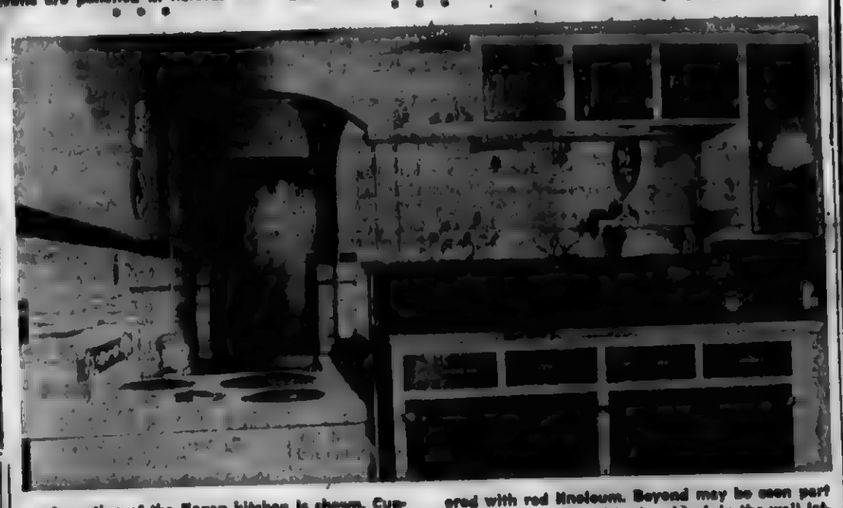
Opening off the hall opposite the furnace room and bath is the kitchen, with yellow-painted walls above the black and white tile.

An L-shaped arrangement of cabinets features stained birch doors and drawers and red linoleum counter tops.

In the adjoining dining area there is a table with a quarter-circle bench seat covered in cream plastic. There is a serving passway between dining area and the kitchen. Glass block in the wall brings in light from the laundry room at the rear of the garage.

One may pass from the kitchen into the breezeway, garage and onto the back lawn.

The Eagan home at 265 S. Southampton-av, is built of light gray granite block and has a Bangor slate roof. The large stepping stones and floors of both the breezeway and the front porch are of the same dark gray slate. The aluminum awnings are brown and yellow.



STAFF Photos

By far the most unusual feature of the Eagan home is the living room. In this view you may see the large arched window which dominates the east end of the room. Walls are panelled in natural finished birch, and were installed by Eagan himself. The carpeting is steel blue; chairs to the left are gold, while the one on the right is gray. Draperies are floral-patterned on natural background.

Looking at the west end of the living room you see the stairway leading to the balcony bedroom. The wrought iron railing matches the railing just outside the arched window on the opposite side of the room. The beautiful big semi-circular sofa at the left is of red-orange shot with gold threads. Chairs at the right are gold. The fireplace is built of Indiana Brierhill limestone with mantel shelf and hearth of Bangor slate.

IT HAPPENED IN FRANKLIN COUNTY

Polish Patriot Did Not Profit From Bounty Land

By Gilbert F. Dodds

Thaddeus Kosciusko was a Polish patriot who came to the United States at the beginning of the Revolutionary War and fought on the side of the Americans without receiving any kind of compensation. He had offered his services to the Continental Congress and was subsequently given the task of drawing plans for the defense of the Delaware River.

The success of this work gained him a commission as a colonel of engineers in the Continental Army. He fought through the conflict but his most important work was the building of fortifications at West Point. In 1828 the cadets at the military academy donated money with which to erect a monument to his memory.

At the close of the war, Kosciusko returned to his country without appropriate United States appreciation or recognition. However upon return to United States in 1797, the Continental Congress appropriated over $15,000 which was due him and also made him a land grant on the east side of the Scioto River in what is now Perry Township, Franklin County. Apparently Kosciusko never received any money for the sale of his lands as they were mostly sold at tax sales.

On Sunday afternoon, Nov. 15, 1953, the Franklin County Historical Society in association with the Columbus Polish National Alliance Group 2422, assembled at the large boulder on Route 257, just south of the Columbus Zoo, and dedicated the monument to Kosciusko.

Speakers for the dedication program were Judge Clayton W. Rose, Fred J. Milligan, the society's president, Gilbert F. Dodds, Charles A. Jones and Daniel F. Prugh, the society's executive secretary.

The historical markers committee of the Franklin County Historical Society is pushing plans for a plaque which is to be placed on the boulder. In addition, there is to be a drive-off at the memorial boulder and advance markers informing passing motorists of an approaching historical site.

The Ohio State Highway Department is to cooperate with the historical society in the completion of this important project honoring the memory of a great patriot and all Polish patriots who fought and gave their lives in the fight for American independence.

Another settler on the Kosciusko lands was Benjamin Marsh who came from the east to Ohio and settled first a. Marietta. From this point, he moved to Franklinton and then to the Kosciusko lands where he settled before 1816. Marsh brought a family of four sons and four daughters, but none of them remained on the farm.

Another settler who purchased Kosciusko land at a tax sale was Joseph Smith who emigrated from Seneca County, New York in 1818. Smith sold his land after owning it for only a short time.

The purchasers of the Kosciusko tract had to stand a great deal of litigation as parties were continually presenting their claims as heirs of Kosciusko. Eventually the tax deeds were considered a good title to the land.

In retrospect, it appears to today's historians that a patriot who fought for American independence did not profit from the bounty lands presented to him. A sorry plight indeed for those brave souls who fought, bled aand faced death many times.

Cowboy Gridiron Prospects Let Go Monday

By Wendy Owen

West High schools head football coach Mac Pemberton announced this week that his cowboy grid iron prospects will hold their initial workout of the season next Monday, Aug. 22 at 6 p. m. at Magly Field.

Only squad members, either varsity or reserve from last season and sophomores who have been invited are asked to report at that time.

All others are asked not to report until school starts.

Any prospects as above mentioned who have not received their equipment are asked to report to the stadium at 1 p. m. Saturday.

The coaching staff is faced with an almost complete rebuilding task as only four varsity letter winners are returning. They are tackle Dave Randall and backs Bill Spratly, Gary Nebinger and Bob Conley.

The success or failure of this year's cowboy grid iron fortunes depends mostly on the sophomore talent available.

Many of the new comers may push some of last years returners right off the playing field if they want to play football and not just fill a uniform as has been the case in many instances in the past.

Four Times Robbed, Thief Again Warded Off, No Loot

Down four times but not out P. E. "Gene" Todd revealed today when he told the Record that the robbery of his pharmacy on Thursday, Aug. 18 was the third time he had been attacked and robbed by gunmen.

Two men entered Todd's Pharmacy, 3578 Sullivant-av, at 9:30 p. m. on Thursday and gunwhipped Todd, but fled without taking any money.

After confronting his wife, the men came to the back of the busy drug store and poked a gun at Todd and demanded his money. Without provocation, Todd related to police, the men immediately beat him over the head four or five times and fled without making any further demand for the [redacted].

In the confusion that followed the Todds said they heard at least one shot. The bullet was found after having gone through a cabinet below the counter through some clean uniforms and breaking numerous beakers of chemicals stored below the uniforms.

One man carrying the gun was described at about 35 years old, weighing about 160 pounds and close to 5 feet 11 inches tall. He wore a blue or gray long sleeved sport shirt, a tan baseball cap with a green bill and dark trousers.

Judging the age of the second man, Todd told police he was about 40 years old, 5 feet 8 inches tall, weighing about 190 pounds. He had dark hair, eyes and complection. He also had a small mustache and wore dark trousers and a dark short sleeved sport shirt.

Todd was robbed at his store at 2467 W. Broad-st in 1932 by a "cape" bandit. He struggled with the man until the assailant had his mask and other articles of clothing off, and lost his guns. The man fled, and Todd tackled him back of Hillcrest Baptist Church, and held him until police arrived.

In the late thirties, he was attacked in his garage on Hague-av and robbed, and again at the W. Broad-st store in 1940.

HBA Plans Yule Parade For Hilltop

A big Christmas parade with emphasis on the religious theme and putting "Christ back in Christmas" may be sponsored by the Hilltop Business Association shortly after Thanksgiving.

A special committee has been appointed to determine if churches of the community desire to cooperate in the venture. The association has approved financing of the parade costs.

Members of the committee investigating the feasibility of the program are Elmer Hegenberger, chairman, Robert Schmidt, E. O. Melvin, Joe Goodwin, Jack Merriman, Clarence Story and C. C. Hartley.

A similar parade has been held for the past four years at Marion, O., where it has been quite a success according to representatives of the Marion Chamber of Commerce.

The plan involves having various church groups sponsor certain portions of a Christmas theme which would tell the Christmas story by means of a series of attractive floats. Bands and other groups would add to the program.

Additions are also planned for the Christmas street lighting program sponsored by the HBA.

Next meeting of the association will be held Tuesday, Sept. 13, at the Colony Restaurant with Bob McMasters, the westherman, as speaker.

Present indications are that the association will soon vote to change from monthly meetings to quarterly meetings with special emphasis being laid on programs of a business nature at that time.

At the meeting of the executive committee last Thursday the association voted to extend a resolution of sympathy on the recent death of Paul Leighninger.

GOVERNOR APPOINTS DRAPER AS COMMON PLEAS JUDGE

Now it is Judge Robert Draper!

Appointment of one of the Hilltop's most prominent citizens, Robert M. Draper, as Franklin County Common Pleas Judge was announced Monday by Gov. Frank Lausche. He will fill the unexpired term of the late Judge Joseph Clifford.

"How does it feel to be a judge?" he was asked Monday afternoon.

"How would you feel," was the reply, "if you went to work as usual one morning and then returned home that evening as a judge?"

And it was just about that simple. While there had been mention made of Draper as a possible appointee, he was one of many so suggested and for several years his name has always been mentioned when some such position was to be filled.

Had No Special Help

Draper had conducted no special campaign to get the job. He had merely written the governor a letter stating that he would be happy to serve on the local bench. No one interceded for him. Then on Monday out of a clear sky the governor called him to advise of the appointment.

"Tug," as he is commonly known to thousands, sat in the office of The Hilltop Record years ago just after entering the practice of law and along with the present Record publisher discussed the shortcomings of politics and wondered at the difficulty in getting good men to run for public office. The joint conclusion was that good men often did not continue to look out for the good of the public after once being elected because they started building political fences and getting themselves obligated to political groups.

It was at this time that Draper decided to run for the Columbus Board of Education.

He campaigned on a friendly down-to-earth basis and was successful and remained a member of the board for 12 years, having been elected in 1939, 1943 and 1947. He declined a fourth term in 1951, saying, "No man is indispensable." He was president of the board twice.

He was a delegate to the Democratic Convention in 1952 when he supported Estes Kefauver.

In 1950 Draper was a candidate for congress and was defeated by John Vorys by 1809 votes after tallying a total of about 87,000 in Franklin County.

Fine Civic Leader

For 20 years or more Draper has been teaching a Bible Class at St. John Lutheran Church. He has served in numerous ways in civic matters in this community. He is a director of the Columbus Athletic Club and Ohio Children's Society, a member of Robert Morris Chapter of Eastern Star and a past grand patron of the Ohio OES in [redacted].

Mayor Jack Sensenbrenner, on learning of Draper's appointment, stated that this was one of the best appointments the governor has ever made. "Bob is a man of integrity and sincerity of purpose and he will give out justice to all regardless of who they are."

He lives at 104 S. Westmoor-av, is the father of two girls, Nancy and Deborah. His wife, Ruth, is active in many local circles. He is a member of the law firm of Draper, Lombardo and Morgan.

The term of his appointment will expire in 1957. Draper, who believes that a man should serve to the best of his ability as a public office holder claims he will allow time to determine if he will seek the job again in 1957 and the people will determine if he has done a good job.

Schools Will Open Here Sept. 6th

Back to school on Wednesday, Sept. 7 for public high school and grade school youngsters in Columbus, according to N. G. Fawcett, superintendent of schools.

When West High School opens its doors on Wednesday, Sept. 7, an estimated 2475 junior and senior high students will march through the "portals of wisdom" for the first time since Wednesday, June 8.

Robert F. Darrow, principal, requests that all students who plan to enter either West Junior or [redacted] High Schools in September, and who have not already registered, should go over to the school next week and do so.

The school office will be open from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m. each day next week starting Monday, Aug. 29.

If the student is coming from one of the Columbus public elementary schools, they have already registered.

It is important that each child be registered before the opening of school on Sept. 7 so that he will have a schedule on the first day.

Three classrooms, 212, 214, and 306, have been repainted, and additional repairs, improvements and paintings have been done elsewhere in the school.

Darrow also said:

"We hope to open school with the entire student body present on Wednesday morning, as it is very important that every student start on the first day."

Teachers will begin scheduled activities a little ahead of their students. On Monday, Aug. 29, all members of the administrative staff will be on duty to [redacted] inquiries of anxious parents and new teachers on the Columbus Public School teaching staff.

On Wednesday a meeting of the entire administrative staff will be held in the Administration Building at 270 E. State-st from 9 a. m. until noon.

Ever seeking to meet the teaching problems, a workshop will be held on "Provisions for Meeting Individual Needs" for all members of the professional staff at North High School from 8 a. m. until 3:15 p. m.

Orientation will be given the

New Ohio National Bank Is Under Construction

This Ohio National Bank branch being constructed at the Great Western Shopping Center on the corner of Wilson-rd and W. Broad-st, is shown above in the architect's sketch. According to a drawing by Mitsesevich & Trautwein, architects, the building will be 120 feet long by 93 feet wide at the main building. Several drive-in banking ramps will be available to serve customers.

GM Building Contract Let To Local Firm

Construction contract to build a multi-million dollar addition to General Motors' Ternstedt Division plant on Georgesville-rd, was awarded to Garwick & Ross, Inc., general contracting firm at 990 W. Third-av, this week.

The contract calls for the construction of a one-story addition housing 606,000 square feet just south of and attached to the present factory building.

Addition will front 760 feet along Georgesville-rd and will be 800 feet deep. It will be the same architectural design as the present structure and will provide the plant with a total of 1,635,000 square feet of floor space.

Work which is expected to start this week is scheduled to be completed on June 1, 1956.

In addition to providing space for expansion of present facilities for the production of body hardware and trimmings for all General Motors' makes of cars, the new structure will house new plating equipment for the application of chrome and other type finishes on certain items such as door handles, window regulators, and similar pieces of hardware.

An addition to the present power house at the plant is also included in the large expansion program. No contract has been let on this phase of the building program as yet.

The expansion will require the addition of about 2000 more workers on the plant's pay roll when the new building is completed. This will raise the employment total to 7,000, the city's largest employee population.

Lincoln Village UP Church Construction Planned In 1956

Construction of a United Presbyterian Church in Lincoln Village is expected to begin as soon as the weather permits in 1956.

Services will be held in Prairie Township's Norton-rd school at New Rome early this fall, said Dr. Vernon Butler, of Dayton, synodical secretary.

Dr. Butler said a minister is now being sought for the new congregation and a manse will be bought in Lincoln Village, probably this week.

The United Presbyterians have purchased two and one-half acres of land east of Schoolhouse Lane, between Amesbury-way and Taunton-way for $22,500. Of that amount, $20,000 was a gift of the Board of American Missions of the denomination, Dr. Butler explained.

The first unit of the church to be built will be a chapel for about 175 people, with an adjoining room which can accomodate 60 people. There will be nine classrooms. Succeeding units will be classrooms and finally, a sanctuary.

Cost of the first unit is expected to be between $45,000 and $50,000, Dr. Butler thought. He said the United Presbyterians are building new churches from a standard proven plan adapted to local and site conditions and this method means less expensive buildings.

The denomination, which has headquarters in Pittsburgh, will loan the building money to the new congregation at 1% interest, with $10,000 as an additional gift and $5,000 more if the church is self-supporting in three years. This money will be available after Jan. 1.

The Prairie Township Board of Education agreed to rent the school cafeteria Sunday mornings until the church is ready for $25 a month. Custodian costs will be extra.

The United Presbyterian Church is the fifth denomination planning to build in Lincoln Village. Others are Baptist, Lutheran (Missouri Synod), Roman Catholic, and Methodist.

Dr. Charles Hill To Celebrate 80th Birthday

The eightieth birthday of Dr. Charles Hill, of 112 S. Ogden-av, is being observed on Sunday, Aug. 28 by a gathering of his children and grandchildren, who are Mr. and Mrs. Winifrith Hill and children Jacklyn, Larry, and Robert, of Columbus, Mr. and Mrs. Leland Hill, of Long Island, N. Y., Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Hill and Richard, of Hamilton, O., and a granddaughter, Virginia Potter, of Toledo.

Thousands Go To Franklin Co. Fair To Set New High

Franklin County Fair in Hilliards has set a new attendance record with an estimated 33,000 people attending the four-day program. Despite the hot and humid weather, crowds streamed into the fair grounds to enjoy rides on the midway, see the exhibits, and attend the various feature attractions provided.

Carl R. Griffith, treasurer of the fair, pointed out that this years estimated attendance loomed 13,000 over the 1954 attendance record of 20,000. Tentative counts revealed daily attendance at 8,000 for Wednesday, 9,000 for Thursday, 9,000 for Friday and from 6,500 to 7,000 for Saturday.

There were more free attractions than ever before, said Leon Boucher, public relations director of the fair. There were free wrestling matches, tractor pull and obedient dog show to amuse the fair goers in the grandstand, provided by the fair board.

"My special thanks go to the West Franklin Kiwanis Club for their help at the gates," Griffith stated.

Cooperation was excellent in every department of the fair, Griffith continued. Within 20 minutes after the final premiums were due, all financial work was completed by fair officials.

Accident Victim's Story Misquoted

In the Aug. 17 issue of the Hilltop Record a story appeared about an accident on Harris and Mound-sts involving Edward L. Aisel, 18, N. Glenwood-av, and Lawrence A. Strang in which Aisel was misquoted.

Aisel told a Record reporter that the passengers in his car were his "aunt and her girl friend." The Record story reported that Aisel was bringing his girl friend and aunt home . . . it should have read . . . "was bringing his aunt and her girl friend home".

Aisel's Aunt, Mrs. Otis Kinney, 2650 McKinley-av, and her friend Mrs. Harry P. (Irene) Causey, 2756 Vandenberg, were returning home from General Motors in his car when the accident occurred.

Local TB X-Rays Reveal 210 Cases Of Chest Ailments

A total of 210 chest ailments were revealed among persons X-rayed recently aboard the Christmas Seal X-ray Cruiser at three West Side locations, it was announced today by the Tuberculosis Society.

Six cases of suspected tuberculosis and 71 other chest ailments needing medical help were uncovered among the 1546 persons who were chest-checked at the Hilltop Bean Dinner. In addition one other case was deferred for further study pending diagnosis.

At Westgate Manor, where the cruiser operated on July 28 and 29, three were revealed as TB suspects, while 11 persons had chest conditions needing medical help. Five hundred ninety-six were X-rayed.

Central Point X-ray project resulted in 22 TB suspects, with 17 deferred for further study pending diagnosis; and 70 chest problems needing medical follow-up. A total of 2120 persons were checked.

The Tuberculosis Society also reported a total take of 1000 at the Franklin County Fair Tuesday night and Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday. Results will be available in approximately a week's time.

The Tuberculosis Society pointed out that its purpose is to find tuberculosis early, while it is more easily cured, and before others are infected; however confidential reports are also sent to X-ray participants when other chest ailments are suspected. In such cases large diagnostic X-rays are advised, and it is suggested that the person concerned see his family doctor or that he visit Ben Franklin Clinic where this service may be secured free.

A total of 944 cases of tuberculosis was uncovered in Franklin County during 1954, the Tuberculosis Society stated. Generally speaking, locations for the Christmas Seal X-ray Cruiser are selected according to the prevalence of TB in that particular area, based upon statistical studies.

The society reported that the average number of chest abnormalities in a community survey is 3.5 percent. While those uncovered at Westgate Manor were less than this figure, Hilltop Bean Dinner findings were 4 percent, and those at Central Point, 5.6 percent.

Weekly Traffic Report

Twenty-seven traffic accidents resulting in 26 cases of property damage occurred in police cruiser districts four and 20, which comprise most of the Hilltop area, in the week ending with Monday, Aug. 15. One person was injured as a result of the accidents, and one adult pedestrian was also injured.

Additional Facilities Planned By Phone Co.

To provide additional direct trucking paths between the HUdson and ERoadway exchanges, the Ohio Bell Telephone Company will spend $85,000 in Columbus in the next few months, it was announced today by J. P. Gibbs, district commercial manager.

More than five miles of new underground and overhead cable will be placed in order to furnish these direct paths. In addition, two new manholes and several hundred feet of underground conduit in W. Fifth-av will have to be installed.

Seek To Ease Traffic Flow On Hague-av

Since the traffic commission is now in recess through August, no action will take place on the parking ban being demanded by motorists on N. Hague-av until they reconvene, according to Ed Melvin, Hilltop representative of the commission.

"I feel that some measure of release should be taken to expedite a better flow of traffic on N. Hague-av," Melvin stated.

City Traffic Engineer James V. Music announced recently that a study would be taken to bring a flat ban against parking on both sides of the street.

Nothing can be done on the engineer's suggestion until a further study is completed by members of the commission. Traffic commissioners will reconvene early in September, Melvin pointed out.

Motorists using N. Hague-av from W. Broad-st to the New York Central Railroad tracks have complained that it is difficult to have two lanes of traffic in between rows of parked cars on both sides of the streets. Motorists have already asked for the flat parking ban, but any action will have to await discussion and suggestions by the commissioners.

Sewer Tap Needed To Open New West Franklin School

A court ruling is expected before the month is out on whether Franklin Township School Board may tap Columbus sewer facilities at Briggs-rd near Josephine-av, according to Elbert L. Becker, president of the board.

If the plea is denied 700 students from Westgate Manor, Miriam Addition, Rosary Park, Burnside Heights, Georgian Heights, Sullivant-av area and south of the NYC railroad tracks will find a school ready to house them but no sewer to offer sanitary facilities at the West Franklin Elementary School.

Suit filed in Common Pleas Court to compel the city of Columbus to allow the school to tap into its sewer was outlined by Becker for the board against Columbus Service Director Floyd C. Redick. The suit insisted that in 1953 the director gave verbal assurance that a sewer could be constructed and a tap permit would be issued.

No septic tank may be used at the school site, Becker asserted. There are too many homes and the drainage area is insufficient. If the court does not give an immediate ruling it will crowd school officials for a decision, he said.

Redick said the city plant was unable to handle the school because the sewage treatment plant is already overloaded. Care must be taken of the needs of the people in the city first, he insisted.

Service Director Redick pointed to the fact that city residents pay

Annual August Sale Begins Tomorrow At Seiller's

An event which thousands of Hilltoppers look forward to each year — the annual August clearance sale of Seiller's Department Store — will get under way tomorrow morning when the doors of the concern open at 9:30.

"We've slashed the prices on thousands of desirable items for this sale," Jack Merriman of Seiller's, said yesterday, "and we're anticipating the largest crowd of value-seekers in the history of the event."

Of added interest, he said, are the "Early Bird Specials," a special group of merchandise available at 9:30 a. m. on the first day of the sale.

"Customarily we're swamped by the huge crowds waiting at our doors when they open Thursday at 9:30 a. m., and no exception to this is expected this year. The people of this area have grown to expect the best values available anywhere and they won't be disappointed," Merriman said.

The sale will be held four days — Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Monday — with the store being open Saturday and Monday until 6:30 p. m.

West Hill Furniture Store Plans Huge Expansion Program

West Hill Furniture, 2304 W. Broad-st, will add 8,000 square feet of floor space to their present store when they make a connecting arch way between two store-sites, according to Ed Schaedler, owner.

"This will give the store ample space to display more styles and various name lines which our customers have asked for," said Schaedler.

The store opened for business in June, 1946 on the Hilltop and since that time had added many nationally advertised lines of household furnishings and appliances, the owner pointed out.

Opening of the expansion will be announced later. Store hours are from 9 to 9 on Monday, Thursday, and Saturday and from 9 to 6 on Tuesday, Wednesday and Friday.

Dear Editor

This newspaper invites letters from its readers on subjects of timely interest. All letters are subject to the approval of the editor. Editorial revision will be made in all letters to correct grammar and spelling. All letters MUST be signed by the writer . . . his name will be omitted if requested. The Editor.

Dear Editor:

The chaotic condition the world is in today will not be cured by laws, treaties, commitments or meetings like at Geneva. It is to be hoped that this meeting will do much good and go a long way in preventing another world war.

People are hoping and praying for peace, but permanent peace will come only when the hearts of man are changed from following man made ways, to the way of the Bible. It is the Guide Book of life. If all mankind would follow its teachings, permanent peace would soon be accomplished.

The gist of the preaching of John, the Baptist, was "Repent for the kingdom of Heaven is at hand."

Jesus came to earth to call men unto him that the church of Jesus Christ might be established.

On the day of pencecost the church became a reality. In the course of time dissensions arose based on man's interpretation of the Bible and denominations were formed.

Today instead of harmoneous action (see John 17th chap.) there is division and discord, assuming an attitude of I am right and everybody else is wrong.

But a brighter and more promising outlook is in evidence. Several of our leading denominations have organized world wide conventions. The purpose of the convention is to bring churches of their own denominations into a more unified action. This is a step in the right direction.

Better still a world council of churches has been organized to break down prejudiced feelings between denominations.

If and when this can be consumated, then the church would become a real force in the world and a lasting peace would soon be [illegible].

In unity there is strength. United we stand, divided we fall. A more concerted action of churches and denominations is the answer to a permanent peace.

About The Hilltop

Congratulations to the Glenwood Cowboys, Kiwanis Little Jet League champions of the city. Casey Stengle never had any more on the ball than Bob Howe, coach and manager. It was team work right down the line that did the trick. Due to the team's handicap, a lack of recreational facilities at their home park (Hamp), their trophy will go to Glenwood Park.

Joe Alwood, florist, broke his arm playing in the softball league. His son Gary, member of the Cowboys, was runner-up in the Central Ohio Caddie Tournament.

IN JUST THREE WEEKS
Olivers' Tour Includes Stops In Ten European Countries

The romance and glamour of the old world is intriguing to many of us, and a trip to Europe is a life-long dream. This was the year for dreams to come true for Mr. and Mrs. Walter J. Oliver, 480 S. Huron-av.

Oliver, an estimator at North American and his wife, Lucille, first-grade teacher at Westgate School, have recently returned from a tour of some of the great cities of England, France, Italy, Switzerland and Germany, with stops in Dublin, Newfoundland, Luxembourg, Madrid and the Azores.

Traveled Entirely By Air

Travelling entirely by air, with practically no time lost in travel, they were able to make the trip in just three weeks.

They have brought back with them the comforting conviction that world peace can be attained from closer understanding between the peoples of the world, and that the ease and speed of air travel can make neighbors of all countries.

Also priceless is a deeper evaluation of their American citizenship. Never again will they take it lightly after seeing the respect the rest of the world has for Americans and for their country.

Among the pleasant surprises of their trip was the discovery that, contrary to popular belief, continental hotel accomodations are sheer luxury, even by American standards. They also found the food, without exception, to be deliciously prepared and served in a more elaborate fashion than the American way.

Touch of Home

A touch of home in historic and dignified England was the plaques of George Washington, Abraham Lincoln and Franklin Delano Roosevelt, hanging in Westminster Abbey. "There was Madame Tussaud's wonderful waxworks, the colorful changing of the guards, flowers in every yard and, as expected, tea in the afternoon," added Mrs. Oliver.

"Paris was wonderful with its outdoor cafes and amazing traffic. City busses actually do travel 70 miles an hour. At night autos travel in the city without lights and blink their lights when they approach a corner," she explained.

The couple's 15th wedding anniversary was made memorable by attending a performance of the opera, "Rigoletto," in Rome. In Rome they also visited the fabulous cathedrals, the basilica of St. John, the impressive coliseum, and travelled along the Appian Way to the catacombs.

"Each country was unique in its own way but I believe we enjoyed the customs of Germany most. The geography is similar to our own Ohio, too, with its rolling hills and plains. We took a day-long trip down the Rhine and found the river lined with story-book castles, seemingly hundreds of them, many in ruins but some still in good repair.

Immaculate Switzerland

"Tiny Switzerland was immaculate. Even the streets of Zurich seemed to have been scoured.

They also had their share of the humorous little happenings that make a trip such fun. One such event happened in a cafe in Switzerland.

Impressed with the performance of a seven-year old Swiss yodeler, Oliver explained to the headwaiter, at great length and with many gestures, that he wished to tip the child. The waiter listened with great dignity until he had finished and then said, in perfect English, "I'll send the boy over."

Mrs. Oliver had greatly admired the lovely ceramics displayed in Switzerland and felt they were farther advanced in modern art from any she had ever seen. She purchased a lovely vase there, and had it shipped home. Upon its arrival, she unpacked it and found, in large letters on the botton, "Made in Italy."

What were the most beautiful sights the Olivers saw on their whole trip? "The clock tower in Boston and the rich, fertile fields of Ohio!"

If ... experiments mean ... —Benjamin Disraeli.

Local Church To Feed Multitudes At State Fair

The Rev. James F. Lorenz, pastor of Community Christian Church at S. Powell-av and Olivet, will supervise the church's restaurant concession at the Ohio State Fair from Aug. 26 through Sept. 2. In 1938 the pastor first started taking the churches under his wing to the fair to earn extra money for building projects. Those churches benefitting from these profits have been Riverside Methodist, Upper Arlington; Columbia Heights Methodist, New Rome; St. Luke's Methodist on Fifth-av; Westgate Methodist on the Hilltop and Community Christian on the Hilltop. Many thousands of dollars have been raised for these building programs the pastor said.

Al Nichols Wins Horseshoe Tourney

In the recent horseshoe tournament at Glenwood Recreation Center, Al Nichols emerged as the champ. Contests were held for junior, intermediate, and senior divisions, and then, to produce a single playground winner, the three winners had a play-off among themselves.

Dick Brothers won the junior title. Marty Crawford annexed the intermediate championship after a close 21-16 game with Jack Getz. Al Nichols won the senior division. He played two games, winning over Jim McAndrews, 22-8 and Dave Rumfield 21-3.

Brothers put up a good battle against Crawford in the first game of the play-offs, before succumbing 22-13.

Crawford and Nichols then played it out for the championship. Nichols cinched the game 21-13.

OUR DAILY BREAD

Bread is for the body — but there is also bread for the mind and the soul. How wise are families who make their breakfast a spiritual meal as well as material. The old custom of devotion at the breakfast table is returning. Surely, we shall be a better people for it. Tempers will be better disciplined, delinquency not so universally rampant, and we shall get on together better when we begin the day as God's children. This lost art of Bible reading at breakfast must be found again. What better use of a few minutes in the morning than to spend them listening to the words of prophets and sages and apostles? Why not choose a good meal for the soul even as we prepare food for the body? Keep your spiritual health. Attend church. Be strong in the Lord. "Man does not live by bread alone." Then start your day with Bible reading at breakfast.

Little Jets Honored At Big Jet's Stadium

Bill Dildine, catcher for the Sabers in Glenwood Recreation Center's Little Jet League, and Bill Purcell, pitcher for the Blues in Sunshine's Little Jet League, are shown here just after the pre-game ceremonies at the Columbus-Richmond game, Aug. 15. The boys, all members of Little Jet teams at Sunshine and Glenwood helped in the celebration of baseball appreciation night.

James Henery and Morgan Craytor presented a trophy to Mike Mentel and Terry Briggs, indicating that the Glenwood Cowboys Little Jet League earned the city championship. STAFF Photo

The Glenwood Cowboys snatched a 13-0 victory over the Fairmoor White Sox, Thursday, Aug. 18, to become the city's new Little Jet League Champs. The game was played at Linden Park.

Fairmoor went up to bat in the first inning, the first man up lining a single through shortstop for the first hit of the ball game. The Cowboys promptly turned the next man's hit into a double play, and the next man up struck out to end the inning.

In the bottom of the second inning, Junior Rinehart led off with a single for Glenwood, Johnny Warren reached first on a single to make the score 1-0 Glenwood.

It was three up and three down for the White Sox in the top of the third, but Glenwood scored three more runs on three hits in the bottom of the third. John Landefeld was walked, Terry Briggs doubled, scoring Landefeld, and then Junior Rinehart smashed a home run into right field to score Briggs, and make the score 4-0.

Fairmoor got another hit in the top of the fourth inning, but no runs were scored. The Cowboys scored four more runs on one hit. There were two walks and three errors by Fairmoor. Glenwood's lone hit in this inning was a triple by Jerry Jaynes.

With Glenwood leading 8-0, going into the bottom of the fifth inning, the White Sox fell apart completely as the Cowboys hammered the White Sox pitcher for three hits and five more runs.

The score was Glenwood 13, Fairmoor 0 as Fairmoor went to bat in the top of the sixth and final inning. Mike Mentel promptly put the batters down, one, two, three, to wind up the ball game, and give Glenwood the city title.

For Glenwood; it was 13 runs on nine hits with no errors, Fairmoor, no runs on three hits and four errors.

The Cowboys moved to the finals as Mike Mentel pitched a two-hit ball game, defeating the Linden Yankees 4-1, Tuesday, Aug. 16, at American Legion Playground.

Sewer Tap Needed —

for the polution program and the general reserve is at a low ebb, funds are needed badly. The area in which the school stands was given a definite freeze nineteen months ago, he addede, and they had time to think about it, but did nothing. They could have installed their own treatment plant, he indicated.

"They can build cesspools and take care of their own," Redick said, "in no way should the city give them sewer service. We give them water only because it was a written agreement with my predecessor. The city has not received payment enough to pay the cost of installation and maintenance. They want services but no responsibility; they have showed no signs of cooperation in anything so far; they want us to be Santa Claus."

"We don't want to be unreasonable," President Becker stated. "The county has set the price we must pay for services on water, we paid it. The county has also given its permission to tap the sewer line, now we must get the city's permit."

Both Becker and Redick indicated they felt sure the court would act in their favor.

For The Love Of Timmie - Frank Road Chapel Has New Pastor

Rev. George Myers and Timmie Staff Photo

The Rev. and Mrs. George Myers, missionary representatives to France, were home on furlough when their son, three-year-old Timothy, became ill with polio.

Because of the need for continued treatment at Children's Hospital for his paralyzed right arm, the family was unable to return to France to continue their work there.

These events led to the Rev. Myers' appointment as pastor of the new Baptist congregation meeting in the Franklin Township Elementary School, 2090 Frank-rd.

The Rev. Myers was born and grew up in Coshocton, studied at Northwestern School in Minneapolis, Minn., and was graduated from Philadelphia Bible Institute, Philadelphia, Pa.

The Rev. Myers remarked with amusement, "Timothy, born in France, has an American name and daughter, Renee, born in America, will remind us of our years in France, with her French name." She is a year and a half old.

The couple have been members of Immanuel Baptist Church.

John Quincy Adams Visits Columbus Back In 1843 On Stagecoach

By Gilbert F. Dodds

About 4 in the afternoon of Nov. 4, 1843, an elaborate stagecoach pulled up in front of the old Neil House and a distinguished traveler was seen dismounting. The man was ex-president of the United States, John Quincy Adams, who was on his way to Cincinnati as honored guest of the Astronomical Society of that city.

Mr. Adams kept one of the most famous diaries of his day and it is from this diary that historians obtained facts pertaining to his Columbus visit.

After an unpleasant trip from Cleveland, Mr. Adams related that he got off a canal boat, the "Rob Roy", at Hebron. A stagecoach was then ready to transport him and his party to Columbus.

While they were dining at Kirksville a "more commanding stagecoach driven by Mr. William Greene" came out from Columbus and in this, Adams wrote, "we made our entry into Columbus about 4 in the afternoon and were lodged in the Neil Hotel."

At 8 that same evening, Adams recalled, "I was conducted to Dr. Hoge's Presbyterian Church where the mayor of the city delivered an address of welcome." Following this, Mr. Adams thanked all concerned for their hospitality and returned to the hotel.

Sunday, Nov. 5, Mr. Adams was pleased when Jesse B. Thomas, a former U.S. senator from Illinois called upon him. And on Monday, Mr. Adams and his party were escorted across the Scioto River to Franklinton, led by two military companies and a brass band.

Mr. Adams closed his journal account of his visit here by commending the public officials and residents for their warm greeting and hospitality.

In Passing

By Esther Weakley

BEYOND THE HORIZON

I stood on the shore and watched a ship
Embark for a foreign land;
With unfurled sails, it began the trip
The captain had well planned.
As the graceful craft sailed out its sight
And passed beyond my view,
Though it could no more be seen by me,
It existed still, I knew.
It sailed as proudly when out of sight
As it had when I could see;
I knew full well that its course was right
To reach its destiny.
At that great port on the other side
Are friends who watch and wait;
Then into sight they will see it glide
And enter the harbor gate.
So it is when a loved one is brought Across the Great Divide.
He is just as real, though we see him not,
As he was when at our side.

Worral (Gil) Sonastine.

The many, many friends of Gil Sonastine are remembering this poem of his which he wrote many years ago. Today (August 15) his friends were told "Gil has left us." Although sightless and completely paralyzed for most of his life, Gil was an institution. Ministers, city officials, other shutins and those of us who are fortunate enough to be able to get about have gone to Gil for encouragement and inspiration. We were never disappointed. Gil will go on doing good. Nobody will ever forget him. He will be "just as real, though we see him not, as he was when at our side."

Mail—from Columbus: Hot or cold, don't wish away August—it's my vacation month . . . From Harrisburg, Pa.: We are this far on our way to Philadelphia, via Turnpike. The only time I've been cool since we left home is when I spilled a glass of ice water down my front. See weather reports for details . . . From my favorite shutin, in Knoxville: Say Hello to my Columbus friends. If you think Ohio is hot you should be in Tennessee. A nurse just told me it is 106 in the shade on the hospital lawn. By evening a stray breeze from the mountains gets this far but by that time everyone is too weary to appreciate it. Tennessee is Tennessee and I love it anyway . . . (The above-quoted excerpts were written during our "unusually warm" week.)

My good friend Blanche Meachum, knowing my fondness for old books, brought over a volume entitled "Wit and Humor of the Age." The book was published in 1883, and contains stories by Mark Twain, Josh Billings, Alex Sweet and other writers of that day. Here are some of the jokes people laughed at in 1883:

A Kentucky jury brought in the verdict: "Not guilty, if he'll leave the state." . . . "Lillie, did you say your prayers last night?" asked a mother of her little girl. "Yes, Ma-ma, I said them all alone. When I went to bed I looked around the house for somebody to say them to but there wasn't anyone here so I said them to God." . . . When Ethel tumbled down and broke a basket of eggs the other children told her when her mother saw the broken eggs, she would "catch it." She answered "No I won't catch it either. I've got a grandmother!" . . . Teacher: "Did any of you ever see an elephant's skin?" When one child said he had, and the teacher asked where, he answered "On the elephant." . . . "I'm bound to live within my means, if I have to borrow money to do it," said Artemus Ward . . . Men should not boast so much. A little hornet if he feels like it, can break up a whole camp meeting.

STRENGTH FOR THESE DAYS
The Bible
If any man be in Christ, he is a new creature; old things are passed away... (II Corinthians 5, 17.)
Each new day that God gives us can be a new, clean beginning, a starting-from-scratch, a completely new and useful and happy life, with His help through our devotion and prayer. The mistakes and failures of yesterday can be wiped away completely—"behold, all things are become new."

A Good Boat Is Result Of Young Boy's Vacation Project

By Bill Batkin

What does the average 15-year-old boy do in his spare time? Some participate in athletics, others build boat and airplane models, and still others are beginning to make girls a hobby. But not Larry Rogers.

Larry, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Rogers, 81 S. Ogden-av, is the proud owner of a nine-foot racing hydroplane, or more technically, a Neal three-point banjo, class A or B competition. More simply, it is a short outboard motor boat, seating one, that was specifically designed for racing, and in competition at speeds nearing the 50-mile-per-hour mark, is planing on three points.

Inexperience No Problem

This is not unusual, except for the fact that Larry knew nothing of the sport of hydroplane racing and construction until he got his boat.

His father purchased the boat in June, but since the boat was in need of repair, Larry has never had the boat in water.

His job would have been simpler if he had built the boat from scratch, or from a kit, but Larry is the kind who can take apart a no longer working appliance, etc., and make it workable. This carried through to the boat.

Right away he began taking the canvas off the deck to study the construction. He got a rude awakening when he removed the canvas because all of the bracing under the deck and around the cockpit had been drilled full of holes to make the boat lighter. The boat had been out of the water so long that dry rot had all but set in.

So, the long and tedious task of rebuilding the boat set in. Many of his neighbors and friends were skeptical as to whether or not the boat would ever float again, but Larry was still not disillusioned. He removed the deck supports, flooring and hull to get at the framework. His task had just begun, really, because he had to sand down every inch of the boat, replace some of the frame, and fill in other members.

Then he began rebuilding the boat, replacing many of the screws, nails and various and sundry items holding the boat together. After he got the boat back together, he had to caulk the hull.

After the caulking had set, he stained the boat, varnished and

Sullivant Avenue To Get Street Lights

Over a year ago Sullivant Avenue merchants were given the assurance of the city that improved street lighting for that area would be forthcoming and that the necessary materials were on hand.

This week in a follow up with Service Director Redick and Supt. Tucker, the Record has been advised that the necessary surveys of Sullivant have been made and that it appears that probably as many as eight blocks of that area will get the improved lighting yet this fall.

No commitment has been made as to just where the lights would go but any lights are better than none and the word that a start is to be made is encouraging and will certainly be appreciated by Sullivant-av folks.

His Job Never Ends

Oh for the life of a public official!

Tuesday was one of the many hectic days in the life of Director Floyd Redick. Sewer taps, court action, etc., filled the day to the extent that he was running so far behind on his work that he decided after supper to inspect the 200 underpass construction job to determine if it would be ready for heavy week-end traffic.

Net result, an 81-year-old man plows into the car he was driving and demolishes it and shakes up Floyd's family.

Maybe there is a medal that should be awarded to city officials for service beyond the call of duty!

Mayor Plans To Appoint Democrat To City Planning Commission

"In order to place a Democrat on the commission," Mayor Jack Sensenbrenner this past week stated that Elmer Hegenberger would not be reappointed as a member of the City Planning Commission.

Court Gives Temporary Sewer Tap

West Franklin Elementary school will open on Tuesday, Sept. 6, providing the first permanent school home for children living in the area for the first time in many years.

Sewer connections should be completed in time for the opening date, said Vaughn J. Ullman, administrative head of the school. The school will draw more than 700 students from Westgate Manor, Miriam Addition, Rosary Park, Burnside Heights, Georgian Heights, Sullivant-av area and south of the NYC railroad tracks.

As of Tuesday afternoon it had been settled that the new school would be given a temporary sewer connection, at least until Sept. 16.

It was a good bit like Finnigan's train this week—off again, on again, gone again.

Last Friday the Franklin Township Board of Education petitioned Judge Robert Leach for a temporary mandatory injunction to force Columbus Service Director Floyd Redick to give the school the sewer facilities.

About 11 a.m. Friday, Judge Leach refused the injunction, saying it was illegal. When he came back from lunch he reversed his decision and granted the injunction. He then left the city on vacation.

Director Redick claims he didn't receive the order until Monday morning and that the order referred to a "tap" which had not been requested. It is customary that county "taps" are approved by the county sanitary engineer and then passed on to the director for approval. This apparently had not been done.

Monday afternoon in a hearing before Judge George Marshall all parties concerned reviewed the case and County Sanitary Engineer Desso Mitchell and Director Redick concurred in an understanding on the order and the board has been granted permission to tap into the sewer until Sept. 16, the time set for the hearing on the case.

Redick claims his objection to extension of this line is that it will increase the load on already overburdened sewers on the West Side.

Information on special bus services, Superintendent Ullman said, would be distributed to parents and children in the school area on Thursday or Friday of this week. Bus times, routes, and special attendance areas will also be notified of the new program, he added.

AT THE LIBRARY

Books On Indian Lore Helpful To 'Y' Indian Guides

'Y' Indian Guides and 'Y' Boys' craft class will really go for the new book now on the shelves of the Hilltop Branch Library, 2958 W. Broad-st, said Mildred Phalor, librarian. "The Book of Indian-Crafts and Costumes" by Bernard Mason has countless ideas for making Indian items. Besides directions for making all items there is a short history of useage.

For example, the hair roach was the coveted headdress of the dashing young men in the dance. Only the wrinkled faces of old men looked well beneath feathered bonnets; men of youth and vigor who leaped to the booming of drums preferred the roach.

Directions for making both the hair and feather roach are well illustrated. There are also directions for making war-bonnets, beaded headbands, forehead rosettes, turbans and hair feathers, feather bustles, leg bands, moccasins, and a wealth of other information.

"American Indian Beadwork," and "Indian and Camp Handicraft," by Bernard S. Mason, also have many suggestions for Indian handicrafts.

Among books that the young Indian Guides will enjoy reading are "First Book of Indians," by Benjamin Brewster; "Americans Before Columbus," by Elizabeth Batty; "Indians and Cowboys," by Sanford Tousey; "Indians, Indians, Indians," by Phyllis Fenner; "Big Book of Indians," by Sidney Fletcher; "True Book of Indians," by Teri Martini; "Famous Indian Tribes," by William Meyers; "Buffalo Harvest," by Glen Rounds; "Fighting Indians of the West," by David Cooke; "Indian Heroes," by Joseph McSpadden; "Thunder in the Mountains," by Hilda Hooke; "Captive of the Delawares," by Evelyn Nevin; "Hawk, the White Indian," by Phillips Carleton; "Indian Captive," by Lois Lenski; "River of the Wolves," by Stephen Warren; "Bay of the North, the Story of Pierre Radisson," by Ronald Syme; "Indian Adventure Trails," by Allen Macfarlan; "When Coyote Walked the Earth," by Corinne Running; "Thasmere and Tonbon," by Anna Arnett; "Thunder Boy," by Olaf Baker; "Little Owl Indian," by Hetty Beatty; "Pinto's Journey," by Wilfred Bronson; "Young Readers' Indian Stories," by Abraham Furman; and "The War Whoop of the Wily Iroquois," by Martha Keller.

A big man is not one who makes no mistakes, but one who is bigger than any mistake he makes.

Wheatland Methodist Scene Of Shaw-Heard Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Heard, Jr.

Miss Rowita Shaw, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Shaw, 47 S. Whitethorne-av, and Samuel Heard, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Heard, Sr., of Philadelphia, Pa., were married Aug. 14, 8:30 p. m. at the Wheatland Avenue Methodist Church.

The altar was decorated with an arch of white chrysanthemums and white roses, candelabras, palms and baskets of white gladioli. The Rev. M. E. Nelson, pastor of the Mt. Pleasant Methodist Church, Cleveland, assisted by the local pastor, the Rev. Amos Cambrie, officiated.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a ballerina length gown of chantilly lace and nylon tulle with a lace bodice and porbrach neckline. The bouffant skirt of nylon tulle featured lace appliqua. Her fingertip vail of imported illusion fell from nylon tulle tiara, and she carried a white Bible topped with orchids, white carnations and fern.

Miss Regina Shaw, sister of the bride, was maid of honor and Miss Evelyn Heard, sister of the bridegroom, Miss Ruth Clark of Springfield, Miss Virginia Giles of Salem, N.J., and Miss Evelyn Shaw, cousin of the bride, were maids of honor. They were identically styled waltz length crystalette gowns of ballet blue, buttercup yellow and coral rose with V-necklines, empire waist and very full skirts over hoops. They wore white gloves and shoes, matching flowered hats with theater veils and carried cascades of variegated daisies with green fern and satin ribbons.

Mr. Otis Crowder served as best man. Ushers were Mr. William Shaw, Jr., cousin of the bride; Major Medley, Camden, N.J., Mr. Holland Ealy, and Mr. Thomas Beatty.

The mother of the bride selected a pink print crystalette ballerina-length gown with white accessories and Mrs. Heard chose an aqua print crystalette gown with white accessories. Both wore corsages of red and white carnations.

Yonne Austin and Denise Fox, flower girls, were dressed in white nylon and lace and carried baskets filled with rose petals. Alphonso Fox, Jr., was the ring bearer for the double ring ceremony.

The reception followed immediately in the church dining room. Honorary hostesses were Lillian Davidson, Beulah Shaw, Jesse Mann, Allie Ross, Flossie Pack, Bertha King, Ruth Ealy, Mussetta Green, Ernestine Bell, Anna Minnifield, Bertha Neal and Jane Martin.

Senior hostesses were marvelene Austin, Bernadine Fox, Joyce Goolsby, Patricia Carr, Clara Moore, Shirley Watkins, Emma Perkins, Barbara Woolfork, and Maxine McElroy. Regina Fox was the junior hostess, Marion Goolsby, vocalist, and Thelma Lowery, organist.

Among the out-of-town guests present were Mrs. Sallie Benson, Mrs. Vernice Skelton, Samuel Heard of Philadelphia, Pa., and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Carson and grandchildren from Cleveland.

Following a trip to Cleveland and Atlantic City, the couple will be at home at 1708 W. Diamond-st, Philadelphia, Pa.

Dear Editor

This newspaper invites letters from its readers on subjects of timely interest. All letters are subject to the approval of the editor. Editorial revision will be made in all letters to correct grammar and spelling. All letters MUST be signed by the writer . . . his name will be omitted if requested. The Editor.

A few weeks ago the present mayor was charged in bitter, caustic, sacrastic and innuendo language with inefficiency, disregard for economy, fiscal deficiencies, and along with other charges that could be mentioned, attempts to give the impression that the 35 million dollar increase in the city's budget in the past two years is due to the mayor.

All of this was said in a televised speech a few Sundays ago by the "veteran councilman" who is a candidate for mayor.

To date the mayor has not lowered himself to that level, by simply ignoring the attack.

It has been learned from a reliable source that the mayor does not intend to.

Because of this attitude toward the speech the mayor has raised himself in the estimate of many clean thinking voters to a high political level which proves that he, the mayor, is best fortified for the office.

A few years ago a candidate for public office started his campaign with a "Give 'em Hell" policy.

The people didn't seem to like the atmosphere of Hell, so it backfired on the candidate. It cost him votes and made votes for his opponent.

By nature the people react the same everywhere under similar circumstances.

The present mayor has been in office only two years and is being accused of being the cause of high taxes. Let's examine the record.

The "veteran councilman" points out that he has served in council 20 years and may it be added that part of that 20 years he was president of the council.

The writer has been the owner of an average residence over the greater part of that time.

During this time taxes, including all sources of revenue, have increased on this property approximately 40 per cent. According to the veteran councilman, I suppose the mayor is responsible for this increase.

People detest the attempt to shift responsibility from where it belongs to the shoulders of some one else.

It is an example of cheap politics resorted to at election time by candidates seeking office.

This is called "mud slinging" politics.

J. A. Downey
185 N. Wayne Ave.

Dear Mr. Editor:

As the duly appointed traffic chairman of VFW Post No. 3441, I have taken a great deal of interest in the editorial and other comments in the Record, concerning such things as so-called one way streets, danger points, various law violations, etc., on the Hilltop.

Can it be possible that our Hilltop citizens are not the least bit interested in traffic safety on the Hilltop, or have we become so hardened to death and near death on our city streets that we pay less attention to it than we do to what is going on in some foreign nation that perhaps was killing our sons just a few short months ago.

The Record asks for comments on one way streets on the Hilltop, and, sad to say, we note very few comments on that subject by our Hilltop citizens, but find its pages covered with the usual community activities and announcements.

Traffic safety is the business of every worthwhile citizen and it is a full time job that must be worked at by every one who uses our city streets, or who lives on such streets, 24 hours every day, 365 days each year. It can't be done by safety drives once a year, by half-hearted efforts to educate drivers in driving safety, traffic laws, law enforcement, through self appointed traffic experts. It's definitely a part of good citizenship and good government, for without the full support of all citizens, law enforcement and good government is impossible.

If sufficient interest is shown in traffic safety and good government, in any city, many of the known evils in both would soon cease to exist.

It is through the combined efforts of local, community newspapers and service organizations, working together with all thinking citizens of each community, that these things can be accomplished.

The Hilltop Record has set the example, by asking for your comments. You don't have to be a traffic expert, a paid writer, a politician, etc., to voice your sentiments and I know from years of experience in such things that a letter, even poorly written, with poor spelling and punctuation, is often given more real consideration with the average editor, or perhaps a senator, congressman or public official, than a flowery, well written one will receive by them.

I personally have fought for one way streets (the right kind, not the kind we now have). What do you think, fellow citizen? Let's hear from all of you, in the Record.

Mrs. Roger Borton served as matron of honor for her sister and the bridesmaids were Miss Glenna Walton, Miss Marcia Weber and Miss Alice Rees, sister of the bridegroom. Linda Sue Anthony was the little flower girl.

The attendants were gowned identically in pale blue tissue nylon and net with halos of pink velvet ribbon and matching pink mitts. They carried pink rose buds.

Former Radio "Storylady" Acts Out Stories At Hilltop Library Summer Story Hour

Mrs. Richard Hill, 348 Somerset-rd, a newcomer to the Hilltop, was one of the story-tellers this summer at the popular Wednesday morning story hours at the Hilltop branch of the Columbus Public Library. She dramatized her stories as she told them. STAFF Photo

For six years, Mrs. Richard Hill was known as the "Storylady" on WHTC radio station in Holland, Mich., so when telling stories at the Hilltop library story hour she based her stories on the most popular requests of her former radio audience. Interspersed in the familiar story of Cinderella and Jack and the Bean Stalk were her own little melodies that she taught the youngsters. During the stories the boys and girls would sing the songs and furnish the musical background.

Having a son, Bill, who plays baseball in four Hilltop leagues this summer, she decided other boys might like to hear the record, "Little Johnny Strikes Out."

Her daughter, Kathy, likes to dress up and so she especially stressed the beautiful gowns that Cinderella wore, to the delight of the girls in the audience, seated on the floor before her.

Couldn't Stand It

"Miss vife is having another sinking spell, and I'm staying away until it's finished."

"What! You're staying away and she's sinking?"

"Yes, she's sinking soprano."

Instead of a gem or a flower, cast the gift of a lovely thought into the heart of a friend. George MacDonald.

A Good Boat

shellacked it, steel-wooled it down, and finished it again. Then came the job of putting canvas back on the deck. Due to irregularities in the deck bracing, extra care had to be taken to insure a trim, aerodynamic fit. Then he had to waterproof and finally paint the boat.

The boat is now in the finishing stages, and Larry says he is glad he undertook the chore, because not only did it give him something to do over vacation, but it also broadened his knowledge of boat construction.

Motorcycle Engine Motor

He had thought of putting a motorcycle engine inboard ahead of the driver, but reconsidering, he decided to leave it an outboard because the weight of the motor mounted inboard would not prove satisfactory in competition and the boat would not plane right.

Larry is now considering selling the boat and purchasing another one to work on this winter, and perhaps race next summer.

Larry did nearly all of the work himself, with a little help and advice from his father and his brother-in-law, Charles Fisher.

Larry is a 10B student at West High School and his other interests stem mainly from sports cars and sports car racing.

Larry says that the most excellent master driver (Ausgezeiseneter Meisterfahrer) of the European road race circuits in the thirties, Tazio Nuvolari, started out with motorcycles and airplanes and graduated to motor cars. State "Old Taz" is Larry's idol, perhaps he can start out in hydro racing, and end up racing around Europe and the United States.

The explanation of many automobile accidents is the fact that the driver of the car did not believe in signs.

Differences of opinion, publicly stated and publicly discussed, are the essence of popular self-government.

She's Ready For That Last Dip Before School Starts

Linda Mathews, 15, of 179 N. Warren-av, is getting ready for that last cooling swim at the Hilltop Pool before school starts. She's ready to start her junior year at West High School next week but is hoping that the warm weather will continue so that she can take advantage of after-school hours and week-ends to go swimming. "But perhaps the deepest meaning of all is summed up in Walt Whitman's words, 'The real and permanent grandeur of these States must be their religion.'

"Without Faith, life is meaningless. With it, life is rich and full. Each generation must pass on to the next this fundamental truth—and our children are the richer for learning this truth from their parents."

RETURNS TO FIRST LOVE!

Clarence Story Joins Men's Department At Seiller's

Clarence B. Story, who, about a year ago, sold the dry cleaning establishment he had operated for 26 years to enter the real estate business, has returned to his first love. The odor of wool proved stronger than cedar and pine, he says, and he has joined the men's department at Seiller's Department Store.

A Hilltopper for 30 years, Story made hundreds of friends during his long association with the public while the proprietor of the cleaning establishment, and to say that he has missed these close contacts with so many people is putting it mildly, he declares.

"Though I've been at Seiller's only a few days," Clarence says, "it's been almost like a family reunion for me, greeting so many of the people whom I learned to know so well during the many years I was in business."

The real estate business? No,

Clarence Story

there's nothing whatsoever wrong with that, either, according to him.

"My year's association with Harold Fox in his real estate business will always be remembered as a highlight in my life. However, the pull of the clothing business and the opportunity of meeting old friends caused me to make the decision.

He has long been known as one of the Hilltop's greatest boosters and a long-time member of the Hilltop Business Association. He is also affiliated with the Hilltop Kiwanis Club.

Mr. and Mrs. Story reside at 165 Binns-blvd. They have a daughter, Marilyn, a senior in education at Miami University, and a son, Don, who has a bachelor of arts degree from Ohio State University and is now working for a bachelor of science degree at the same institution.

Gas Station Attendant Is Robbed Of $58

Fifty-eight dollars was taken from the night attendant at the Sohio Service Center, at 2800 W. Broad-st, on Monday morning, Aug. 29, police said.

The attendant, Carl R. Gebhart, 23, of 1461 Brydem-rd, told police he was reading a magazine in the office when the robbers walked into the station.

He said he did not know they were there until one man pushed a .45 caliber automatic into the attendant's back and said, "This is a stickup."

The men ordered Gebhart into a rest room and took the bills from his shirt pocket. They did not take coins in the money changer or change from the cash register.

The holdup men ordered Gebhart to lie on the floor for five minutes and fled.

Gebhart said just before the robbery, he took his wallet, containing $75 of his own money from his pocket and locked it in the glove compartment of his car.

It was the third time Gebhart has been the victim of holdup men. He was robbed twice within a month while at another local station about two years ago.

Drastic Methods Suggested To Give Safety New Set Of Teeth

By O. H. Craft

It seems like everybody wants to contribute to public safety, in an abstract way; probably very few people who would not give lip service, many will go even further than that, they will even contribute their time, their talents, and their money and feel good about contributing to a worthy effort.

In all of the considerable effort that is carried on in the name of safety, we manage somehow to think of it as applying to the other fellow. We plead and we beg; we crusade through every organization in existence.

Newspapers are liberal to give space, urging people to be careful, to" ... the rules of the road, etc. Slogans are a dime a dozen, city police put on drives, highway patrolmen increase their forces, some states recognize periodic inspection, others compel, liability insurance.

Prizes are offered to please be good. Every imaginable effort, in the field of persuasion and some limited compulsion, yet the slaughter goes on. It has reached the proportions of a plague, or national disaster.

We look upon war as a calamity, and it certainly is, it's nonsensical to the "N"th degree, yet all the casualties of World War I, World War II, the Korean War are less than highway casualties during the same period.

What is the answer. In the first place, automobile engines are being made too powerful. The temptation to speed is more than some people can resist. In the second place when we find the true answer we will discover that probably a small percentage of the driving population is causing the havoc. How are they to be discovered and eliminated without undue restrictions against the careful and considerate driver?

The careful and considerate driver won't mind being placed under the rules that will insure his safety and we don't need to worry about the fellow who squawks about his freedom, for he is probably the culprit we are trying to eliminate.

Freedom is a relative term for every freedom we enjoy there is a corresponding responsibility. A homily expression would say, "Your freedom ends where my nose begins."

Here is a formula for ending the needless slaughter and national shameless disaster. Every licensing authority should issue a booklet on the law, rules of the road and other information of necessity and importance.

Everyone should be required to obtain one of these booklets and to take a written examination upon its contents. If he or she succeeds in passing the examination they should be furnished with an eligibility card, with his or her photograph printed thereon and to carry the signature of applicant, then they would present that to an accredited driving school for a series of driving lessons, sufficient to warrant eligibility for a license, after which, card would be signed by a responsible driving instructor.

Then the applicant would be eligible for a driver's license on his or her own. The licenses would be required to carry his eligibility card and photo at all times. Original driver's license fees should be expensive, renewal arrangements should be liberal so long as the holder stayed out of trouble. It would not be possible to purchase an automobile, new or used, without showing eligibility card, and matching signature. It could go so far as to require presentation of eligibility card before gasoline could be purchased.

We would soon pin point and eliminate the trouble makers or at lease a very large percentage of them and it certainly would be worth while. We don't permit people to run around with six shooters strapped to their hips, yet we permit just about anybody to get behind the wheel of a powerful death dealing machine and threaten the peace and security of everyone on the road.

Robbers and automobile thieves would be on the spot if they had to carry their mug and their signature around for occasional inspection. Each car would be required to carry an official sticker on its windshield that would indicate a licensed driver was at the wheel. Failure to carry such an emblem would subject the driver to questioning by an officer anywhere, anytime.

Drastic?

Well, maybe, but, the patient is sick and needs urgent and drastic treatment. Sugar pills won't do the job.

TAPESTRY OF MY LIFE

I wonder what the other side will be when I have finished weaving all my thread. I do not know the pattern nor the end of this great piece of work which is for me. I only know that I must weave with care the colors that are given me, day by day, and make of them a fabric firm and true, which will be of service to my fellow men. Sometimes these colors are so dark and gray I doubt if there will be one line or trace of beauty there. But all at once, there comes a thread of gold or rose so deep that there will always be that one bright bright spot to cherish or to keep, and maybe against its ground of darker hue it will be beautiful. The warp is held in place by the Master's hand. The Master's mind made the design for me but if I weave the shuttle to and fro and blend the colors just the best I know, perhaps when it is finished. He will say "It is good," and lay it on the footstool at His feet.

Mail — From Columbus: I wonder how many people remember Mrs. Grace D. Ludwig, who died a few weeks ago. You and I will remember her as the gracious, beautiful lady who was often mistaken for a gorgeous movie star several years ago. She was Mrs. T. J. Ludwig—at one time their florist shop was one of the finest in Columbus. She was a wonderful lady and many of us will remember her for her advice when we needed it; for her shoulder which was always available for crying upon, and for the roses with which she showered her friends so generously. There are many who will remember her. People like her are never forgotten.

Hilltop Cowboys At West High School Open Fall Scrimmage At Magly Field

Sixty-Six Hopefuls Turned Out For Initial Drills And Practice

By Bill Haire

(With this issue begins a series of articles by William Haire long time Hilltop sports enthusiast who has coached the two Camp Chase Baseball teams during the past summer and is an accredited umpire in his own right. Haire is enrolled at Capital University in Physical Education division and is a graduate of West High School in 1952.)

The 1955 edition of the West High Cowboys under the tutelage of veteran coach Mack Pemberton closed the first week of practice in good shape Friday evening with a scrimmage "game" against the Hilliards High School varsity at Magly Field.

Sixty-six hopefuls turned out for initial drills last Monday with 40 or 50 sophomores expected out as soon as school opens. From these men Pemberton and his assistants, Fred Heuschman, Bill Schmitter, and Carl Brenning will shape the squad that is to carry West's banner in a City League race that is expected to be a dandy.

Polish Up Session

Last weeks sessions were devoted mostly to signal calling drills to polish up ball handling techniques and coordination. Also emphasized, as it will be all season, was a careful conditioning program to insure against injuries, especially pulled muscles, which cut deep into a football team's efficiency.

The Broncos showed their eagerness to swing into high gear at the very first session when they turned a "passive" scrimmage with no body contact into a workout considerably rougher than passive. The contact-loving Cowboys got what they wanted later in the week as Pemberton began preparing for the Hilliards' scrimmage with light contact drills, leaving many of his charges with aching muscles which will of course work out in a short time.

Hilliards was the first of four teams to provide the Cowboys practice opposition before they kick off the lid at the Arlington preview Sept. 9. Grandview and Cambridge visit Magly Field before the Broncos wind up their scrimmage series at Newark Sept. 7.

By scheduling these games Pemberton hopes to better his team by christening them to hostile opposition and also cut to a minimum the amount of scrimmaging among themselves where more boys are apt to suffer injuries.

Friday's "game" with Hilliards served primarily as a clinic for both teams to discover and iron out early flaws. Coaches from both teams were on the field with their squads, serving also as game officials. The scrimmage was concentrated on rushing and passing plays with no kick-offs, punts, or extra points. One team merely started on their own 20 yard line and executed four plays. If no first downs were made the other team took the ball on their own 20.

Split-T Promising

The Cowboys displayed a promising running game out of their split-T with some hard charging backs and a line which opened up king-sized holes as they emerged "victorious" by racking up four touchdowns while the visitors, unable to sustain a steady offensive, were collecting one tally.

Significant in the Hilltoppers play was the fact that three of their touchdowns were scored after their alert defensive team had recovered Hilliards Bobbles.

West's first score came after an unexpectedly sparkling Cowboy defense stopped Hilliards cold in their own territory and then recovered a fumble around the Hilliards 36 yard line early in the game. The offense then took over with Bill Spratley in the quarterback slot, and marched to the two where left-half Bob Ackerman plunged over on a quick-hitter. Featured in the drive were some bruising rushes by right-half Dave Randall and fullback Gary Nebinger.

Later in the first half, the Cowboys pounced on another fumble at mid-field and started another drive which was culminated when Nebinger scooted up the middle from ten yards out.

In the second half Pemberton sent in a new offensive team with Junior quarterback Dennis McDonald at the helm. McDonald, with some fine running and good ball handling, moved the Broncos to the five where two successive offside penalties thwarted the drive. But the Cowboys were not to be denied as, once again, they recovered a Hilliards bobble and marched to the two yard mark with pinsized halfback Bob Conley plunging over.

Hilliards then mustered their offense and marched from their own twenty to the Cowboy one-yard stripe from where their fullback punched over for their only tally of the evening.

The locals were not through however, as Ray Williams, from his quarterback post, started to his left on the option play, faked a pitchout, and then scampered more than forty yards around end for the evening's final score.

Outstanding on the Cowboy defense was the work of beckfielder Bob Conley as he moved up swiftly several times to thwart attempted end sweeps and nail the carrier for losses.

Standing out also was the work of the entire West defensive line as they piled up play after play and completely nullified the visitors offensive.

Cowboy Cuff Notes:

Coach Pemberton was elated Friday over the fact that the Cowboys came out of their scrimmage without a single injury . . . Among the many spectators at the game Friday was Zanesville High's football coach George Vlerbome accompanied by his assistants Harold Slack and Wayne Ashbaugh. Basketball fans will remember Ashbaugh as head coach of the Zanesville High Basketeers who copped the state class A title last spring . . . Cowboy right halfback Dave Randall will undoubtedly be the beefiest halfback in the City League this year. The converted tackle tips the scales at around 200 pounds . . . Pemberton was also pleasantly surprised at the work of his defensive unit as no time has been devoted thus far to defensive play . . . An added treat will be in store for West fans this fall as the Broncos will be attired in spanking new uniforms. Also new will be protective face guards worn by all members of the squad to help cut down facial injuries.

YOUR YOUTH

By Bart Korte and Bob Schmidt

The pace at the Hilltop YMCA has slowed down considerably with the close of the Bigger Fun Club and Little Nine Baseball League.

About 200 people were present at the Annual Summer Fun Club Awards Night at Westgate Park last Thursday. Awards were presented to all of the boys and girls who took part in the various activities sponsored by the Hilltop Y.

The Little Nine All-Star team is just about ready to close out its season. The fellows have really done a good job in representing the Hilltop. Hard work and hustle have been the formula for a successful season.

It won't be long before actions will start again and Gra-Y, Junior Hi-Y and Hi-Y clubs will get under way. Plans are being made so that we will have some good programs on the line when these clubs get under way.

Three teams reign as champs in leagues sponsored by the Y. The Little Tigers won the Little Nine Championship after a three game play off. The Browns won the championship in the Little Bigger League but it took a steal of home plate in the last inning to gain this berth. In the Junior Church Softball League the Glenwood Methodist nine took the highest honor with an 8-1 record.

Our schedule of movies will be cut down to two showings a week from now on. Rosary Addition will continue its showing on Wednesday nights and Glenwood Recreation's schedule will change to Saturday morning.

That winds up news for this week from the Hilltop YMCA.

Glenwood Junior Softballers Down Linden Kiwanis 3-1

Glenwood Junior Boys' Softball team defeated Linden Kiwanis team at McGuffey School diamond Aug. 23, 3-1.

Dick Brothers opened the game up for Glenwood in the first inning as he blasted a single through shortstop. Eddy Diedrich singled in the second inning, but was later put out at second on an attempted steal. The third inning was uneventful as neither team scored or put a man on base.

In the top of the fourth inning, Glenwood started to come alive as Bill Dildine singled, Dave Dildine walked, and Eddy Diedrich singled to load the bases. The next man up grounded out, however, to make the third out and end the threat.

Dave Dildine led off for Glenwood in the top of the seventh and final inning with a single. Eddy Diedrich followed with a walk, and the next man up struck out. Bill Diedrich stepped up and latched on to a high ball which he blasted out into right field over the fielder's head. This hit was good for a triple which scored the two men on base, making the score 2-1 in favor of Glenwood. Diedrich was then driven home as Sonny Ring grounded out. Linden was retired after a hit by Salsger with no runs being scored. Final score: Glenwood 2, Linden 1.

Kelly Richards performed admirably as Glenwood's pitcher, allowing only two hits and striking out 5. The summary of the game is as follows: Glenwood — 3 runs, 7 hits, 1 error. Linden — 1 run, 2 hits, 1 error.

DRIVE SAFELY When

OPENS

TOO YOUNG TO DIE!

In one year 4,300 young lives are snuffed out, more than 200,000 injured and maimed for life. Three out of every four of these lives sacrificed to carelessness are from five to 14 years of age. TOO YOUNG TO DIE!

School safety patrols are holding down the casualties of children going to or coming from school. Two out of three are killed while outside of school supervision. That's the big reason why it's up to you, Mr. and Mrs. Driver, to protect little children. Be alert for the unpredictable actions of youngsters at play, crossing streets, chasing balls and riding bikes.

Little ones are thoughtless of danger; perhaps, too, they trust grown folks to guard them. Don't be the one to carry on your conscience the life of a child. Slow down, be alert where children may be at your mercy.

Christmas Parade Deserves Community Support

The Hilltop will have a big and different kind of Christmas parade.

Plans are now being formulated by a special committee from the Hilltop Business Association. The parade will be patterned after one presented each year at Marion, O., and will be aimed at putting "Christ back into Christmas."

Local churches sent representatives to a meeting called by the HBA this last week and already enough of these churches have agreed to enter floats that the parade appears to be assured.

Church groups interested in the event should call C. H. Campbell, secretary of the HBA for further details. The local business association is planning to underwrite costs of the floats and other expenses.

This program deserves the support of this co[illegible]munity.

Break Ground Wednesday On 135-Room Lincoln Village Hotel

Shown above is the architect's drawing of the new suburban hotel to be built in Lincoln Village, at 5000 W. Broad-st. The main hotel building will contain 90 rooms; smaller buildings surrounding it, match-style, will contain 45 rooms. The restaurant building is shown at right. There will also be an outdoor swimming pool. Hailed as the first hotel development in the Columbus area in 30 years, the facility will be known as Lincoln Lodge. Ground-breaking ceremonies took place Wednesday.

Ground-breaking ceremonies were held Wednesday, Sept. 7, for Central Ohio's first new commercial motel in nearly 30 years. Officials of the Peoples Development Company of Columbus, builders of the facility and the Alsonett hotels of Chicago, Ill., which will operate it, disclosed that it will be located in Lincoln Village on U.S. Route 40.

Carl R. Frye, vice-president and general manager of Peoples Development said that the hotel would be a 135-room structure and would be the first suburban hotel built in the Columbus area. According to Frye, modified colonial architecture will be employed and all building will be of brick construction.

The principal wing of the hotel will be two stories in height and will contain approximately 90 rooms. Forty-five rooms will be in one-story buildings immediately adjacent to the parking space.

The ultra-modern facility will be the first hotel in Central Ohio to feature an outside swimming pool. It will also embrace a restaurant which will accommodate 135 persons with additional facilities for 80 on outside covered terraces. Large picture windows in the restaurant open onto the pool terrace. Eight rooms immediately adjacent to the pool will be called cabana rooms and will be rented for use as such. A separate breakfast and lunch room will be built. Such innovations as a drive-in registration window and chapel room are also included in the plans. The structure is to be completely air-conditioned.

Frye said that Lincoln Lodge will bring to Central Ohio another of the country's big hotel chains. Alsonett operates well-known hotels in Memphis, Tenn., the Vinoy Park, Tampa, the largest hotel on Florida's west coast; St. Petersburg, Fla.; Ft. Lauderdale; Phoenix, Arizona, and some 30 other places throughout the United States.

Frye said that in planning Lincoln Lodge his firm is keeping pace with the trend to suburban hotels which has developed since World War II in Texas, California, and Florida.

In disclosing details, Frye said "Plans for Lincoln Lodge have been in the making for several months. We feel that it is the outstanding development in this field in Central Ohio in recent years. Not since the opening of the Wallick section of the Deshler and the remodeling of the Neil House, has Columbus experienced such an event in the hotel business. For many years the possibility of a new hotel in Central Ohio has been discussed. A survey by our company and the Alsonett chain revealed that the need was existant.

"As it has in many other busi-

Mayor Seeks Left Turn Ban At Stop Lights On Hilltop

Mayor Jack Sensenbrenner said this week that he would ask the Columbus Traffic Commission to recommend the council eliminate all left-hand turns at traffic lights on the Hilltop

A study has been underway this summer to ban left-hand turns at all main arteries all over Columbus, according to E. O. Melvin, member of the traffic commission.

"We must move traffic," Melvin stated. It is necessary to have the bans in force during the rush hours of 7-9 a. m. and 4-6 p. m. on some intersections, but at other corners it is important to have a 24-hour ban on left-hand turns, he added.

The traffic commission Tuesday, recommended that parking be eliminated on the east side of N. Hague-av from W. Broad-st to the railroad tracks, Melvin said. Council action is needed to put this recommendation in force.

Talking With The Public

This week The Hilltop Record contacted many people living on the Hilltop to find out just what they think of the problem: Should all left hand turns at stop lights on the Hilltop be abolished?

Here Are Some Replies

Mrs. Clayton Collins, 271 S. Ogden-av said: "Stopping left-hand turns at stop lights on the Hilltop might be alright during the heavy rush hours. It would let traffic move better."

"That is no the big problem on the Hilltop though," Mrs. Collins asserted.

"I have four children and I know how dangerous drivers are on Hilltop one-way streets. Something is needed to slow down drivers on one-way streets. No children have been killed, but many mothers have gotten gray hairs over seeing cars go 50 miles an hour along Ogden-av. I suggest they place speed limit signs on side streets . . . it might help. Drivers just blow their horn and drive fast down the streets," she said.

"Eliminating all left-hand turns at stop lights on the Hilltop would help speed up traffic," assured Mrs. P. H. Haering, 181 S. Wayne.

"During rush hours it is definitely needed to stop left-hand turns. It would make it a lot easier for through traffic during the hours of 4 to 6 p.m. on work days. It would be just as easy for drivers who want to make a left-hand turn to go around the block," Mrs. Haering said.

"When we sit at a stop light waiting to make a left-hand turn I am always afraid someone will hit us in back as we sit in the middle of the street. It is especially bad from Oakley up past Hague," Mrs. Haering insisted.

R. L. Schwan, 2519 W. Broad-st, pointed out that there is a problem in getting out of one-way streets

Nightmare Of Rain Turns Countryside Into Raging Torrent Of Death And Destruction

Two Hilltop boys attending a Bible camp in Pennsylvania found themselves in the midst of floods caused by the tail-end of hurricane "Connie."

Paul and David Dawson, 15 and 14, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Dale A. Dawson, of 480 N. Hague-av, were at Pinebrook Interdenominational Bible Camp, five miles west of Stroudsburg, Pa., when the floods occurred.

David was ill with the fever for three days, and didn't see too much of the damage in the making as Paul did.

About 5:30 p. m., on Thursday, Aug. 18, rain began falling, and continued on through 11:30 p. m. By the time the rains let up, most of the land was covered with water. The streams, river and lake were overflowing, and trees were being uprooted right and left. In one section of the camp, about 37 people had been flooded out of their cabins and had sought safety in the upstairs of a farmhouse.

In the early hours of the morning, the building gave way, falling against a barn and much of the building began floating away. Only two of the people on the roof survived. Most were washed away.

Paul was helping carry the furniture out of a house, and on each of four trips out, the water rose about a foot. By the time they had finished the fourth trip, the water was over their heads, and they had to swim out.

Paul and David Dawson

A bridge on U.S. 90 started to go about 11:30 p.m. Paul had to wade through about three feet of water to get back to his cabin. He looked around and saw that the swimming pools were flooded, and the lake overflowing.

The men and boys at the camp began building a dam around the girls' dorm, but as fast as they could get the cement blocks set up, three or four would wash away.

Paul and a man went to the tabernacle to see if the water had reached there yet, because a $7000 organ was in there, along with

Hilltop Y Membership Enrollment Kick-Off Got Underway Today

Approximately 50 division chairmen and workers of the business and industrial divisions of the Hilltop YMCA membership enrollment held their initial kick-off meeting Wednesday, Sept. 7 at the Colony Restaurant.

Harry Dailey, chairman of the enrollment was the presiding chairman for this kick-off meeting. Ray Anderson, member of the Hilltop YMCA Board gave the invocation which was followed by the luncheon.

Dailey welcomed all of the workers and introduced the following division heads, Jim Goudy, W. Broad-st; Alf Stephens, Sullivant-av; Bill Burns and John Kuhn, W. Mound-st; Wilbur Hessler, industrial division; John Nippert and C. W. Cocanougher. Dailey urged each of the workers to immediately make their calls so that a complete report could be turned in at the victory meeting Sept. 28.

It was also stressed by the presiding chairman that the Hilltop YMCA was continuously projecting throughout the community and especially in the new developments surrounding the Hilltop area. Dailey stated that there is a definite need for the YMCA on the Hilltop and by active participation by residents it will mean that the YMCA will continue its Christian work throughout the Hilltop area.

Herbert Deems, member of the Hilltop Y Board of Management, presented a complete list of instructions for all workers present. The business division has as their goal this year, 426 youth members and 317 adults, the industrial division quota is 36 youth members and 82 adults which gives a grand total of 462 youth members and 399 adult members for the business and industrial divisions.

Plan Fall Program At Hilltop YWCA

The YWCA Hilltop Center will open its full time autum program for women with membership enrollment week, Sept. 10 through Sept. 17.

Highlights of the fall program will be a series of membership events. Two afternoon meetings, "Milady's Matinees," are scheduled. "Doorway to Being Slim and Trim," is the topic for the meeting scheduled for Oct. 5, 2 p. m. and "Techniques of Flower Arrangement," will be discussed Dec. 7, 2 p. m.

Invalid Lady Seeks Her Lost Pet Parakeet Pat

The true values of life are not those that can be measured in dollars. The value of a parakeet named "Pat", who cavorted and played for his bedridden mistress to help amuse her, can never be estimated in dollars and cents.

Mrs. Ginley

One day not long ago Pat hopped lovingly on a visitor's shoulder and rode quietly out the front door of the home of Mrs. J. Ginley, 791 Derrer-rd. Then the little bird disappeared.

Mrs. Ginley has been bedfast for 11 years with multiple sclorosis, but is always cheerful and enjoys life and living things such as her flowers and bird, according to her husband.

"I am sure Pat misses me just as much as I miss him and if he comes home he will be a good bird and won't make the mistake again of riding someone's shoulder out the door," Mrs. Ginley confessed.

If anyone has seen Pat or knows of his whereabouts, please contact Mrs. Ginley, BR. 9-1316. He is green with yellow forehead and a blue cere above his eyes. Pat has a very long tail, loves to give the "wolf" call and answers to the name of Pat.

Vandalism Growing At Glenwood Center

Vandals broke 39 window panes at Glenwood recreation Center recently during the hours when the center was not open. Inspecting the damage, are Center Director Charles Moore, right, and Boys Athletic Director Jack Roberts. This is the third time in last two weeks that over 30 windows have been broken and the building entered, according to Moore. The 39 windows cost the taxpayers of Columbus $34 to replace the glass. This does not include the salary of the janitor while replacing. At a time when city finances are at a low ebb, this certainly seems to be a needless waste of money, Moore reported. STAFF Photo

PERPLEXING SITUATION FACES MACK

Cowboys To Play Arlington Friday, Pemberton Points To Regrouped Squad

By Bill Heire

With the Sept. 9 opening date (Arlington Preview) rapidly approaching, West High football coach Mack Pemberton is finding himself in the perplexing situation of regrouping his forces in an attempt to make up a weeks work that was apparently lost.

His cowboys, who looked fairly good in the first scrimmage outing against Hilliards, did a complete about-face last Tuesday against Grandview. (It must be pointed out here, however, that the Bobcats are a decidedly stronger club than Hilliards, both offensively and defensively.)

Although the Cowboy offense churned out more than 200 yards against Grandview, they were able to come up with but one serious scoring threat. It was stopped on the eight yard line by a fumble. On other occasions, the Broncos were able to move to the neighborhood of the 30 yard line. Each time, however, either the drive stalled or the pigskin was lost on a fumble. Fumbles incidentally, were as much a nemesis to the locals as the hard-charging Bobcat line.

Ball Bobbled Seven Times

West bobbled the ball seven times and five times it was picked up by the opposition.

On offense, the Cowboy quarterbacks were constantly hampered by the fast-charging Grandview line which sifted through the West forward wall that performed so well against Hilliards. Many times West's signal-caller was hit even before he could hand the ball off. This caused many of the Cowboy fumbles.

Defensively, the Broncos were considerably off-form as the Bobcats ripped off sizable gains, both rushing and passing, against their 5-4-2 defensive set-up. Even at that, Grandview was able to punch across only one touchdown, that coming on an end-sweep from 10 yards out. However, this was enough to insure "victory" in the scrimmage for the Bobcats as their defense whitewashed the Cowboys.

Cowboy Cuff Notes

Although admittedly disappointed with his team's showing against Grandview, Coach Pemberton is far from discouraged and stated that he expects to make no changes, either in his personnel nor his system. A few changes on his system. A few changes however. Last week Halfback Bob Conley came up with a sprained ankle, Tackle Ed Richardson, an ailing knee, and Tackle Fred Preston a "charley-horse." All three were expected to be sidelined for but a few days . . . Don't be surprised if you see any one of three men in the Cowboy backfield pitching passes. Quarterbacks Ken Clapsaddle and Dennis McDonald were both given shots at halfback positions last week. If they make the grade opposition pass defences could be in for a lot of trouble. Both boys have shown flashy running form, good passing potential, and, in addition, are capable signal-callers. Clapsaddle is a sophomore and McDonald, sidelined last season by injuries, a junior . . . Pemberton announced that the switch of Dave Randall from tackle to halfback will be a permanent one. There is a chance though that he will move into a tackle slot when the Cowboys are on defense.

West Park Methodist Tromps Over Hilltop YMCA 17-0

West Park Methodist has won the championship of the Hilltop YMCA Intermediate Church Softball League. The championship team defeated the Thomas Avenue Church of Christ twice to gain top honors in the league.

The highlight of the season was a 17-0 no-hitter pitched by George Breckenridge of the champs. In his near perfect game, Breckenridge allowed the Thomas Avenue Church of Christ team only four bases on balls.

West Park turned back the same team 10-3 last Monday night to win the Championship. Westgate EUB defeated the Thomas Avenue representatives 12-1 behind the one-hit pitching of Clapsaddle and Ranney to gain second place honors.

In the other make-up game played, the Demolay team defeated Avondale EUB 14-12. Demolay scored 10 runs in the first inning in registering this victory.

Tomorrow night a team of All-Stars chosen by the managers will meet the champions as the season comes to a close.

YMCA All Stars Defeat Glenwood By Close 7-6 Score

The Glenwood Little League All Stars dropped their second game of the season Wednesday, Aug. 31, defeated by the YMCA All Stars 7-6. This gave Glenwood a season record of three wins and two losses.

The game was all tied up after the regulation six innings, and an extra inning had to be played before the 'Y' crashed in on another run. It was close all the way as the 'Y' led 6-4 for three innings. In the top of the sixth inning Bill Karn and Dave Dildine singled, and Jr. Reinhart tied the ball game up with a triple driving in the two men on base.

The 'Y' All Stars failed to score in the bottom of the sixth, and the game went into the seventh inning. A double by Pat Mentel was the only hit for Glenwood as they failed to score anymore runs in their half of the inning. Ray Barnes of the 'Y' ended the game by driving in Ross who had previously singled.

It was 6 runs on 11 hits with 4 errors for Glenwood, and 7 runs on 4 hits with 4 errors for the 'Y'. The 'Y' however, made their 4 hits go further than Glenwood's 11.

Mike Mentel and Bill Karn handled the pitching chores for Glenwood, while Thornton and Linson performed the honors for the 'Y'. Jr. Reinhart and Karn were the big guns for Glenwood, each getting 3 for 3 at the plate.

A graduate of Roberts College, Istanbul, he studied in Glasgow, Scotland, and received his degree in engineering from the University of Michigan. He taught engineering at the University of Illinois, Ohio State University and the University of Cincinnati.

While teaching at the University of Cincinnati, the Fikrets became friends with Mrs. Celestia Castoe and the late Dr. Walter P. Castoe, father-in-law of the Rev. Mr. Taylor, pastor of Westgate Methodist. Dr. Castoe was serving as pastor of the Wayne Avenue Methodist Church, Cincinnati, at that time, and was later pastor of the Broad Street Methodist Church.

Young Boy Is Sad, His Tent Is Stolen

When 12-year-old Mike Keeley returned Sunday from an overnight trip, he found his pup tent had been stolen.

The first thing he did was to run out in his back yard to play in his new tent. The tent was gone. His grandfather told him that the tent was taken from the Keeley yard, a 415 S. Hague-av, sometime between Saturday night about 5 p. m., and Sunday morning.

Mike had planned on using the new tent this fall when his Boy Scout troop goes on camping trips, but since the tent was stolen, he won't be able to go.

The tent, a birthday present from his aunt and uncle, was made of a light tan water repellent material and measured 5x7 feet. On the inside was a pole in the center with a spike on which a railroad lantern hung, but all that remained was a stake and some rope which got caught in the fence as the thieves left the yard.

Anyone knowing the whereabouts of the tent and the lantern rig, please contact the Keeleys at BR. 0-4082.

Too Much in Common

Among the visitors at the city zoo were a gentleman and his cousin from the mountain country. The grizzled mountaineer stood spellbound, as he viewed the elephants, giraffes, and various other animals and birds. It was with reluctance that he left one cage to go to another.

As they came to the monkey cage, however, our friend paused for only a moment, then hastened away.

"What's the hurry?" asked his companion, who loved to watch the monkeys.

"I don't mind a-lookin' at the elfants and sech," he said, "but these — wal, they were a-looking at me!"

FALL is Nature's lawn-making time
Less Weed Germination... More Uniform Moisture... Cool, Excellent Grass-growing Weather...
Here you have the three basic reasons why lawn authorities agree that fall is the best time to put in new lawns and repair established lawns.
Be sure that the grass will find a ready supply of available plant food as soon as it germinates. The season is short and you want your grass plants to make substantial root and top growth before winter sets in.

Arrangements of asters, mums, gladioli and fern decorated the altar of St. Mary Magdalene Church Saturday for the wedding of Miss Rita M. Reed and Mr. Thomas J. Reardon. The Rev. Raymond Bauschard solemnized the 10:30 a. m. rites.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbert Reed, 371 Guernsey-av and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. James Reardon, Broadview Heights, O.

Mrs. William Peden served as matron of honor and Miss Nancy Spoon and Miss Carolyn Smith as bridesmaids. Their waits-length gowns of azure blue crystalette were styled with fitted bodices and small jackets, and they carried arrangements of pink carnations and deep red roses.

Mr. Patrick Reardon served as bestman for his brother and guests were seated by Mr. Robert Reardon, brother of the bridegroom and Mr. Michael Dooley.

The reception was in the church hall following the ceremony.

Mrs. Reed chose for her daughter's wedding, a gown of aqua silk satin with shocking pink accessories and a corsage of white roses. Mrs. Reardon wore a frock of dusty blue lace with navy accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

Out of town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Osborne of Palo Alto, Cal., Mr. and Mrs. Randolph Gilmore of Cicero, Ill. and Mr. and Mr. and Mrs. George Wykoff and daughter of Lisle, Ill.

Talking With The Public—

onto main arteries, not so much a problem of getting into the one-way streets.

"Traffic lights are needed to get people out of side streets," Schwan said. "Left or right hand turns off side streets onto a main artery, such as Broad or Sullivant, need traffic lights or many times drivers would never make it from the side street."

"Too many Hilltop streets have traffic lights on the wrong end of the one-way street. In these cases, as only a study would indicate which ones these are, the one-way streets should be reversed with the traffic lights at the main artery to let traffic out of the side streets," Schwan added.

"You have to be awfully careful turning left at a stop light," said Mrs. Richard Thompson, 160 S. Warren-av.

"Eliminating left hand turns at stop lights would be easier for traffic. You don't get very far just sitting and waiting at the stop sign," Mrs. Thompson said. "If the traffic commission took off all left-hand turns at stop lights it would reduce traffic hazards and increase the flow of traffic."

"I would not suggest taking off left-hand turns at all stop lights," said Mrs. Carl F. Younkin, 300 Powhatan-av.

"In some places removing left-hand turns at stop lights would be alright. Wherever it would cause a traffic tie-up as in some congested areas I would suggest removing the left-hand turns to increase the movement of traffic," Mrs. Younkin said.

"Taking off left-hand turns at stop lights is especially necessary in the Hilltop business districts and in some places on Sullivant-av," Mrs. Younkin added. "During rush hours left-hand turns could be abandoned, but during the day when there is no traffic congestion left-hand turns should be allowed at traffic lights."

Mayor Asks Early Annexation Hearing On Miriam Addition

An early hearing on the annexation petition of Miriam Addition has been called for by Mayor Jack Sensenbrenner today. The mayor filed a motion for immediate hearings through City Attorney Chalmers Wylie, he said.

Complaints had been received by the mayor from residents of the area indicating that their children will not be allowed to attend Columbus schools.

The city's hands are tied, the mayor pointed out, until the area is officially in Columbus. The area was approved for annexation by the county commissioners last June, but an injunction filed Aug. 19 prevents City Council from accepting the tract.

If the courts hear the case immediately the residents and their children in Miriam addition will know which school their children must attend, according to the city officials.

Nightmare of Rain—

other musical instruments, and a lot of valuable furniture.

Water was swirling around the tabernacle, and Paul and the man were nearly sucked in. Nearly a foot of mud was left in the building after the flood was all over.

Evacuation of the camp was attempted, but water was washing the roads out, so they had to sit tight for the most part.

Gullies were left where the water had eroded the earth, and big trees were being uprooted right and left.

A raft was floating down the river, and hit the bridge across U.S. 90, which was practically a nonanity by this time. The bridge railing was knocked 20 feet in the air when the raft hit.

Three of the cabins were washed out, and another was left in shambles against a big tree.

Route 90 was all washed out by this time, and by midnight all of the bridge was submerged or else some of it was washed away.

Two young boys about 16 and 17 escaped death twice as they crossed the bridge on 90, and it collapsed right behind them. Right after they passed a high-tension pole, and seconds after going under the wires, one fell onto the road.

What was left of the road was blocked by trees as far as the eye could see.

By sunrise, two feet of water was standing in 90.

Twenty-eight bridges were washed out in the county, and East Stroudsburg was almost completely washed away. Martial law was set up, and army engineers and national guardsmen were shipped in to clean up.

Communications were all until about Saturday. The Dawsons hadn't heard a word concerning the boys until 7 p. m. Saturday.

The boys were the last to leave camp after the flood was all over.

Paul said that peroxide had to be put into the water before it could be used, and the danger of typhoid was everywhere because of the muck and stagnant water.

By the time it was all over, about 80 were dead and nearly 20 were missing.

STEPS TO GOD
The Bible says for us not to neglect church attendance, Heb. 10:25. Here we find a family on the way up the steps to an hour of worship. The church is the strongest dyke against corruption and the evil forces that destroy human life. The church is the foe of the penitentiary. Jesus said, "I will build my church and the gates of hell shall not prevail against it," Matt. 16:18.
The church is not perfect... nothing human ever is. Even the Apostles chosen by Jesus had a Judas, but see the success He made of the other eleven. Christ loved the church enough to die for it and that makes it mighty important. Whether people worship in a tent, tabernacle or cathedral, they mean to be on God's side. Church-going people are people of Faith. Do you go to church?

Yes, I'm The Church
The Church Is Me

Glenwood Wins Over YMCA All Stars 5 To 4

The Glenwood Cowboys added another win to their string of victories by defeating the All Stars of the Little 9 League of the YMCA 5-4, on Aug. 20, at Glenwood.

Pat Mantel led off for Glenwood with a single. John Landefeld then reached base on a fielder's choice as Mantel was forced out at second. Jerry Jaynes tripled driving in Landefeld. Terry Briggs singled driving in Jaynes, and Jr. Rinehart singled to drive in Briggs and give the Cowboys a 3-0 lead.

The All Stars got their first hit off Mike Mantel in the third inning as Ross singled. No runs were scored, however. Jaynes singled for Glenwood in the bottom of the third, and then Terry Briggs smacked a home run to give the Cowboys a 5-0 lead.

The All Stars scored one run in the top of the fourth inning on a triple by Linson, the Y's pitcher. This hit scored Calvin English who had previously reached base on a fielder's choice.

The All Stars came alive in the top of the fifth inning as Thornton, Hartranft, and Saint all singled which eventually gave the 'Y' three more runs. The 'Y' was unable to score in the top of the sixth, and the score stood 5-4 in favor of Glenwood.

Street To Go Through Parking Lot To Allow For New Multiple Apartments

To meet the ever growing needs on the Hilltop for more residential space, the Sharp Co. has been negotiating for installation of a street between Olive and Broad-st. Part of the paving will go through the Big Bear parking lot. The Sharp Co. holds title to the property adjoining Olive-st and intersected by Chase-av. It will dead end at West High School and run north to Broad-st W. F. Cowen, 42 E. Gay-st, president of the Sharp Co., said that the new street is needed to make the property available to constructing multiple efficiency apartments at that location. No date has been set, but Cowen indicated construction should begin by next summer. The scene above is viewed as one looks south on Chase-av toward the Big Bear parking lot and West High School. Not So Bad

An old farmer was moody regarding the ravages of the flood.

"Hiram, your pigs are all washed down the creek," a neighbor told him sympathetically.

"How about Flaherty's pigs?" asked the farmer.

"They're gone, too."

"And Larsen's?"

"Yes."

"Humph!" ejaculated the farmer, cheering up. "Ain't as bad as I thought!"

YOUR HILLTOP LIBRARY

Novels, Technical Books Added To Library Shelves

Variety is the key note of the new books added last week to the shelves of the Hilltop Branch Library, 2985 W. Broad-st.

"A Place of Coolness," is the title of a novel of psychological suspense by D. M. Brosia. A striking picture of the everyday life in an Indian Village is portrayed in a novel by Kamala Taylor, "Nectar In a Sieve."

Then there is a sweeping novel of modern Texas by Robert Wilder. "The Wind of Youth" tells the story of Vega County and the men and women who grew with it from a railroad watering-tank settlement to a thriving city.

In the realm of mystery are the three crime club selections, "Passport for a Renegade," by Ken Bennett, "Night Drop" by Frederick Davis and "F.O.B. Murder," by Bert and Dolores Hitchens.

"Relativity For the Layman," should have a wide audience. James M. Coleman of the Department of Physics and Astronomy, Connecticut College, has written a simplified account of the history, theory and proofs of relativity for those who have had little or no training in mathematics, physics or astronomy.

Louis Bromfield's newest book "From My Experience," tells of the pleasures and miseries of a life on a farm, specifically Malabar Farm. Many Ohioans have visited Bromfield's Pleasant Valley home, and will derive pleasure from reading the story of its history and its prospects for the future.

There is a newcomer to the ever growing list of books on child guidance. "Your Child's Happiness: A Guide for Parents," was written by Irene Seipt. The author's explicit purpose is an understanding that will help make living in a family a challenging, happy and successful experience.

"Sheet Metal Principles and Procedures" by Emanuele Stieri belongs in the Prentice-Hall technical, industrial vocational series edited by Claude Ewing. Chapters have information ranging through materials, hand tools, working machines, procedures, layout and pattern development.

Also in the industrial field is the book "Modern Electroplating." Editor of this John Wiley & Sons publication is the technical editor of Steele magazine. In addition to the common metals there is a chapter on uncommon metal as well as plating on aluminum and magnesium.

Rev. Mills Leaves Avondale; New Minister Is Assigned

Rev. Carl L. Wilson

Rev. Delbert S. Mills

The influence of the pastor of a neighborhood church can sometimes stretch beyond his own church and congregation and into an entire community. The Rev. Delbert S. Mills, pastor of the Avondale Evangelical United Brethren Church, W. State-st, at Avondale-av, for the past 28 years, has been such a minister.

At the annual conference of the denomination, held in Newark Aug. 15, through Aug. 19, he was elected to the position of a conference superintendent of the South District, governing all Evangelical United Brethren Churches from Columbus to Portsmouth.

Avondale had a membership of 79, all from the immediate neighborhood when the Rev. Mr. Mills first assumed the pastorate. The church now boasts 1130 members from all sections of Columbus. Physical improvements on the church building have totalled $35,000.

He has conducted a weekly Sunday radio broadcast throughout the years from various local radio stations, most recently from WRFD. He is also a well-known speaker at civic and school affairs and has appeared as a guest singer a number of times on Sally Flowers television show.

Always an active member of the West Side Ministerial Association, he is past president of the group and is also past president of the Columbus Ministerial Association.

The Rev. and Mrs. Mills have lived for most of those 28 years in the church's original parsonage, next door on State-st. In recent years that building has been converted into an educational unit to meet the increased needs of the church and the new parsonage is at 33 Avondale-av.

Their two daughters and one son were born and grew up in the State-st parsonage. Mrs. Merrill Thompson now lives at 548 S. Eureka-av, Mrs. Lawrence Hines at 536 Nashobe-av; and Paul in Mt. Gilead. The couple also has six grandchildren.

The Rev. Carl L. Wilson, new pastor of Avondale, was appointed to the church at the denomination's annual conference in Newark. He had served as pastor of the Hilltonia Evangelical United Brethren Church for the past year.

He will continue to conduct the weekly radio broadcast of the church over station WRFD.

Born in Newark, the Rev. Mr. Wilson is the grandson of a Quaker minister and great-grandson of a Mennonite minister. He studied for the ministry at Otterbein College, Westerville, and at Bonebrake Seminary Extension Study Course in Dayton.

His pastorates have included the Harrisburg and Pleasant Corners Churches, Kline Memorial Church in Enterprise and nine years' service at the Evangelical United Brethren Church in Circleville.

Before being called to the ministry of Hilltonia Church, he served as director of Christian Education at First Evangelical United Brethren Church in Newark, while associated with the State Christian Endeavor Union as a field representative.

He also served as president of the Pickaway County, Circleville Ministerial Association for three years, during which time a city-wide union Vacation Bible School program was initiated.

The Rev. Mr. Wilson and his wife, Violet Marie, will live in the Avondale parsonage.

Dear Editor:

The Hilltop Businessmen's Association should be supported by every institution on the Hilltop and even beyond its boundaries, in a movement to bring Christ back into Christmas.

The tendency today is to commercialize Christmas. Too many people consider Christmas just another day as they do the Fourth of July and Thanksgiving.

People have lost the significance attached to each of these days. They think of them as just holidays for pleasure.

The most remarkable thing about this movement is that instead of propagandizing Christmas for financial gain, the Hilltop Businessmen are starting a movement to bring Christ back into Christmas.

If the HBA is supported as it should be, la udrads of people will catch a vision of the real meaning of Christmas.

Floats would carry a message so impressive that individuals reached by the churches might have their lives changed to a life that would lead upward instead of downward.

Congratulations HBA for taking the initiative in such a noble cause.

May it be crowned with success.

FALL . . . Is Here!

It may be difficult to realize, but Fall is here. The calendar won't make it officially so for a couple of weeks, but it's definitely in the air.

Fall opens new vistas of happy times and eventful moments . . . and so, with one long look back upon a well-spent summer, we rush gaily into the brisk new season.

There are new "duds" to be purchased to be ready for all the fun and the frills . . . and perhaps some necessary things to be done around the home, maintenance of the family car to meet changing weather conditions.

Real Hilltoppers found long ago that all their needs for every season can be met by patronizing Hilltop business folks. They are not only conveniently close-by, but offer value and services unsurpassed anywhere. Residents of the Hilltop who have not "discovered" what Hilltop business firms have to offer are invited to do so this Fall. We're sure they'll be happily surprised.

A view of the working area of the Watts kitchen shows the "peninsula" counter space dividing this area from the dining area and containing the stainless steel sink. The free-hanging cupboards may be opened and used for storage from either side. Counter tops are Formica. Next to refrigerator may be seen the stainless steel table-top range. Electric oven is recessed in wall to the right, not in picture. Note recessed light in ceiling.

This view of a portion of the living room gives a glimpse into the dining room adjoining. The Victorian piano chair at the walnut spinet at right is in plum-colored velvet. The matching arm chair beside the fireplace is covered in dark green velvet. Note the unusual carved molding of the mantel pilasters. The Watts family loves clocks of all kinds. On the mantel is an "Atmos" clock which needs no winding; a banjo clock faces the dining room entrance-way, center, and in the dining room, is not shown in the picture, is a cuckoo clock with weights nearly to the floor!

Watts' One-Floor Plan Home Designed By Owners

Former Hilltoppers Feature Unusual Kitchen, Dinette

Mr. and Mrs. Harley B. Watts, Sr., moved into their attractive new home at 4491 Trabue-rd, just nine months ago. They were formerly Hilltop residents, living at 25 Algonquin-av.

Mr. Watts is a professional engineer and surveyor. With his sons, Harley, Jr., and Bob, both married and living on the Hilltop, he owns and operates the Thomas Engineering and Surveying Co., 3213 W. Broad-st.

The basement of the Watts home has in it a workshop where Mr. Watts repairs scientific instruments. This sideline work grew out of a metal-working hobby started before the war.

With the basement workshop all outfitted and the family well-established in the new home in the past three-quarters of a year, they are starting to build a greenhouse next to the garage, for it seems the Watts' do not relish idle moments!

The house, with attached garage, is a one-floor ranch style built of Delaware and Columbus limestone. The roof and trim are brown. Garage doors are electronically-operated from the dashboard of the family car.

Mr. and Mrs. Watts drew their own floor plan and they made the rooms roomy and airy, with lots of cupboard and storage space.

Walls in the living room are covered in a gray wallpaper, forming a neutral background for the rich plum-colored kid mohair sofa, a dark green velvet Victorian occasional chair beside the mantel, a brown satiny-patterned chair and a walnut spinet piano. The piano chair is another Victorian chair, and is upholstered in plum-colored velvet. The mantel is natural-finish birch, with red brick face and red unglazed tile hearth.

The carved green carpeting in the living room and in the adjoining dining room is self-patterned. Mahogany secretary, lamp tables and TV set complete the furnishings of the room.

The dining room has the same gray wallpaper as the living room on three of its walls, but the fourth side has a Colonial type paper with a green and pink print. The pink is picked up in sheer net over-drapes at the dining room picture window. There are also draw draperies, of natural colored material, to keep out the sun.

Dining room furniture is wild cherry Colonial antique reproduction style and consists of a corner china cupboard, a larger breakfront, china cupboard, a drop leaf table and its five chairs. A combination linen chest-server in the same wild cherry also acts as a divider between the living and dining rooms.

Kitchen Has Unusual Arrangement

The kitchen is an outstanding one. Planned for the maximum efficiency, the stainless steel sink and food preparation areas are located in a counter "peninsula" which divides the kitchen work area from the eating area. Consequently, there is no waste space in the center of the kitchen and cupboards open from both the work side and the dining area.

Counters are covered with green Formica, on the peninsula and around the stainless steel table-top range on the side against the wall.

Cupboards are of natural-finish birch and walls are painted pale yellow. Floors are gray and yellow mottled linoleum.

In the dining area the furniture is honey maple. One wall is covered with a gay Colonial-motif wallpaper and the draperies are fashioned in material of the same pattern and colors.

A laundry room and screened porch lie beyond the kitchen.

The large master bedroom has green wool loop carpeting and an unusual wallpaper with white background and gray and gold leaf pattern. The Colonial white bedspread is white and the dust ruffle of the bed is gold. Natural colored draw draperies are in a nubby material.

A dark green velvet chair contrasts well against the light walls, as do the wild cherry Colonial reproduction chest, dresser and bed.

The huge clothes closet here has sliding doors and a built-in chest of drawers.

In the bedroom of Mrs. Mary Auer, Mrs. Watts' mother, the color scheme of green, gray, pink and white is carried out. The green carpeting is like that in the master bedroom. The wallpaper is gray with pink design. Furniture is dark mahogany and the bedspread and draperies are chalk white, repeating the white of the ceiling.

The bathroom has frosted blue ceramic tile with white painted walls above, and white painted ceiling. A vanity topped with the blue tile is lighted by three spotlights and has a six-foot mirror.

Above is seen a part of the dining area. The "peninsula" bar which divides this area and the work area may be seen. Note the Colonial type maple furniture and lantern lamp. The fabric of the draperies has the same pattern and color as the wallpaper on wall at left. The other walls are painted yellow.

How's Your House?

Fall is a good time to look at possible trouble spots. Check wiring for overloading, electrical cords for fraying. Be sure flashings, gutters, downspouts are in good condition. Have your furnace checked and cleaned. Peeling, worn surfaces should be repainted. Look for roof leaks, loose or missing shingles. After checking, make necessary repairs. Give your home a "fall safety tonic."

Hints For Homemakers

To remove stubborn stains from the sink, rub the spots with a paste made of cream of tartar and peroxide.

Selling Takes Careful Preparation

Changing homes usually does plenty to upset the family routine. Children change schools and must find new playmates. Father usually is changing jobs at the same time. Mother must also make new friends besides contending with all the upsetting details that go with moving.

On top of all these adjustments, the family purse may be seriously depleted because the family home was sold at a loss in order to make the move.

This is a loss that doesn't need to occur. No one can control the selling price of an item like a house that is placed on the open market. But certain rules can be followed in preparing for the sale that will increase the opportunity for a profitable transaction.

Here are some points to consider if you plan to sell your house soon. Probably the first step is to put yourself in the place of a prospective buyer. Forget for the moment that you love the place because you call it "home."

Let's look at the yard and the outside of the house. Is the lawn neatly cut and reasonably free from weeds? Are the shrubs trimmed and the flower beds laid out in neat plots?

Now look over the outside of the house itself. Maybe the trim needs repainting. Perhaps that leaking gutter should be replaced. After all the prospect may choose a rainy day for his inspection. Or maybe the whole exterior of the house could stand a face lifting with a new roof and new siding, possibly insulating siding in one of those smart new pastel shades. With this treatment, you can probably take about 10 years off the appearance of the house for less than $1,000.

Another tip that any experienced real estate man will give you is that a house sells faster when it's occupied. It doesn't look so bare. Moreover, the prospect doesn't get the idea he's looking at "distress" property—one that the owner is in hurry to sell because he can't be burdened with maintaining it.

On the inside as on the outside it's wise to take care of the details that catch the eye of the wary buyer. Clean the woodwork or paint it. You may love that scratch that Junior made with his first tricycle but it's just another potential nuisance to the prospect.

Seal those cracks in the plaster. Fix the leaking faucet. And down in the basement you'd better be prepared for a lot of questions if the basement is wet. If you don't have time to fix it, at least find out what the cost of waterproofing would be.

There are many other items for your check list. The important point is to have a list. A little care can go a long way in selling your house, and it will mean dollars in your pocket.

Is Your Home Showplace?

Is your home one of the showplaces of the city? It can be, you know, if your house is gleaming with fresh paint, the lawn is green and carefully trimmed, and the yard gay with easily-grown chrysanthemums now available at your florists. A little work can bring a big reward in property appearance, personal pride and satisfaction. Fix up your home this fall.

A PROMINENT MAN PASSES ON
A curious public, knowing of his public and financial success, eagerly awaits the publishing of his will.
What did he do to help others? Frequently a man's entire life character is shown in his will.
Nowhere could he help in improving the welfare of our country more than through the Young Men's Christian Association.
The Hilltop YMCA has been struggling for years to meet the rapidly expanding growth of this community and rising operating expenses.
Men with surplus funds could find no better investment than to help facilitate these needs.
Let us tell you what you can do to improve these conditions.

Pioneer John Lisle Family Settled in Franklinton

By Gilbert P. Dodds

John Lisle, a native of Ireland, when a young man, emigrated to the United States with an older brother, settling in Pennsylvania where he married Rachel Irwin. Subsequently he moved to Kentucky and in 1798, with his wife and eight children, emigrated to Ohio and settled in Franklinton. During the year he remained at Franklinton, Mr. Lisle cultivated a piece of land belonging to the founder of Franklinton, Lucas Sullivant.

About 1799 Mr. Lisle secured two hundred acres of land in Clinton Township and moved his family there. Today his farm would be located on the Olentangy River road south of Lane-av and on the ground now occupied by the Ohio State University farm. Through his energy and industry, Mr. Lisle was soon cultivating a fine farm and educating his growing family of boys and girls. He passed away on his farm in 1810, his wife surviving him but a few years.

Robert Lisle, the oldest of the family, was born Sept. 18, 1785, and married Abigail McIntyre. They settled in Clinton Township near the Lisle family homestead and farm.

Robert and Abigail Lisle were the parents of twelve children, John being the oldest. He was born in Clinton Township, Dec. 18, 1810, and moved with his parents to Hamilton Township in 1814. He remained on his father's farm until 23 years of age when he married Eliza Breckenridge, daughter of Robert and Lucy Breckenridge, pioneer settlers of Franklin County. The house they built is still standing today in a good state of preservation on Jackson Pike in Franklin Township.

John and Eliza Lisle eventually bought a farm in Hamilton Township where they raised a family of four children. There are many descendants of the original John Lisle who are still living in Franklin Township.

Jerry Bentz, 5, Struck By Car, Dies Of Injuries

Jerry Bentz, five-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Bentz, 245 Wrexham-av, died Friday evening of injuries received two and a half hours earlier when he ran into the path of an auto on Sullivant-av, just east of Belvidere-av.

Patrolman O. E. Harry said the boy was struck by a car driven by Jack Fleischer, 34, of 397 Whitethorne-av and thrown about 40 feet as he darted into the street from behind a truck parked at the curb.

Patrolmen William Gramlich and Frank Reynolds of the accident investigation squad said Jerry had been playing with another small boy about two blocks from home.

The children dashed down a five-foot embankment above the sidewalk, Jerry darting into the street as his companion turned into the sidewalk along Sullivant-av. Officers said they believed Jerry's momentum from running down the embankment carried him into the street.

The boy is survived by his parents, two brothers, John, Jr. and Jimmy, two sisters, Jean and Jennifer, all at home.

His father is owner of the Hilltop Plumbing Supply Co.

Mass of the Holy Angels was sung at 10 a.m. Tuesday in St. Aloysius Church. Burial was in St. Joseph Cemetery.

Tube Guessing Game Has 15 Winners

There were 15 winners in the big tube guessing contest at Wolfe Electric, 2427 W. Broad-st. Their names were announced Tuesday morning, Sept. 6. The deadline on free entries was Saturday, Sept. 3.

Fifteen free gifts were placed in the front window plus a large bunch of Radio and TV tubes. Anyone guessing the correct number of tubes was given his choice of the prizes. The next closest winner got his choice of gifts left and so on down until all 15 prizes were gone.

The tubes were counted and the correct number was placed in a sealed envelope which was given to C. H. Campbell, executive secretary of the Hilltop Business Association.

He and Wolfe, owner of the store chose the lucky winners at the end of the contest. The exact number of tubes in the window was 4664.

Castle guessed the closest with 4666.

Winners in the contest from 1-15 respectively were:

Leroy Castle, 220 S. Richardson-av; Betty J. Donaldson, 307 N. Burgess-av; Ruth V. Watkins, 163 S. Wheatland-av; Darrel White, 2030 W. Broad-st; Robert G. Johnston, 2855 Camden-rd; R. C. Hilltop Record Will Make 'Confederate' Currency Good As Gold And Give Away Six Weekly Awards

Many Hilltop Merchants Will Redeem 'Rebel' Money Starting This Week

Shades of Robert E. Lee . . . "Confederate" money is good as gold again! Hilltop Record "Confederate" money . . . that is!

Starting this week $10 or more in "Confederate" money is going to be given to some Hilltop Record readers. This same Rebel currency may then be taken to any business firm advertising in this week's Record and it will buy just as much as a like amount of genuine present day money.

Merchants are guaranteed that all such Record "Confederate" money they receive will be redeemed at full face value by The Hilltop Record.

Here's how you get "Confederate" money . . . you don't have to buy a thing . . . just carefully look through all the ads in The Hilltop Record each week. If you find one of the insignia like that at the left it means you are richer by a "Confederate" dollar.

When you find such an insignia take the whole copy of your paper to The Hilltop Record office, 2466 W. Broad st., where a cool, crisp, newly printed "Confederate" bill will be given in exchange.

The "Confederate" $1 bill, actually a facsimilie of genuine Rebel currency, will be good for the full amount when applied on purchases made at firms advertising in this issue.

But that's not all! In addition to weekly awards of five $1 insignia, there will be one just like that shown at the right. This insignia when found in one of the advertisements in this issue, will be worth $5.

Following the same procedure as outlined for the $1 insignia The Hilltop Record will give you five $1 "Confederate" bills. These too can be applied on purchases at any business concern advertising in this issue.

Every Record Reader Should Watch For 'Confederate' Money Sign Each Week

Being a good observer will be most helpful in finding this Rebel currency insignia but some may claim that having a horseshoe over the door might help too. The big event starts in today's Record and will be continued until further notice.

A lot of fun is anticipated each week in reading the weekly reports of persons who have found a sign in their paper and redeemed it. Then too the big feature will be the attention called to the growth of the jackpot.

Final time for cashing the insignia will be noon Saturday following publication day. It will pay you to start looking through the Record ads right now. Who knows, you may be the winner of the "jackpot" in this issue.

GROWS 12 FT. TOMATO PLANT

Mrs. Paul Wilson, 2468 W. Broad-st, has a 12 foot Freestone tomato plant growing in her back yard. The plant was planted in early May. It has produced one batch already, and is blooming for the second round at the present time.

Rosary And MiriamNow Annexed

Rosary and Miriam Additions were officially annexed to Columbus on Monday after Common Pleas Judge Robert Draper sustained city contentions that absorption of the areas should not be barred.

Fifty-eight elementary students who formerly would have attended West Franklin School will attend Hilltop schools. Although some legal proceedings are still pending Judge Draper said the youngsters would probably be able to attend city schools now.

Parents of school age youngsters living in these two subdivisions protested the delayed ruling before the announcement was made by Judge Draper. They wanted to enter their children in Columbus schools before the term began.

Annexed, presumably as the two developments may now attend West gate and West Mound Elementary Schools and West High School, according to the closeness of the individuals and the schools, said Matt Mosbacher, administrative engineering assistant.

Judge Draper said he had to rule in favor the annexation petition because the suit was brought by one who had shown no legal right to bring suit.

The two areas lie in Franklin Township and consist of 227 acres, Rosary has 212 and Miriam has 15 acres, located at Sullivant, Briggs and Demorest-rds, and south of Mound-st, bounded by the city limits, Rea-av, and Midland-av.

Battelle Building Research, Atomic Center Near West Jefferson

Battelle Institute, 505 King-av, Columbus, has completed on its West Jefferson "campus" two of the buildings pictured above in the architect's drawing. The building in the center foreground is the large acoustics laboratory, and to the right is the office building. Both went into use the first week in June. The third facility pictured is a projected addition to the research center to be added in the future. The lab houses Battelle's new Leotronsit furnace which can melt a ton of metal at one time.

Polio Victim Home, Ready For School

Wayne T. Friend, 14, is home from Children's Hospital where he was confined recently with an attack of polio.

Mrs. C .W. Friend, 586 Terrace-av, stated her son would be back at West High School for classes very soon.

He will be given treatment and exercises at home which will help him over the hump and get him ready for school life, Mrs. Friend said.

MENTAL INSTITUTIONS ARE WHITE ELEPHANTS

Changing Scene On Hilltop Bringing Some New State School Buildings

By Herb Boteria

From time beyond recall men have turned away from the real problem of caring for for those among them who had mental troubles and like old shoes, cast them aside to fend for themselves and often offend others.

Today the scene is changing. Though Ohio still has white elephants in the form of the ancient outmoded structures to house the mentally retarded people who were once called the "black sheep" of the family, a reconstruction program is planned in Columbus.

Tall white spires and fancy iron and wood work remind one of an age long past when looking at the Columbus State School and Hospital on the Hilltop.

New buildings are badly needed and reconstruction is very necessary said Dr. Wendell Butcher, superintendent of the state school. "We do not even come close to the American Psychiatric Standards."

Out, Rebuild One Building

Pine Ridge building will be gutted and, completely rehabilitated inside, according to State Senator Wilbur L. Shull. The present building was built in 1870 and is in bad condition. It is a hazard for the boys living there. A recent appropriation of $850,000 has provided for reconstruction of Pine Ridge, Senator Shull added.

Many changes have been planned by Dr. Butcher and the architects, Van Buren, Ayers and Blackburn. Each floor of the three-story building will be similar. Formerly the attendants lived in the same building with their wards, but now the rooms they occupied will be made over into play rooms and a dining area. The attendants will now live off the grounds when not on duty. Each floor will have four sleeping rooms and two day rooms.

Where formerly the youngsters had to walk quite a distance to eat their meals, the meals will now be served in the basement dining room. This structure houses boys from 9 to 14 years of age. All of them are in active educational and training programs.

One of the most important reasons for rehabilitating the buildings is to get rid of the fire hazard they present, Dr. Butcher pointed out. Another important factor involved is the upkeep of the ancient buildings, most of them 80 years or older. The cost of repair is tremendous and with the vaulted ceilings heating bills are high.

$350,000 Hospital Wing

Construction will begin soon on a $350,000 receiving wing for the receiving hospital at the state school.

The new building will serve as a receiving wing and a diagnostic center. Study of the patient is presently made. If he needs surgery or such diagnostic research which is better given in a specialized insti-

TALKING WITH THE PUBLIC

Inadequate Traffic Control On Hilltop Results In Too Much Speeding, Interviewed Residents Say

This week the Hilltop Record conducted a survey of residents on the Hilltop to find out: Does the Hilltop have adequate police protection for traffic and residents?

(According to Columbus Traffic Control there is one ambulance on 24 hour a day duty on the Hilltop, one sedan cruiser serving 16 hours a day and two motorcycle units, one on W. Broad-st and one on Sullivant-av. There are no foot patrolmen on the Hilltop. The City Council allows 713 men on the force but there are only 556 now serving, with 157 men short.)

"The Hilltop really does not have adequate police traffic control," said Mrs. Robert P. Conn, 2247 Springmont-av, "there is so much speeding on Sullivant-av in the early morning rush hours and there apparently is no traffic control."

"Many drivers drive sensibly," Mrs. Conn stated, "but others speed terribly fast and weave in and out of traffic and just are not caught."

"I don't think there is adequate police protection on the Hilltop," said Mrs. C. W. Friend, 586 Terrace-av. "Sitting on the front porch and watching how drivers travel so fast with children playing nearby, it seems as though there is just not enough traffic control."

"You wonder how the drivers get by with their speeding," Mrs. Friend stated. "I see some police ambulances, but I almost never see a police cruiser."

"Fortunately there is not very much juvenile delinquency on the Hilltop," Mrs. Friend continued. "We have nice neighbors with well trained children."

"The police have done a good job in stemming juvenile delinquency on the Hilltop, I don't believe that is the real problem, but speeding is," Mrs. Friend concluded.

"YES, there is adequate police protection on the Hilltop," said Paul Hafey, 1887 Sullivant-av. "I see a lot of police cruisers and motorcycle men. They must patrol the Hilltop pretty good."

"I think the Columbus Police Department is doing a wonderful job on the Hilltop," said Mrs. Jack H. Nelson, 132 N. Chase-av.

"There is adequate police protection on the Hilltop," Mrs. Nelson pointed out, "they are all over doing a good job. When we noticed some car thefts on some nights and the police were called they came right away and stopped the pilfering. They are always right on the spot when you need them."

THERE IS A LOT OF SPEEDING ON THE HILLTOP," said Mrs. Tony Vannicelli, 2037 Sullivant-av.

"There is no doubt that there is enough protection for the residents, but not pedestrians," Mrs. Vannicelli stated, "but from Wrexham to Belvidere there is a lot of speeding . . . when the cruiser is not around the drivers speed. Drivers just wink by our house. People say there is not enough police protection on the Hilltop. They just don't have enough."

West High PTA Board Will Meet Wednesday

The Executive Board of the West Junior and Senior High School PTA will hold its first meeting of the school year, Wednesday, Sept. 21 at 1:30 p. m.

Great Books Discussion Group Starts On Hilltop

Membership is open for the first Great Books discussion group on the Hilltop, it was announced yesterday by Bob Schmidt, executive secretary of the Hilltop YMCA. The group will be sponsored jointly by the Hilltop YMCA and the YWCA Hilltop Center.

Any Hilltop adult may register for the group and secure further information by visiting or telephoning the Hilltop Y offices at 2720 W. Broad-st, BE. 9-9641 or BE. 9-9787.

Miss Jane Owen, director of the YWCA Hilltop Center, said that the group will begin its bi-weekly evening meetings at the Hilltop Y sometime in October. Interested men and women, however, are requested to register immediately so that necessary organizational work may be accomplished.

"This opportunity for a free liberal education is open to all adults in the community," declared Miss Owens. "There is no tuition and no educational requirements." She added that "the sessions will not by any means be book reviews, but extremely lively discussions of contemporary issues based on the Great Books."

Only cost to individual Hilltop Great Books group members will be $11 for the first-year set of 16 readings. It is possible, Schmidt pointed out, that a group purchase of the books may enable members to pay only $9.75 for the set of attractively-bound readings. Those interested in joining the new discussion group may obtain an annual membership in the Hilltop YMCA or YWCA for $2, if they are not already members, he added.

Many thousands of adults have found that learning to think for themselves by studying Great Books can be fun, as well as stimulating, Schmidt said. Ever since 1947, when the Great Books Foundation was incorporated in Chicago as a non-profit organization, groups of 20 to 30 people from coast to coast have been meeting to discuss books written by such authors as Plato, Shakespeare and Johnathan Swift — books as old as the Bible, as new as Freud.

Legion-Arrow Motorcycle Races Planned Sunday

A record number of drivers have entered in this year's Legion-Arrow Motorcycle races to be held at the Fairgrounds Sunday, Sept. 18. Co-sponsoring the race are Camp Chase Post 98 and the Golden Arrow Motorcycle Club.

On sale at the office of Hartley Printing and Publishing Co., 2466 W. Broad-st, are 200 tickets to the race. They will be on sale until noon Saturday at $1 each, a saving of 50 cents a person.

Feature of the 10 race program will be the 7th running of the Ohio State Championship. Two central Ohio riders have completely monopolized the race since its start in 1940. Dick Klamforth won last year's race for the second time, however Bobby Hill of Columbus has come home in front four times.

Rural-Urban News Reaches Out To Serve West Jefferson

"Go west young man."

This bit of advice passed out by Horace Greely some years ago is still being followed and this week the Hartley Printing & Publishing Co. is proud to announce that the new publication, Rural-Urban News is being extended to include West Jefferson and the rural area around that community.

Starting this week a West Jefferson edition and a West Franklin edition of the Rural-Urban News will be published each Thursday. Advertising placed in that paper will appear in both editions at no extra cost. The news content of the two editions will be tailored to fit the respective communities.

An office for the West Jefferson paper will be opened in conjunction with a printing plant in that village sometime after Jan. 1.

Carrier Boys Will Collect This Week For September

This is collection week for Hilltop Record carriers. Your Record carrier will call on you and ask that you pay him 30 cents for his service for the month of September.

Each Record carrier has a collection book. He also has a printed newspaper receipt for the month of September and it will be appreciated if you ask for a receipt.

Several Hilltop boys are receiving valuable experience in a business of their own and earning their own spending money by delivering your weekly copy of the Record. Your encouragement will be appreciated.

Invalid's Parakeet Is Found Through Record Story

Because of a story appearing in The Hilltop Record on Sept. 7, Joseph Kocis, of 3236 Sullivant-av, recognized the lost parakeet "Pat" of Mrs. J. Ginley of 791 Derrer-rd, and returned it to her. Mrs. Ginley, who has been bedfast for 11 years with multiple sclerosis, is very happy that her little friend was found because without him, she had been almost lost for companionship.

Pat had hopped on a visitor's shoulder and rode out the front door of the Ginley home not long ago, and had not been seen until Kocis saw the parakeet.

Shaver Follows Hegenberger In City Post

Mayor M. E. Sensenbrenner today named Otis Shaver, 46, 394 S. Guilford-av, to the vacant post on the City Planning Commission. The vacancy was created when the mayor announced he would not reappoint Elmer Hegenberger to the post because he wanted to place a Democrat in that position.

Hegenberger, 106 Rome-blvd, had indicated to the mayor that he felt the post was non-partisan.

Columbus Resident Since 1919

A resident of Columbus since 1919, Shaver has been employed as an actuary with the Nationwide Mutual Fire Insurance Co. since 1945. He has worked with various civic committees in Columbus, including housing, slum clearance, United Appeal and the blood program.

As a member of the planning commission, Shaver stated that it will be his duty to study any contemplated civic improvements and planned street or other utility extensions with other commission members.

Shaver is married and has two daughters, Juanita, 20, a student at Capital University, and Lenora, 15, a student at West High School. His wife, Maude, is a homemaker.

Active Church Worker

A member of the Highland Avenue Friends Church, Shaver is chairman of the Ohio Yearly Meeting of Friends board of finance and stewardship.

Among other organizations of which Shaver is a member are the American Institute of Management, Association of University Teachers of Insurance, Columbus branch Optimist Club, Chamber of Commerce and vice-president of the Columbus Interclub Council which recently changed its name to Interclub Council of Central Ohio.

Ladies to Take Over Friday at Penney 'Point' Store

Feminine gender employes of the J. C. Penney Central Point store will take over the management and use all the authority they customarily exert at home when the doors of the concern open for business at noon Friday.

Serving as manager for the day will be Mrs. Iris Purcell, 2240 Sullivant-av. She will be assisted by Mrs. Ethel Trader, 621 S. Warren-av. The two Hilltoppers were named to their posts in at least fake election, at which only their fellow employes were permitted to cast ballots. Management was excluded and management will be taking orders Friday, instead of issuing them.

"I may find myself pushing a broom for all I know," S. A. Long, store manager, said yesterday. "What they say goes and many of the special items placed on sale Friday are available at the prices marked only because we've turned all this over to our employes for the day," he added.

While this type of "Ladies' Day" is new at the Central Point store, it has been tried and proven successful at many of the company's branches throughout the country, according to Mr. Long.

Hold Training Session

Members of the West Hi-Y will soon be setting their winter activities into motion. Boys will make contacts with Hilltop churches to give talks on membership enrollment at the Y.

Any pastor who would like to have one of the boys speak in his church may call the Hilltop Y and ask for a reservation. The talks are given in conjunction with the Membership Enrollment Drive of the Hilltop YMCA.

Gary Link and Dennis McDonald were two of 120 boys from different Hi-Y Clubs throughout the state of Ohio who attended the camp training session at Camp Nelson Dodd. The two youths set up the program and instigated its purpose.

Many of the top Hi-Y advisors and executives of the state served as counselors and speakers at the Camp Nelson Dodd sessions.

During the camp McDonald served as president of his cabin and Link was a member of the camp recreation council. Bert Korte, of the Hilltop Y, went along and served as a cabin counselor and assistant program advisor.

Last year West Hi-Y Club was voted the most outstanding club in the city of Columbus. The youths are working to achieve the same honor this year.

YOUR YOUTH

Bert Korte and Bob Schmidt

Now that everyone is back in school once more business at the Hilltop YMCA will soon be picking up again.

Plans are being made to get the Gra-Y clubs and the Junior Hi-Y going on Sept. 19. Many of the fellows will be looking forward to these meetings and we hope to set up some interesting programs.

"Hats off" to the All-Star team for its fine record of 10 wins and four losses. Calvin English and Tom Hartranft with batting averages of .529 and .432 led the squad to this successful season. Mike Cantion with a 3-0 record and Terry Linson with a 5-3 mark were the workhorses of the team with Jim Thornton, Don Henne and Bob Ross sharing in the relief duties. Victory wouldn't have been possible if the rest of the squad hadn't given their best all the way.

Touch football will take the limelight soon as the Gra-Y clubs get started. All you fellows will want to get warmed up and with the championship for your club.

Don't forget the Hilltop YMCA Membership Enrollment Drive which will start on Sept. 19. We need your support to take care of Your Youth, so let's all cooperate and make this year's drive the best yet.

Southern scene: In Alabama the V.F.W. has erected white crosses at the scene of each traffic fatality but that didn't phase one Ohio driver. He tried to pass in a line of traffic and hit the car in front when he had to get back into the line because of another car which was coming around a curve. He crossed the yellow line. It happened just after he had passed a cross, telling him three had been killed on that spot. Small wonder that Ohio is usually near the top of the weekend traffic toll lists . . . Spring City, Tenn., was once only a little town you passed through to get some place else but now it is a town you remember. If you have forgotten, that is where a train hit a school bus. Eleven children were killed and several others seriously injured. Nobody was smiling in that town; so many faces were marked by the recent tragedy . . . Your Market Basket

This week look for good buys in broilers, the less tender cuts of beef, homegrown cantaloupes, grapes and squash.

Broilers are coming on the market in record breaking numbers. They are ideal for late summer picnics or barbecues. For top quality birds select those with meaty breasts and thighs, a flexible breast bone and a smooth-textured skin free from bruises and pin feathers. Allowing about two-thirds pound of ready-to-cook chicken per person, a two and one-half pound chicken will serve three generously.

The less tender cuts of beef are a good buy if you want to save a little money and are willing to spend a little extra time in the kitchen cooking. Less expensive cuts of steak include flank, chuck, cube, and blade. For pot roasts select rump, English, chuck, or heel of round. Good stew meats include short plate, short ribs, and rib ends.

When buying beef, regardless of the cut, look for a large amount of meat in proportion to the bone and fat. The lean portion should be firm, fine-textured, and a bright color from light to deep red. It should have a covering of firm, creamy white fat. The lean should be well marbled throughout with fine streaks of fat. This marbling adds tenderness and improves the flavor.

A recent report of the Agricultural Marketing Service, United States Department of Agriculture, indicates that, on a national average, the farmer's share of the price you pay for frying chickens is 64%, and from beef his share is 63%. The remainder goes to processor, wholesaler, and retailer.

High Adventure At Indian Run Near Dublin

BY GILBERT F. DODDS

One of the main streams in Franklin County which empties into the Scioto River just above Dublin is Indian Run. That portion of the country which extends up Indian Run has high hills and bluffs and is well known for its glorious fall beauty.

In the very early days of our pioneer history, the Scioto River was a natural highway for travel for the Indians between Lake Erie and the Ohio River.

When Dublin was first settled by Ludwick Sells and his sons, Samuel, Peter, Benjamin and William in the fall of 1806, there was a large body of Indians, numbering about 180 who were encamped on Indian Run about one mile west of Dublin. This was a favorite camping ground for the tribesmen, especially the Wyandots.

There was a noted warrior in the tribe called Captain Turtle who was unusually friendly to the whites. Captain Turtle and a number of the Indians who were camping on Indian Run demonstrated this friendship by joining General Harrison when he marched against the Shawnees under Tecumseh at the Battle of Tippecanoe.

Captain Billy Wyandot, a Wyandot chief, also encamped on Indian Run a large part of the season for several years after the first white settlers arrived. Parties from the Upper Sandusky reservation often traveled over the Indian trail to Franklinton.

Here in the spring the parties loaded their vehicles with skins and furs, the results of their winter's trapping and hunting, and with maple sugar they traded with a Frenchman who kept a trading post at Franklinton. They also procured guns, ammunition and blankets, combs, Jews harps and other trinkets for their squaws and themselves.

We can well understand today why this beautiful stream of water was called Indian Run by the pioneer settlers of old Franklinton.

Cowboys Grappled For Preview Lead And Lost; Pemberton Plans Complete Overhaul Of His Bronco Football Machine

By Bill Meire

West High grid boss Mack Pemberton awoke last Saturday morning with the realization that he must overhaul his Cowboy football machine if they are to better last seasons 3-7 record and return West to their high-ranking City League position of a few years back.

Pemberton could see the writing on the wall the night before as he watched his charges absorb some terrific punishment from Grandview (13-6) and North (12-0) in their two quarters of action at the Arlington preview.

The Hilltoppers tangled in eight minute quarters, first with the Bobcats, and then with North.

In the Grandview encounter the Cowboys and Bobcats fought each other to an early standstill before the Broncos pounced on a Grandview fumble on the West 48 yard stripe. On first down the locals' quarterback, Ray Williams, pitched a 42-yard pass to sixfoot (6'3") end Dick Furry with the play being stopped on the Bobcat 10. Williams himself carried on the next play and knifed up the middle for nine yards to the one.

After a quarterback sneak failed to gain, fullback Gary Nebinger punched into the end zone to both open and close the Cowboys' scoring for the evening. A bad pass from center thwarted the extra point attempt by Furry. The drive covered a total of 52 yards and was executed in only four plays.

Furry's kick-off was returned 26 yards to the Grandview 31. Forty-five seconds later the Cowboys found themselves trailing in the game as, after two plays, ace Bobcat halfback Dick Anderson broke off left tackle, swung to the left sideline and sped 53 yards for the Cats' first score. Roger Lee's placement was good for the extra point and Grandview led 7-6 with 4:20 left to play.

The Cowboys were unable to move the ball and Bob Courtney punted 38 yards to the Cats' 32. Grandview advanced the pigskin to the locals' 35 yard line from which point Anderson again squirted through the line and galloped to the four where Bronco end Ralph (Y.A.) Tittle nailed him from behind. However, with 15 seconds remaining, quarterback Dole Baker sneaked over from the one.

Against North the Cowboys ran into a 200 pound back-buster in the person of Bear Halfback Bob Cole who slashed the Hilltoppers' defense for 119 yards in nine tries.

North wasted no time getting started as they took the pigskin on their own 36 yard line and marched to the Cowboys' 21 from which point Cole ripped around left end for the score after only one minute and 10 seconds had elapsed. The extra point attempt was no good and North led 6-0.

West took the kick-off on their own 37 and began a drive of their own, pushing to the North 21. But there the drive ran out of gas as a fourth-down screen pass from Williams to halfback Dave Randall fell incomplete.

Again West's defense was unable to hold, as the Polar Bears, led by Cole's hard smashes, churned 60 yards in eight plays with halfback Jon Stephenson skirting right end from one foot out for the final score. Jim Bennett's extra point placement made the final score 13-0.

The evening's brightest star for the Cowboys was quarterback Ray Williams as he accounted for 77 of the locals' 124 yard total with two pass completions and six carries. Second in line was halfback Bob Ackerman with 21 yards in three carries.

Haire-Pens

Pemberton, speaking of Friday's action, stated, "We were lousy. Grandview and North are both good teams, but not that good." The Cowboy mentor also stated that although his offense wasn't good, he isn't worried as much about it as he is about his defense. He believes the 5-4-2 defense is among the best all-around defenses in the game and plans a lot of work on it this week in an attempt to eliminate the "bugs" and have a sound defense ready for the game with Marion this Friday at Magly Field . . . In the injury department, Pemberton expects regular signal-caller Bill Spratley to be ready for Marion. Spratley missed the Arlington preview with a muscle bruise. Also due back are ace halfback Bob Conley, suffering from an ankle injury, and crack safetyman Jerry Keyes, out with an ailing shoulder. On the sadder side, however, 183-pound junior end, Fred Goode, injured in a scrimmage with Newark, has been lost for the season. Also out indefinitely with a knee injury is 177-pound senior tackle, Fred Preston . . . Lone Cowboy injury in the Arlington preview was fullback Gary Nebinger, who suffered a bump on the head. He'll be ready for Marion . . . First downs told the story well in the preview. West could get only five while their opponents were garnering 10 . . . Grandview's Dick Anderson showed fine speed and finesse against the locals as he rolled up 117 yards in nine tries while scoring one touchdown . . . The Cowboys' Bill Link, fullbacking in the North fray, gave a good account of himself, showing some fine drive the only two times he carried the ball (five and four yards respectively).

Changing Scene—

tution in Ohio, the patient is transferred to that location for work and treatment.

Appropriate schools have been set up to handle the various mental deficiencies found in patients who seek help at the state school, and they are transferred there after the initial diagnosis, Dr. Butcher said.

A receiving and diagnostic center is something which is very new in this country, it was never fully done before, Dr. Butcher said.

What Is Mental Illness

Many times the problem of mental illness and mental deficiency is misunderstood. This does not help the person so afflicted, the superintendent insisted.

Mental deficiency is not mental illness though both may be present at once in an individual, just as one person may sustain a broken leg and the measles at the same time, he pointed out.

A mentally deficient person is one who does not have the capacity to think, plan and judge as the normal person. There is a defect in a portion of his brain matter, he said.

The brain is made up of various portions which direct the actions, thinking, and other phases of intelligent or reactive impulses a man expresses, the doctor stated. If any one of these portions of the brain is injured either at birth, through disease or in an accident, it may cause a man to walk with a limp, have difficulty thinking though he may do all other things properly, or be mentally deficient in some way which hampers his usefulness in society without special training, Dr. Butcher said.

Unfortunately brain cells do not replace themselves as do other tissues of the body, he said.

"We do not think of curable or incurable when we refer to mental deficiencies," Dr. Butcher insisted. "But by study of the area of mental deficiency and understanding what skills the patient has, we can train him to become a useful citizen generally. One-third of the cases we have received have been trained to support themselves."

"There were 183 youngsters placed out in 1953, and in addition to supporting themselves, they built up a bank account of over $21,000," the superintendent stated. "They work in helper capacity. They were committed as wards of the state and with proper training and supervision they are now able to care for themselves and no longer be an expense to the state."

Dr. Butcher pointed to the solid brick and stone structure standing next to the administration building and proudly stated, "This school will be one of the finest assets we could have in the treatment and training of our patients."

"We hope that the Columbus State School will be one of the most outstanding state schools in the country in equipment and personnel within the near future," he reported.

"More treatment and less brick and stone is needed for the trainees at the state school," said Senator Shull. There is too much custodial care only, he added.

Coming up in the fall is a state bond issue of $150,000,000 which will help the overall program of capital improvements. It will go a long way to bring mental corrective and educational institutions up to date, said Senator Shull.

Hilltop Ministers Association Held First Fall Meet

Members of the Hilltop Ministerial Association met Monday morning in St. John's Lutheran Church, for their first session of the season.

Newly-elected officers who will serve for the ensuing year are Rev. Joseph Shallhass, pastor of Glenwood Methodist Church, president; Rev. A. J. Wold, pastor of Hope Memorial Presbyterian Church, vice-president; Rev. George H. Alexander, pastor of the Hilltop Church of Christ Disciples, secretary and treasurer.

Preliminary plans were made for the Union Thanksgiving service to be held this year at Glenwood Methodist Church and an acting committee on arrangements was named.

By unanimous vote the group decided to accept the invitation of the Hilltop Business Association to participate in a community Christmas parade to be held on the Saturday following Thanksgiving. A committee to cooperate with the one from the HBA was appointed with Rev. C. T. Laughels as chairman.

Close Season On 'Y' All-Star Games

Hilltop YMCA Intermediate Church Softball League closed last week with an All-Star game between championship West Park Methodist team and an All-Star squad made up from the other League teams.

Champs took advantage of unearned runs to win 8-1. All Stars out hit West Park 5-3. Game was called after five innings due to darkness.

George Breckenridge, pitcher for the Champs, meant the difference as he struck out 12 of the 15 men who were retired. Davis, Potter, Lantz and Kight shared mound duties for the All-Stars.

Members of the All-Star team were Lantz, Castle, Wilhelm, Rayot, Kuns, Davis, Potter, Kight, Clark, Waltman, Webb and Ewing. Squad was managed by Ralph Murphy, Russ Shorting, Norm Reeves and Walt Miller.

Camp Fire Girls Plan Recruitment Drive

West District Camp Fire leaders will present "An Evening of Camp Fire" Wednesday, Sept. 21, from 7 to 9 p. m. at St. John's Lutheran Church, Hague-av and W. Broad-st, for mothers of daughters in the second through the sixth grades.

Entries of Camp Fire Girls in the Ohio State Fair, and garments which the girls have made for the Needlework Guild will be exhibited. A film narrated by Ted Malone and color films taken at Camp Wyandot, will also be shown.

The program is part of a recruitment drive for leaders.

Officers will meet Oct. 19 at Camp Wyandot for a cookout and ceremonial. Leaders who have completed their Trail Seeker rank will receive their awards.

This year's officers are Mrs. James Matheny, chairman; Mrs. Wilbur Slanfield, co-chairman; Mrs. Ken Dickerson, secretary, and Mrs. Donald Ault, treasurer.

Hilltop Greenland Explorer Liked Cold Glacier Studies

William Farrand, 2436 Steele-av, just returned from an icy adventure in Greenland for two and one-half months, expresses a desire to return again next year in an exclusive interview with the Record.

Farrand, doing post graduate work at Ohio State University, was among the few chosen by the Snow, Ice and Permafrost Research Establishment to do glacier research work in Thule.

The party of 14 left Columbus June 11 and were flown to McGuire air base in New Jersey by Commercial Air Liner and from there by army plane to Greenland. Four days were spent in Thule gathering together winter clothing and equipment for the icy months ahead. Helicopter carried the party on to Red Rock Lake, 40 miles from Thule, and by June 16 they were ready to start work.

Camp Organization First Week

Their first week was spent organizing camp at the base of a 100 foot cliff named North Ice Cap. They constructed Jamesway huts which consisted of wooden floors with insulated double canvas covering. Oil stoves were used for heating the huts and an army field range for cooking.

Farrand states they had a cook along but divided up the dish washing job.

Purpose of the trip was to study ice cliffs and determine the way ice cliffs are formed.

Main duties performed by Farrand were (1) weather measurements at the camp and on top of the glacier; (2) measurement of amount of ablation (melting of glacier ice) on the surface of the cap. This was accomplished by means of bamboo poles put down in holes drilled into the ice; and (3) measurement of amount of water flowing out of Red Rock Lake.

It Was Cold Up There

During the last two weeks of their stay, night temperatures ranged from 15 to 16 degrees below freezing and up to 32 degrees in the daytime. Highest degree registered during their stay was 48 degrees during the day and 28 to 30 degrees during the night, all of which time the sun was brilliantly shining.

Helicopter supplied food to the group which consisted of a plentiful supply of frozen meats and mostly canned vegetables. Green leafy vegetables such as lettuce arrived occasionaly but not in very good condition.

Animal life around the camp was rather rare. Farrand saw one dark blue fox, a few snow bunting birds and on one occasion a white arctic hare about two feet high.

Dr. Goldthwait of Ohio State University accompanied the party as project leader.

Farrand received his bachelor of science degree in geology last March and is at present working toward a master's degree in geology, which he hopes to receive next June.

Auto And Drivers Licenses Are Now Easier To Get

Motorists of the Hilltop area are reminded that their auto and driver's licenses will be easier to get after Tuesday, Sept. 13, according to C. H. Campbell, deputy registrar.

After Tuesday, applicants for licenses no longer will need to appear in person before a notary. Applications can be made by mail or delivered by another individual.

The new arrangement, Campbell points out, will be particularly helpful for applicants who are ill, away from home, or unable to get off work when the time for license renewal arrives. An applicant will still be subject to penalty for any false statement.

Good Vision Makes Better Students

Repeated examination of the vision of many school children has shown that many a really bright child falls behind in his studies thru no fault of his own. It is easy to call the child stupid or to blame the school or the teachers. The thought never occurs to us that the child hasn't been given a chance to learn, that his brain is sharp enough but his eyesight is dull. Could any child be expected to learn if every lesson involved a blurred blackboard or a book with fuzzy and grey print. Time at school is largely wasted—fewer lessons are learned, less progress made. These children feel themselves backward, never seem to get anywhere. They do not know themselves that they don't see perfectly or comfortably. They think blurred vision is natural for they know no other kind.

But how can we, the parent know? The following rules of proper eyesight care are recommended.

1. Watch for signs of discomfort, squinting, avoiding reading, crossed eyes, etc.

2. When reading, writing, or drawing check for good posture, proper lighting, and prevent fatigue.

3. Have vision checked by a conscientious examiner. If glasses are needed, see that the child is given them. Each added day of slow learning makes stronger in this pupil the idea that he or she is not as capable as his neighbor. Give that brain of his a chance to show how bright he really is.

now's the time to prepare your lawn
FALL is Nature's lawn-making time
Late Weed Germination ... More Moisture Moisture ... Cool, Excellent Grass-growing Weather ...
Here you have the three basic reasons why lawn authorities agree that fall is the best time to put in new lawns and repair established lawns.
Be sure that the grass will find a ready supply of available plant food as soon as it germinates. The season is short and you want your grass plants to make substantial root and top growth before winter sets in.
Seeco, applied before seeding new lawns and over the established lawns before reseeding bare spots, will assure beautiful, sturdy growth.

CONFEDERATE MONEY THAT IS!!

HERE'S HOW . . .

Yes sir, Rebel currency is as good as any present day American money, that is if you are a Hilltop Record reader.

Starting with this week's issue a little insignia like the one shown at the left will be printed in ads in five different copies of The Hilltop Record. If you find it in your copy it is worth a Confederate dollar bill.

Each week one insignia like the No. 5 at the right will be printed in one ad in some copy of The Hilltop Record. If your copy is the one you merely bring it to the office of the Record, 2465 W. Broad-st, and you will be given a $5 Confederate bill.

But Confederate money isn't worth anything you say! Not so with Hilltop Record Confederate money. Just take it to any store advertising in this week's Record and it can be spent just like any other currency. The Record in turn will redeem all such currency at full value when turned in by a Record advertiser.

Total amount of Confederate money that can be cashed in the first week is $10. However should any of the insignia escape the scrutiny of Hilltop Record readers the amount missed will be added to the next week's jackpot award. Full details are given on page 1 of the Record today.

If you have been receiving the Record each week from your carrier and have not paid him you will not be certain to receive every issue and who knows . . . the very first one you miss may be a jackpot winner!

Watch the jackpot grow!

Champion Square Dance Caller Now Sings For Columbus Playgrounds

With the call of the champion boys and girls, men and women, and the whole neighborhood, they say, will come alive and whirl into the happy squares of the square dance caller, James Jonard.

Employed by the Columbus Recreation Department, Jonard will be square dance caller at Glenwood, Schiller, and many other recreation centers and playgrounds throughout the city this fall.

Chosen grand Champion caller at the Ohio State Fair this summer, Jonard is shown holding his prize trophy in the picture shown here. To him, he mused, winning trophies and ribbons is not half as much fun as singing out the calls and watching the fine stepping after a group have learned the dance and do it well.

Chagrined, the posse turned to string up Pat, who cautioned them: "Bhoys, be sure yez tie a better knot this timme. It's meself that can't swim a stroke."

For and About Hilltop Women

Nancy Lou Cartnal, Gary Stoll Repeat Vows

Miss Nancy Lou Cartnal and Mr. Gary C. Stoll repeated their marriage vows on Sunday, Aug. 14, in the First Baptist Church, Newark. The Rev. Charles M. Pomeroy read the double ring ceremony before an altar decorated with French baskets of white gladiola, Fall chrysanthemums and arrangements of palms and seven-branch candelabra.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. W. Cartnal of Newark, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Guy C. Stoll, for many years residents of S. Warren-av, and now of 1304½ W. Broad-st.

The bride's floor-length gown of rosepoint lace and nylon tulle over white satin, was designed with a basque bodice and portrait neckline and long-pointed sleeves. The bouffant skirt, worn over crinoline and hoops, featured a lace, apron-effect overskirt.

Her fingertip length veil of illusion was held by a tiara of lace and seed pearls and she carried a cascade of white roses centered with a white orchid and surrounded by lilies of the valley. Her only jewelry, a single strand of pearls and matching earrings, were the gift of the bridegroom.

Miss Dorothy Welch served as maid of honor and Miss Janet Kerns, Miss Nancy Pearce and Miss Virginia Jeffries as bridesmaids. The little flower girl was Debbie Johnston, cousin of the bridegroom.

The honor attendant wore a gown of orchid crystallet designed with a portrait neckline, basque bodice and bouffant ballerina-length skirt.

MR. AND MRS. GARY C. STOLL

The bridesmaids wore identically styled gowns in turquoise and they all wore halos with tiny theatre veils. Miss Welch carried a heart-shaped bouquet of purple asters and the other attendants carried aqua and white asters.

The flower girl was gowned in white nylon with a four-tier skirt and carried a basket of rose petals.

Mr. Floyd Stoll, uncle of the bridegroom, served as bestman and the wedding guests were seated by Mr. Richard Cartnal, brother of the bride; Mr. Jack Cartnal, cousin of the bride and Mr. Larry West.

The mother of the bride chose a brown frock with pink accessories and her purse corsage was a single purple orchid. The bridegroom's mother wore a pink crystallet gown with light pink accessories and also pinned a purple orchid to her purse.

Two hundred fifty guests attended the reception held in the church parlors. Hostesses were Miss Nancy Miller, cousin of the bridegroom; Miss Phyllis Martin, Columbus; Miss Judy Cartnal, cousin of the bride; Miss Sallie Cochran, Mrs. Richard Benner and Mrs. Jerry Crossmock.

The new Mrs. Stoll was graduated from Newark High School and from Office Training School. She was associated with the Owens-Corning Fiberglass Corp., Newark. Her husband is a graduate of Central High School, served two years with the U. S. Navy and is associated with his father in business at Stoll's Food Market, in Columbus.

Following a wedding trip to Yellowstone National Park, Sun Valley, Idaho, and Denver, Colo., the couple will be at home at 6 N. Princeton-av.

Seiller's DEPARTMENT STORE invites you to use the individualized REVOLVING CREDIT PLAN ...tailored expressly for your needs!

Yes, Seiller's Revolving Credit Plan makes it easier for you and your pocketbook to buy what you want . . . when you want it . . . and pay only one small amount each month.

Seiller's lets YOU set your own monthly payment — any amount of $5.00 or more. You can charge purchases at Seiller's up to six times this monthly payment — and keep on charging up to this limit of your account.

If you set your monthly payment at $10 a month, you can charge any amount at any time up until your total amount charged is $60.00. For example:

Amount Of Credit	$30	$60	$90	$120
Amount Each Month	$ 5	$10	$15	$ 20

Your monthly payments always remain the same on Seiller's R.C.P. — $5, $7, $12, or whatever amount you decide. And in any month you can charge the difference between the top limit on your account and the amount you owe.

The service charge for this convenient R.C.P. is only one per cent on the unpaid balance each month. And, of course, you can pay more than your monthly payment calls for at any time you want.

Imagine how much easier shopping will be with a Seiller's R.C.P. account. No need to wait when you want to make a purchase. No need to worry about paying for gifts.

Best of all, you can open a Seiller's R.C.P. account even though you have a regular charge account here. This gives you the added convenience of a choice of payment plans when you shop our store.

Come in now and open your Seiller's R.C.P. so it will be ready whenever you want to use it. There's no need to wait — and you can charge on your new Seiller's R.C.P. the same day you come in.

A glimpse of the mail box, with the words "Quail Hollow" on it are enough to make anyone curious. At 3800 Cemetery-rd is the home of the Robert F. Bauers, this week's Home of The Week.

The Home of the Week

By Elsie Ireland Weaver

Harley Groom, Photographer

Green rugs, slip-covered sofa and green carpeting blend with the cool green of foliage outside the lovely picture window of the Bauer home, a cozy one-floor plan home. Marquisette draw draperies are rarely drawn for privacy as the window is at the rear of the house facing some three acres of woods. Quail, as well as other small wild animals may be seen most of the seasons of the year.

STAFF Photos

Antique accessories abound in the Bauer's living room. The brass kettle by the fireplace was used by Mr. Bauer's grandparents for making apple butter. The old spool shelf at the right in the entrance hall has on it a collection of miniatures. The fireplace has black Italian marble face and mahogany molding. Charcoal portraits of Mrs. Bauer's great-grandparents hang in oval black frames above the mantel.

Bauers' 'Quail Hollow' Is Quaint, Cozy

Cemetery-rd Home Blends The Best Of Modern, Antique

I had driven down Cemetery-rd near Dublin-rd many times, and the green mailbox with "Quail Hollow" on it, and the fact that you could scarcely glimpse the house from the road, had piqued my curiosity. The winding lane back to the house, which was obviously set in among a lot of trees at the edge of a ravine or hollow, and the apple trees between the house and road bending down with their load of yellow and red apples, all added up to a quaint and interesting atmosphere.

I was not disappointed when I came to visit the Robert F. J. Bauer home, for from the front door to the ravine in back of the house, it was just that—quaint and interesting.

Mr. and Mrs. Bauer have lived in the home for four years. He is associated with the Franklin County Treasurer's office, and she is a teacher of remedial reading at Starling Junior High School. They formerly lived on Chesterahire-rd, on the Hilltop.

"Quail Hollow" is well-named. Quail are abundant and squirrels, o'possums and raccoons may be seen cavorting in all seasons in the year on the Bauers' five acres of land, three acres of which is woods.

The front door is dark green and has on it an antique brass door-knocker in the shape of an eagle. The dark door contrasts sharply with the buff-colored stucco walls of the exterior.

The entrance hall, with its Colonial paper and asphalt tile floor sets the pace for the rest of the house—Colonial in style, but with very modern touches where they contribute to extreme livability.

The Bauer living room, with green walls, green carpeting and a magnificent window wall facing a lovely ravine, is a cosy, restful room. Books line one wall, with cabinets below. The sofa is slip-covered in green and chairs are either covered in floral print or, are Victorian antique chairs.

In the dining end of the living room the wall is covered with a Calladium-leaf wallpaper and there is mahogany furniture which will seat 10 persons for dinner.

An interesting living room accessory is a parchment lamp shade with the date 1729 inscribed inside it.

A large screened porch opens off the living room and is furnished with the latest of wrought iron furniture. The woods at the back of the home seem to surround one as one sits or reclines on the chaise lounge.

In the dining area of the kitchen bright wallpaper lines the wall, while in the work area walls are painted. Red linoleum covers counter tops and birch cupboards with natural finish have black strap iron hinges. Pennsylvania Dutch accessories are in evidence here.

The master bedroom is furnished with mahogany antique reproduction furniture. The four-poster bed is especially noteworthy as it is covered with a tied string canopy in lacey design. It was made in the West Virginia mountains at the Bauers' order and only recently was finished and installed. The wallpaper is Williamsburg reproduction in a floral pattern called "Chintz".

In the guest room there are green painted walls, with short yellow-green marquisette draperies at the shoulder-height windows. Mrs. Bauer thought the walls were too plain so she cleverly cut out wallpaper roses and pasted them on the walls so that they seem to climb up and arch the windows as though on a trellis.

An unusual color scheme is to be found in the bathroom. Yellow and brown are used in floor and wall coloring, while accessories are green and white. Yellow corduroy draperies hang at the high window and plants in yellow and brown flower pots flourish on the sill.

In the master bedroom one is awed by the intricate hand-tied string canopy on the four-poster antique reproduction bedstead. It was made by mountaineers especially for the Bauers. The quilt draped over the chair for display is 150 years old and is a family heirloom.

IMAGINE A SCHOOL FOR $77.75!

'Darbyhill School' Built In 1838, Recounts Old Book

By Elsie Ireland Weaver

Imagine, if you can, building a school nowadays for $77.75! This sum would just barely buy a schoolroom door, or a window frame. But education-minded residents of what is now Darbydale raised this sum, in 1838, for the construction of a school, which was the first of three to be raised on the same site at the northeast corner of the intersections of Norton and London-Lockbourne-rds.

The school, called "Darbyhill Schoolhouse" and "Pennsylvania School," served the 7th district of Pleasant Township.

Its founding, and the notes on the equipping and hiring of its teacher is recorded in a paper-backed book, the Board of Education meeting minutes, in the possession of Mrs. Parmer Norton, 9175 London - Lockbourne - rd, Darbydale. The homemade book was somehow saved by Mary Norton, aunt of the late Parmer Norton. The notes were written in brown ink and are still very legible.

The school board contracted on the 8th day of September, 1838 with a Thomas Borland (sometimes also referred to as "Thomas Bollan" in the book) to build a school house 18 by 20 feet of hewn white oak logs. (The builder was to furnish the materials himself!) It was to front on the London-Lockbourne-rd, have a lap shingle roof, and have four 12-light windows. It was to be finished by Dec. 1st of the same year.

Presumably the school board had difficulty in collecting funds for the school, as it was not until April, 1839 that the minutes of the board record that Thomas Borland was paid the $77.75 for building the school.

The building must have been completed in the alloted time, as on Dec. 2, 1838, the minutes tell how a James W. Booker was hired to teach.

James W. Booker contracted to teach for three months, five days a week, 22 days a month, for the magnificent sum of $30 a month.

Notes show that the same teacher was hired again on Nov. 1, 1839 for the three-month "school-year", and again in 1840 for a similar period.

Listed as the "Board of Directors," the governing body which we would call a Board of Education now, were the following: Thomas Borland (or Bollan), James Lukens, and, listed as "Treasure" (treasurer), Joseph Morgan; clerk, Jonathan Norton.

Jonathan Norton was the late Parmer Norton's grandfather. Jonathan came in the 1830's from Bucks County, Pa.

Many of the early settlers of "Little Pennsylvania," as Darbydale was known until sometime in the late 1920's, came from either Bucks County, or Montgomery County, in Pa., which explains the name.

By an official enumeration which was taken by the school board of the Darbyhill School, or Pennsylvania School, as it was sometimes known, there were "18 males and 19 females" eligible for the school. Funds for the school were called in the book of minutes "taxes collected for the purpose of building schoolhouse."

Contributions or taxes, which Mrs. Parmer Norton asserts may have been levied according to the amount of land a man owned, varied widely. Some citizens were listed as having given as little as 30 cents, while some gave as much as $30. The median ran about $1.50.

Other interesting notes are to be found in the old notebook. "Paid to James Lukens for work at school house and finding blackboard—$2.90," is one entry. These expenditures are also noted, at the beginning of that first "school year," Dec., 1838: "62 cents for recording the deed," and "94 cents, amount paid for bucket and ladle."

YOU'RE AN EXPERT IF YOU CAN TELL 'EM WITHOUT A 'SCORECARD'

An expert at a football game doesn't need a scorecard to identify the players. He can recognize them by certain characteristics and mannerisms. If you are not an expert, you can purchase a scorecard and tell who the athletes are by numbers.

However, there are no "scorecards" available when you are in the process of purchasing carpeting. You must depend upon the integrity of the dealer and decide whether his reputation warrants the trust you must place in him.

That we have given true value for every dollar spent with us during the 29 years we have been in the rug and carpet business exclusively is proved by the many customers who have returned to make additional purchases, or who have recommended us to others.

Whatever your rug problem may be, we invite you to pay us a visit. Be assured we shall advise you honestly.

A glimpse at the mail box, with the words "Quail Hollow" on it are enough to make anyone curious. At 3800 Cemetery-rd is the home of the Robert F. Bauers, this week's Home of The Week.

The Home of the Week

By Elsie Ireland Weaver

Harley Greene, Photographer

Green rugs, slip-covered sofa and green carpeting blend with the cool green of foliage outside the lovely picture window of the Bauer home, a cozy one-floor plan home. Marquisette draw draperies are rarely drawn for privacy as the window is at the rear of the house facing some three acres of woods. Quail, as well as other small wild animals may be seen most of the seasons of the year.

STAFF Photos

Antique accessories abound in the Bauer's living room. The brass kettle by the fireplace was used by Mr. Bauer's grandparents for making apple butter. The old spool shelf at the right in the entrance hall has on it a collection of miniatures. The fireplace has black Italian marble face and mahogany molding. Charcoal portraits of Mrs. Bauer's great-grandparents hang in oval black frames above the mantel.

Bauers' 'Quail Hollow' Is Quaint, Cozy

Cemetery-rd Home Blends The Best Of Modern, Antique

I had driven down Cemetery-rd near Dublin-rd many times, and the green mailbox with "Quail Hollow" on it, and the fact that you could scarcely glimpse the house from the road, had piqued my curiosity. The winding lane back to the house, which was obviously set in among a lot of trees at the edge of a ravine or hollow, and the apple trees between the house and road bending down with their load of yellow and red apples, all added up to a quaint and interesting atmosphere.

I was not disappointed when I came to visit the Robert F. J. Bauer home, for from the front door to the ravine in back of the house, it was just that—quaint and interesting.

Mr. and Mrs. Bauer have lived in the home for four years. He is associated with the Franklin County Treasurer's office, and she is a teacher of remedial reading at Starling Junior High School. They formerly lived on Chestershire-rd, on the Hilltop.

"Quail Hollow" is well-named. Quail are abundant and squirrels, o'possums and raccoons may be seen cavorting in all seasons in the year on the Bauers' five acres of land, three acres of which is woods.

The front door is dark green and has on it an antique brass door-knocker in the shape of an eagle. The dark door contrasts sharply with the buff-colored stucco walls of the exterior.

The entrance hall, with its Colonial paper and asphalt tile floor sets the pace for the rest of the house—Colonial in style, but with very modern touches where they contribute to extreme livability.

The Bauer living room, with green walls, green carpeting and a magnificent window wall facing a lovely ravine, is a cozy, restful room. Books line one wall, with cabinets below. The sofa is slip-covered in green and chairs are either covered in floral print or, are Victorian antique chairs.

In the dining end of the living room the wall is covered with a Calladium-leaf wallpaper and there is mahogany furniture which will seat 10 persons for dinner.

An interesting living room accessory is a parchment lamp shade with the date 1720 inscribed inside it.

A large screened porch opens off the living room and is furnished with the latest of wrought iron furniture. The woods at the back of the home seem to surround one as one sits or reclines on the chaise lounge.

In the dining area of the kitchen bright wallpaper lines the wall, while in the work area walls are painted. Red linoleum covers counter tops and birch cupboards with natural finish have black strap iron hinges. Pennsylvania Dutch accessories are in evidence here.

The master bedroom is furnished with mahogany antique reproduction furniture. The four-poster bed is especially noteworthy as it is covered with a tied string canopy in lacey design. It was made in the West Virginia mountains at the Bauers' order and only recently was finished and installed. The wallpaper is Williamsburg reproduction in a floral pattern called "Chintz".

In the guest room there are green painted walls, with short yellow-green marquisette draperies at the shoulder-height windows. Mrs. Bauer thought the walls were too plain so she cleverly cut out wallpaper roses and pasted them on the walls so that they seem to climb up and arch the windows as though on a trellis.

An unusual color scheme is to be found in the bathroom. Yellow and brown are used in floor and wall coloring, while accessories are green and white. Yellow corduroy draperies hang at the high window and plants in yellow and brown flower pots flourish on the sill.

In the master bedroom one is awed by the intricate hand-tied string canopy on the four-poster antique reproduction bedstead. It was made by mountaineers especially for the Bauers. The quilt draped over the chair for display is 150 years old and is a family heirloom.

Man his will — but woman has her way.—O. W. Holmes.

YOU'RE AN EXPERT IF YOU CAN TELL 'EM WITHOUT A 'SCORECARD'

An expert at a football game doesn't need a scorecard to identify the players. He can recognize them by certain characteristics and mannerisms. If you are not an expert, you can purchase a scorecard and tell who the athletes are by numbers.

However, there are no "scorecards" available when you are in the process of purchasing carpeting. You must depend upon the integrity of the dealer and decide whether his reputation warrants the trust you must place in him.

That we have given true value for every dollar spent with us during the 20 years we have been in the rug and carpet business exclusively is proved by the many customers who have returned to make additional purchases, or who have recommended us to others.

Whatever your rug problem may be, we invite you to pay us a visit. Be assured we shall advise you honestly.

IMAGINE A SCHOOL FOR $77.75!

'Darbyhill School' Built In 1838, Recounts Old Book

By Elsie Ireland Weaver

Imagine, if you can, building a school nowadays for $77.75! This sum would just barely buy a schoolroom door, or a window frame. But education-minded residents of what is now Darbydale raised this sum, in 1838, for the construction of a school, which was the first of three to be raised on the same site at the northeast corner of the intersections of Norton and London-Lockbourne-rds.

The school, called "Darbyhill Schoolhouse" and "Pennsylvania School," served the 7th district of Pleasant Township.

Its founding, and the notes on the equipping and hiring of its teacher is recorded in a paper-backed book, the Board of Education meeting minutes, in the possession of Mrs. Parmer Norton, 9175 London - Lockbourne - rd, Darbydale. The homemade book was somehow saved by Mary Norton, aunt of the late Parmer Norton. The notes were written in brown ink and are still very legible.

The school board contracted on the 8th day of September, 1838 with a Thomas Borland (sometimes also referred to as "Thomas Bollan" in the book) to build a school house 18 by 20 feet of hewn white oak logs. (The builder was to furnish the materials himself!) It was to front on the London-Lockbourne-rd, have a lap shingle roof, and have four 12-light windows. It was to be finished by Dec. 1st of the same year.

Presumably the schoool board had difficulty in collecting funds for the school, as it was not until April, 1839 that the minutes of the board record that Thomas Borland was paid the $77.75 for building the school.

The building must have been completed in the alloted time, as on Dec. 9, 1838, the minutes tell how a James W. Booker was hired to teach.

James W. Booker contracted to teach for three months, five days a week, 22 days a month, for the magnificent sum of $20 a month.

Notes show that the same teacher was hired again on Nov. 1, 1839 for the three-month "school-year", and again in 1840 for a similar period.

Listed as the "Board of Directors," the governing body which we would call a Board of Education now, were the following: Thomas Borland (or Bollan), James Lukens, and, listed as "Treasure" (treasurer), Joseph Morgan; clerk, Jonathan Norton.

Jonathan Norton was the late Parmer Norton's grandfather. Jonathan came in the 1830's from Bucks County, Pa.

Many of the early settlers of "Little Pennsylvania," as Darbydale was known until sometime in the late 1920's, came from either Bucks County, or Montgomery County, in Pa., which explains the name.

By an official enumeration which was taken by the school board of the Darbyhill School, or Pennsylvania School, as it was sometimes known, there were "18 males and 19 females" eligible for the school. Funds for the school were called in the book of minutes "taxes collected for the purpose of building schoolhouse."

Contributions or taxes, which Mrs. Parmer Norton asserts may have been levied according to the amount of land a man owned, varied widely. Some citizens were listed as having given as little as 30 cents, while some gave as much as $30. The median ran about $1.50.

Other interesting notes are to be found in the old notebook. "Paid to James Lukens for work at school house and finding blackboard—$2.50," is one entry. These expenditures are also noted, at the beginning of that first "school year," Dec., 1838: "62 cents for recording the deed," and "94 cents, amount paid for bucket and ladle."

OUR ATOMIC AGE

Is not unknown to the Bible. God's Word foretells the day when the elements of the earth shall "melt with fervent heat." As science lends its testimony to the truth of the Bible, why not consider this revelation of God in relation to your life? "The Word of the Lord endureth forever." I Peter 1:25

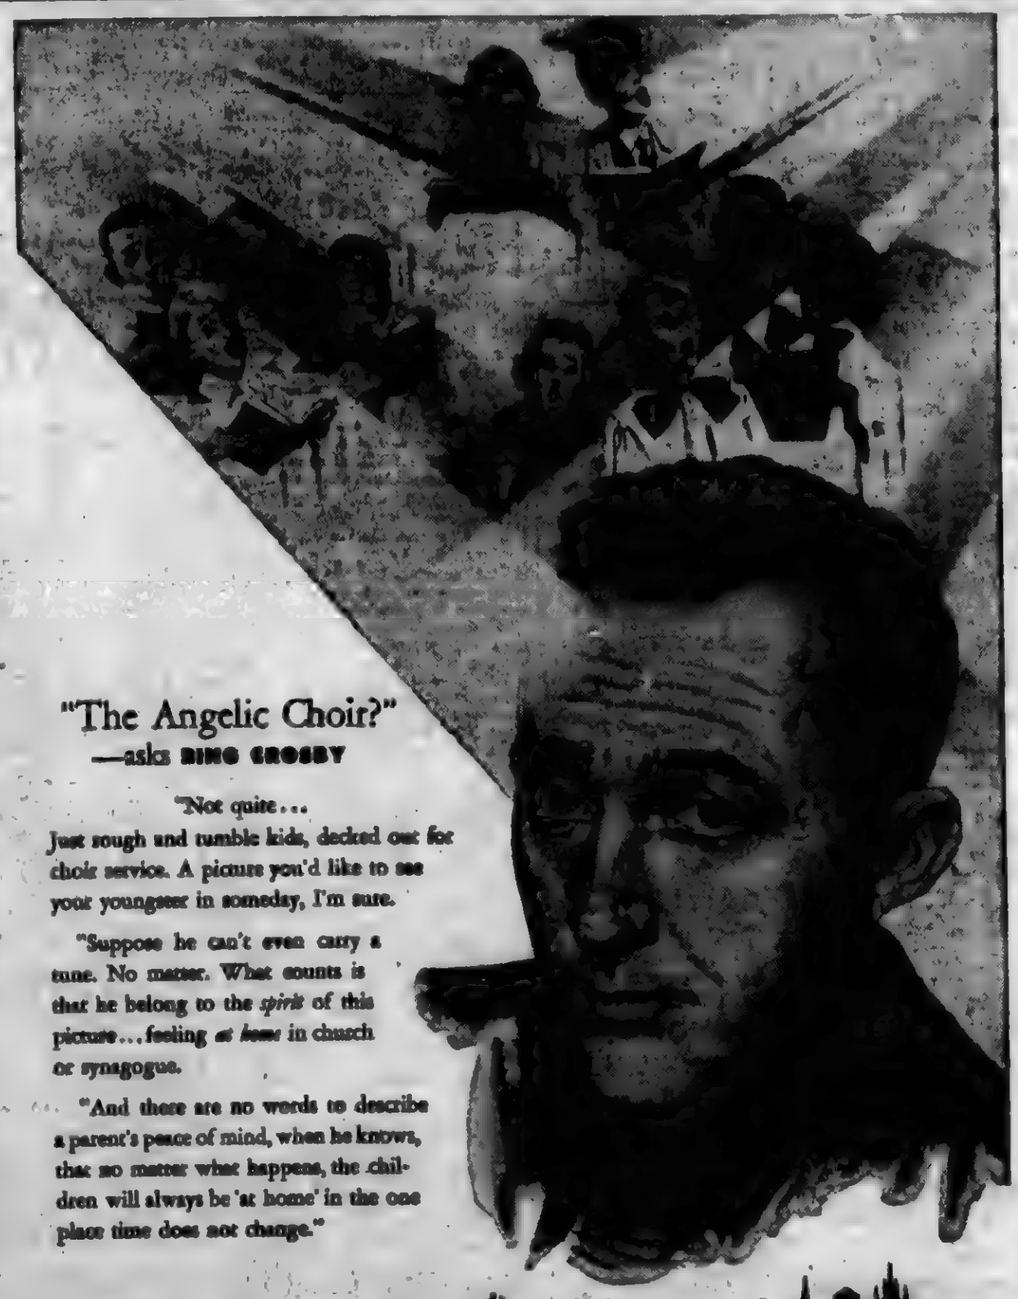
MAKE YOUR DECISION NOW!
ASK YOUR PASTOR
He'll tell you it's wise to plan your family burial needs NOW!

Because people turn to him in time of sorrow, he knows so well that is no time for the bereaved to have to hurriedly select a cemetery lot.



He'll tell you, "The selection of a family burial estate is a family matter that should be agreed to by all after due consideration has been given the subject." The time to do it is now, when weather and other conditions are favorable.

"The Angelic Choir?"
—asks BING CROSBY

"Not quite...
Just rough and tumble kids, decked out for choir service. A picture you'd like to see your youngster in someday, I'm sure.

"Suppose he can't even carry a tune. No matter. What counts is that he belong to the spirit of this picture...feeling at home in church or synagogue.

"And there are no words to describe a parent's peace of mind, when he knows, that no matter what happens, the children will always be 'at home' in the one place time does not change."

Construction Is Progressing On Funeral Home

Construction is moving along rapidly on the Snow Schoedinger Funeral Home at W. Broad at and Westmoor on the Hilltop. Celebrating its 75th anniversary this year the firm will move to the new location as soon as the new building is completed, according to George R. Schoedinger, president. The building will be 46 by 72 feet of one-story brick construction. There will be sufficient parking spaces for 40 cars. Schoedinger said Jack Imler will be manager of the Hilltop home.

Great Books—

They have found that the books deal with basic problems as current and as important today as when they were written: the problems of justice, happiness, immortality, government, and the nature of man.

Regular reading assignments in Great Books groups give participants an opportunity to do the reading they've always planned to do, then exchange ideas with fellow-citizens at the Great Books round-table. Members do the reading, then are asked questions by two co-leaders, volunteers who have been trained in the Socratic art of asking questions. Leaders do not supply the answers — the participants do. This technique makes it absolutely necessary for everyone to "think for himself."

Hilltop Great Books discussion group will meet once every two weeks and will discuss a new assignment at each meeting. Many participants in other Great Books groups have had such a good time during the discussion that when the two-hour session is up they adjourn to a nearby restaurant or home to continue their conversation over coffee and doughnuts.

Founders of the Great Books program believe education doesn't end with high school or college, but that it is a never-ending process. By encouraging adults to continue to educate themselves, they hope Great Books will accomplish what LIFE magazine called "a revolution, the results of which should be an America better fitted to live with itself and the world," Schmidt concluded.

"A philosopher's a guy who doesn't cry over spilled milk, but consoles himself with the thought that it was four-fifths water anyway!"—Mary Mayo.

Hilltop YMCA Needs Your Continued Support

Annual membership enrollment of the Hilltop YMCA gets under way throughout the community this week. The fine response that has been so evident in previous years is anticipated again this year.

Anyone in close touch with the local Y program is well acquainted with how many young people and adults this program is reaching. More and more people are being served.

The Hilltop Y receives a very substantial grant from the Community Chest each year but a goodly amount in addition is necessary to carry out the many activities. This is raised by the membership enrollment.

Many people are not in a position to take advantage of the services offered by the Y but they do support the project by way of membership because of the fine work that is being done.

So when a Y worker calls at your door . . . please realize that he or she is giving of their time for a good cause. You can do your part by responding with a membership. Contributions to the building fund will also be accepted.

Flowers Of The Week

A nice Rosebud Floral bouquet to Mrs. Mack Pemberton and Mrs. Howard Lloyd for their very fine job in lining up workers for the annual Y membership enrollment. They deserve the plaudits of the entire community for the task they assumed and the fine way it has been handled. All the Y workers deserve a lot of credit.

The Gay Philosopher Says: "Swallowing your pride only a while will never give you indigestion."

Hilltop Loses A Very Fine Citizen

The Hilltop has lost a fine citizen in the death of Rev. Jacob Ashburn.

Thoughout the years of his pastorate of Oakley Avenue Baptist Church he has served his people and his community well. His interest and support of every worthwhile project could always be counted on.

This community is a better place in which to live because of his contributions and influence.

Round and About: Until the first of this week a total of $652.17 had been received in the Paul Leighninger Memorial Fund for the Hilltop Y building fund . . . Malcolm McFarland left for services in Uncle Sam's army Tuesday . . . Gladys Lamb and daughter Gayle will model in the style show to be presented by the Pilot Club of Columbus at 8 p. m., Sept. 28 at First Community Church . . . One Record reader called this past week to advise, "I always pick up my Record from the porch on Wednesday evening when I get home from work and go back to the kitchen and enjoy it with a bottle of beer, but when I didn't receive my Record last Wednesday I didn't even enjoy my beer" . . . All of which points to another fact that reading the Record will spirit anyone's day along . . . Reports have it that one of the chiropodists will open offices on the Hilltop in the near future . . . Nick Hurndon of 1529 Walsh-av, another John Hancock man, won a trip to Canyon Inn at Spencer, Ind. . . . Donna Van Dyke, 2712 Eakin-rd, has recently entered the Columbus Beauty School.

'Brain Damaged Children' State School Lecture Topic On Oct. 5

"Brain Damaged Children" will be the topic of Dr. Julius Hoffman, neurologist and psychiatrist, at the Columbus State School on Wednesday, Oct. 5, at 10 a.m., in the conference room of the school administration building.

Rev. Dean Ends Fantastic Trip In S. America

Thirteen thousand, five hundred miles of travel in 49 days, in such a variety of conveyances as gigantic, luxurious Pan-American clippers, canoes, two wheeled oxcarts and jeeps, is a trip that can add up to a memory a mile.

That's how Rev. J. L. Dean, pastor of Hilltop Community Church feels about his seven-week tour of the inter-American area served by the Oriental Missionary Society. His experiences in the interiors of Brazil and Colombia include such fascinating contrasts between the modern and primitive ways of life as washing his own dacron shirts in a nearby river.

He was accompanied on the Colombia portion of his tour by George Goodyhazy, member of Westgate EUB Church and a student at Asbury College. Robert McGilvey, vice-president of the Broadway Savings and Trust Co. in Cleveland, was his companion for the entire trip.

While conducting a service in a primitive hut in Colombia, Rev. Dean recalls with amusement, "A hen laid an egg in the room, then ran about cackling, while a pig kept wandering in and out of the hut.

"The huts were made of cane and grass with dirt floors, and furnished in the crudest manner imaginable, with one-legged chairs." He found to his surprise that the chairs, made with one leg in the front and propped against the

Erroneous School Attendance Area Report Corrected

Following the annexation of Miriam-Demorest and Commonwealth Plaza Additions to Columbus recently, children from these areas were given permission to attend Columbus schools with legal action on the annexations still pending.

In an erroneous report in this paper it was stated that residents of the Rosary Addition would also be eligible to go to Columbus schools.

Youngsters living in the Rosary Addition west of Demorest-rd, will attend the new West Franklin Township School and other county schools. Since this area has not been annexed, students living there may attend Columbus schools only on a tuition basis.

Boundaries of the two areas which have been annexed to the city and whose residents are given the opportunity to attend Columbus schools are:

Miriam - Demorest Addition of 212 acres: from corporation line on the north; south along S. Sylvan; west along Eakin-rd; south along the east side of Demorest-rd, to the north side of Briggs-rd, east to a line from between S. Roys and Chesterahire-rd running north to the city limits, then west to Binns-blvd, and north to the city limits.

Commonwealth Plaza of 14 acres: City corporation line on the north; Res-av on the south; the rear lot lines on the lots on Whitethorne-av and Woodbury-av on the east.

Rev. J. Ashburn Dies After 38 Years As Pastor

Rev. Jacob Ashburn

"My Hilltop," is the way Rev. Jacob Ashburn, Jr., often referred to this section of Columbus. Pastor of Oakley Avenue Baptist Church from March 1917, until his sudden death last Thursday evening, he felt that he and the Hilltop had grown together.

When he was first assigned to Oakland Avenue 38 years ago, the

Church, Lodge And YMCA To Buy Property For Future Buildings

Ten Acres On Valleyview-dr New YMCA Site

Another step toward the realization of a fine new facility for the Hilltop YMCA has been taken with the announcement that the Hilltop Y will purchase over 10 acres just west of Hague-av on Valleyview-dr.

Originally it had been planned to build the new Y on the site now occupied at Harris-av and Broad-st but with the very extensive growth of the community in recent years the Hilltop Y board of management decided that far more space would be needed.

A survey of possible locations was started early this year. The board decided on this location because it allows for ample parking space as well as a very large area to be developed for outdoor recreation.

Present plans call for a cooperative program of the church, lodge and Y in developing the area into an attractive civic and recreation center. It is believed that development of the area can be in such a manner as to provide ample parking space for all functions of the three groups.

It is the hope of the Hilltop Y board that plans for a new Y building to be located on this property can be announced in the very near future. Plans now call for a countywide building campaign in the spring of 1957.

Present indications are that the property at Harris-av and Broad-st now occupied by the Y and the lot to the east will be offered for sale.

Local Community Council Plans For Halloween Party

Bill Burns, president of the Hilltop Community Council, has called the first fall meeting for Thursday, Sept. 22 at the Hilltop YMCA at 8 p.m.

Hilltop Civic Center To Cover Over 23 Acres

Twenty-three acres facing on the west side of N. Hague-av, and the south side of Valleyview-dr, will become a Hilltop civic center sometime in the near future. This was disclosed this week following the favorable vote of the Glenwood Methodist Church congregation Sunday morning when they approved purchase of approximately nine and one-half acres of land for the location of a new Glenwood Church in their long range planning program.

Y Buys 10½ Acres

The Hilltop YMCA has agreed to the purchase of almost 10½ acres of the land and the remaining three acres will be purchased by the Luther B. Turner Lodge.

Property at the corner of Hague and Valleyview will be the site of a church to be built some time in the next seven or eight years. This will extend west on Valley-

A RAY OF HOPE FOR TOMORROW

Volunteer Group May Put Lad Back On Road Of Life

By Herb Belvie

"But a certain Samaritan, as he journeyed, came where he was: and when he saw him, he had compassion on him . . . and went to him . . .and took care of him." The story of the Biblical Good Samaritan is repeated by hundreds of Hilltoppers and West Siders every year as they volunteer their help at the Columbus State School.

Last week Dr. Paul Watkins, 240 S. Brinker-av, a Hilltop physician, called Lloyd P. Ferguson, special services officer of the Columbus State School, and asked him if some help might be found for a young boy at the school who could not walk.

Had Pain In His Hip

The boy, a patient at the school, was admitted to the hospital on the grounds because he complained of a pain in his hip. He was unable to use his leg. Many reasons were given in view of his mental condition for the lack of use of his leg.

Dr. Watkins made a thorough study of the case. The boy stopped walking shortly after his mother died. It left him alone in the world and living in an institution. At first doctors thought his not walking was a psychological reaction by the mentally retarded youth to a situation he was unable to cope with.

Later the lad began walking but dragged his leg instead of using it normally. Then the pain in his hip sent him to the hospital . . .

With all the modern means of medical research at his disposal Dr. Watkins found that there was no hip socket in the boy's right leg. Doctors said that a 'prosthesis" was needed to help him walk normally.

The operation would be similar to the one Arthur Godfrey went through recently having a steel ball inserted in the hip socket.

Harry Fell Leaves McCleery Carpenter Electric Company

Harry E. Fell

Announcement was made recently of the resignation of Harry E. Fell, of 904 Chestershire-rd, as treasurer of the McCleery-Carpenter Electric Co., local electrical distributors. Fell has been in the wholesale electrical business for 37 years.

He has also been active in local Masonic work, particularly in the groups of Masons meeting at West Gate Temple. Fell has joined his son, Donald, in the operation of Fell's Westgate Hardware store, at 3109 W. Broad-st.

Fell has been a Hilltop resident since 1919, except for a short time in Toledo. He and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Fell moved to 85 S. Richardson-av when they came here in 1919, and his parents still live there.

The recent stay of Capt. Jack Morris and his family in France sounds like the prize you might get if you were queen for a day. While stationed in France near Nancy they lived in a 30 room chateau complete with a caretaker and seven maids, a swimming pool, tennis court, green house, four baths, library, billiards room, kitchen, tapestried walls, and they shared the $300 monthly rent with two other couples. One of the maids lived on the premises and received $25 a month.

Can you imagine sitting in their massive living room, which had walls two stories high? At Christmastime in order to have decorations in the right proportion, they needed a 25 foot tree.

Capt. Morris, 33, and a former Hilltopper, lived at 77 S. Terrace-av with his grandparents, the late Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Jones. He attended Highland Avenue Elementary School, West High School, and studied one year at Ohio State University before World War II.

Morris is soon to go to the Pentagon in Washington as an intelligence officer in the directorate of intelligence.

As a boy he showed indications of a progressive spirit. Joining Troop 45 of the Boy Scouts of America in 1936, he ultimately attained the rank of assistant scout master and Eagle Scout, with many merit badges. He was also treasurer of the Columbus Chapter of DeMolay for three years.

Drafted into the army in 1942, Jack went in with the rank of buck private. He served 33 months, being stationed in France and Germany. When discharged in October 1945, he was master sergeant of his tank battalion. He was awarded the Bronze Star and Purple Heart.

He reentered Ohio State University in 1945, and graduated in 1948. While at Ohio State, he was a member of the Reserve Officers Training Corps, and received the John Gordon Battelle Memorial Prize in 1947. It is a yearly award given to the outstanding military student. He graduated with a bachelor of science degree in accounting and a commission in the army.

He had been attending Glenwood Methodist Church since 1936, and became a member in 1940. In 1945, he was elected president of the young adults class. He met Harriett L. Edwards of 672 N.

This Copy Of The Hilltop Record May Be Worth $15

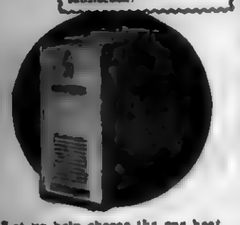
One issue of this week's Hilltop Record is worth $15 in merchandise. Perhaps THIS is the valuable paper, and you may be this week's lucky Hilltopper!

In addition, there are five other copies, each worth $1.

It is all part of the Hilltop Record's plan to make "Confederate" money good as gold on the Hilltop.

Starting last week the Record began imprinting, by hand, six lucky insignia in an ad in six copies of The Hilltop Record. When you find one of these insignia, take your complete copy of the paper to The Hilltop Record office, 2465 W. Broad-st, before Saturday noon and exchange it for "Confederate" dollars.

The "Confederate" $1 bill is actually a facsimile of the genuine Rebel currency and may be redeemed at face value in merchandise of your choice from any merchant advertising in this week's copy of The Hilltop Record.



A few minutes time spent glancing through the ads in this week's Record may mean $15 in merchandise for you and your family. There are no tricks or "gimmicks" of any kind; the insignia are in plain sight, imprinted on the ads.

Since there were no winners last week, the sum of last week's $5 jackpot, the five undiscovered $1 insignia and this week's new $5 addition, makes the jackpot award total $15. In addition, there will also be five $1 insignia.

Look carefully through all the ads in this copy of the paper, and happy hunting!

He joined the Ohio Air National Guard as an intelligence officer in December of 1948 and also began work as an accountant for the Roanie Floyd Steel Co. He worked there until April, 1950, when he joined the Hilltop Business Association as executive secretary.

The Air National Guard unit was called into active duty in September of 1951, so Morris trained at Lockbourne Air Force Base for three months and was then sent to Greenville, N.C.

Bitburg, Germany, was his next assignment in 1952. He served as unit supervisor intelligence officer of his control wing, and had operative control of all military aircraft. His job was to keep track of all Soviet flying activities. He was also stationed in Toul, France, and Landstruhl, Germany.

"As a result of three years effort, we derived a system of intelligence reporting of aircraft and rapidly centralized that knowledge and arrived at a decision of what action should be taken on the matter," Capt. Morris said.

Mrs. Morris enjoyed the traveling connected with air force life in Europe. The Morrises took week-end trips to the Alps, Bavaria, South Germany, Austria, tulip festivals in Holland, Luxembourg and Paris.

Jack said that he was really surprised at the recovery and progress going on all over Europe, and especially in Germany. He said that there are as many new housing developments in Germany as there are on the outskirts of Columbus.

The Morrises are staying with Jack's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph McColley, of 456 N. Hague-av. The McColleys recently moved there from the S. Terrace-av address.

Immediately west of the church property will be the YMCA location extending west on Valleyview about 372 feet. Luther B. Turner Lodge will have about 251 feet frontage on Valleyview-dr.

The property is now owned by Mrs. Helen Kitzmiller of Hudson, O., daughter of the late Charles W. Haldy. This has been known for years as the Haldy farm. The deal is scheduled to be closed Nov. 1. John Brown is attorney for the church.

On Church Planning Committee

Planning committee from Glenwood Church responsible for the selection of this location was headed up by C. H. Campbell and included Noble L. Allen, Jack Burr, H. C. Keefer, Orville Linebrink, Harvey Postlewait, M. W. Seiller, and Robert Tong.

All members of the Hilltop Y board of management participated in the selection of the Y property. The building committee is headed by H. G. Deems.

Members of the board of trustees of Luther B. Turner Lodge represented that group. Included were Herman E. Eisele, Jack Beyer, Cranston Williams, Jack Burr, Kenneth Romosier, Ivan Cotterill, and Ralph Exman.

Rev. Joseph Shellhaas of Glenwood Church pointed out that this long range planning program will provide for the location of a church facility in this area as the community continues its expansion westward and as the number of Methodist families increases in this area.

Moving pullets from the range to laying house is a shock to the birds ,so they should be moved with as little disturbance as possible.

The fly-free dates for seeding wheat in Ohio range from Sept. 22 in the extreme northern counties to Oct. 6 in Lawrence County.

wall for support, were quite satisfactory.

He lived in the natives' huts, ate their meals of rice, black beans and spaghetti flavored with chicken or beef and did his own laundry in the nearby river.

It was in Colombia that his party of nine, travelling down the Magdalena river in a crude, 30-foot dugout canoe, was caught in a sudden, violent storm with thunder, lightning and torrents of rain.

Searched for Weapons

It was also in Colombia that he stepped from a commercial river launch to find a group of native policemen waiting. One of the policemen suddenly stepped up to Rev. Dean and with much chattering in Spanish, began a business-like and thorough job of searching him.

The interpreter learned that an uprising had occurred the week before in the capital of Bogota, and that the authorities were on the alert fearing the trouble might spread and were searching for concealed weapons.

Rev. Dean's comment on the fact that he was the only person to be searched was, "I guess they thought I looked like a guerilla."

His stay in Ecuador was only for six days and a full schedule prevented him from seeing any of the country outside of Guayaquil.

"Voice of the Andes"

He was most impressed with his visit to the famous radio station, HCJB, the "Voice of the Andes." This religious radio station, for many years, has broadcast regularly to every part of the world, even into Russia. Rev. Dean found some of the letters, smuggled out of Russia in response to the broadcasts, most inspiring.

It was in Quito, near the radio station, that he stood right on the equator, the very line separating the northern hemisphere from the southern hemisphere.

"Brazil is moving westward, much as our own country was developed, and there are many pioneers taming that country in the same way our own West was settled.

"Travel on that western frontier is by horseback and two-wheeled oxcart, and our jeep traveled places where no car had ever been before.

Rev. Dean also found that a catastrophe to Brazil's coffee crop can mean much more than a few cents increase in the price of coffee. He described the reasult of the July freeze this year, as "Hundreds upon hundreds of acres of absolutely barren land, completely stark and bare. Such a situation means to those people complete loss of their livelihood."

He also remarked, that some of the people of Brazil look with a great deal of amusement on newspaper accounts of United Nations' quibbling on the problems of making the peoples of the world into "one race." He says, "There are many, many nationalities, all races and colors in Brazil and found that they live together in harmony, intermarry freely and are actually one race."

Rev. Dean sums up his experiences with "The trip was more valuable to me than a year's college education. I wouldn't take anything in the world for those experiences but, still, I'm afraid I wouldn't care to go through some of them again."

Dear Mr. Editor:

Permit me to call to the attention of the citizens of the Hilltop several important facts concerning planning of traffic carrying streets on the Hilltop alone.

How many of us realize that we have just ONE street that goes anywhere, on the Hilltop (West Broad)? The rest of our streets to and from the center of the city, either end up in the river or are dumped into other already overloaded streets, going east.

Going west, it's the same sad story. They either end up in a corn field, a pasture, a new addition or wander back to Broad-st over some narrow side street designed for horse and buggy traffic.

You may well ask, whose fault is it that this condition exists and we must conclude that many factors enter into the original mess, and that no long range plans have ever been made to avoid making the same mistakes over again.

Here is a sample: Our county officials permit the building of new additions at the edge of the city, with no provisions demanded by our officials to provide space, through these new additions, to permit present city streets, such as W. Mound, Sullivant and others being extended through such housing developments, causing bottlenecks and ending such streets where they run into new additions.

Next, our city fathers and county officials have refused to work together on this problem, each being extremely jealous of his or her jurisdiction. As an example, take the sanitary sewer problem in the county. The county officials assure groups seeking annexation to Columbus, "We can furnish you all the things the city can." So when a public school is erected on a county site, the county can't or won't furnish sanitary sewers. They pass the buck to the city and it becomes a law case and a scandal.

The same identical condition exists in traffic carrying streets that end in the county. The city and county officials failed to provide a long range plan that would assure the public of through streets that can be lengthened through new communities, such as those that now block off Mound-st west.

Oh sure, they plan on a winding, narrow street through these new additions, as a continuation of W. Mound-st, but these are not constructed to carry through traffic but just the people who live there.

Lincoln Village is just another example. West Broad again carries an additional load, of G.M., Westinghouse and now a complete new city, as well as national, out of state traffic. The question: Are we to remain a two street town (Broad and High) or will we be permitted to become a real city, by, not through ways, fancy cloverleafs, but by sensible planning and extension of existing streets that are now dead ended in some corn field or the Scioto River?

Dear Mr. Editor:

Some one said, "Tell me what your thoughts are and I will tell you what you are."

If one thinks noble thoughts, it reflects the inner man as being after God's heart.

God created man in his image. God is love. Therefore to reflect the image of God, man's mind must be filled with pure and noble thoughts.

When the great teacher of teachers was on earth, He gave us this commandment, "Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself."

Malice, hatred, anger are the antipathy of love.

If man's heart is filled with evil thoughts, he classifies himself on a level with God's adversary.

We are admonished in the Bible to beware of false prophets that come among us in sheep's clothing and that we can recognize them by the fruit they bear. Do men gather figs of thistles or grapes from thorns.

By this yardstick people recognize great and good men and revere them.

Our nation has been blessed by such men who were prominent as executives in the political field.

Many of these outstanding American citizens had to deal with a legislative body of the opposite party of the executive political faith.

When such situations exist, the legislative body will do everything in its power to discredit the executive and even go to the extreme of attempting to besmirch his good name.

Hoover faced such a situation, but today he is recognized as one of our great statesmen and respected by high-minded men of both parties.

Our president has been viciously attacked by his enemies but he ignores the things that are said and pursues the even tenor of his duty.

In his last campaign our governor was bitterly attacked by his political opponent, but he is serving his fifth term.

A really great man lives above the fog in public duty and in his thinking. That is why they are recognized as really big men.

May I close this article by relating an incident that came under my observation.

A prominent citizen was a candidate for county office. A little fellow politically was working against the candidate. When he heard about him, the candidate walked up to the little fellow and said, "I've been told that you are electioneering against me so here is a little change. I want you to continue for you are making me votes instead of causing me to lose votes."

'Nuff said.

SUMMER WITHOUT END
The radio, like a spider, dark in the dusky room, spins a silver web of music that trembles in the gloom, tenuous and tender,
hung with reflected rain.
My heart, the fly, is tangled and wrapped away from pain.
Outside the rainy window
the chilly roses blend;
here, it is always summer,
summer without end.

Writers who would have us believe that old-fashioned hospitality went out with the gas lights and kitchen pump, should have been with the Weakleys Sunday. With all due respect to Indiana, I can't call what we enjoyed "Indiana hospitality," because this family would be hospitable in Timbuktu. A friend in Columbus had asked if he would stop to say Hello to the family as we passed through Hartford City. That is all we intended to do, but the whole family insisted on our staying for dinner. The three ladies of the family combined their great culinary talents and the result was truly something. If a table ever groaned with food, theirs did. We were made to feel so very welcome. They not only took us in and fed us to the bursting point, but gave us a cherry pie to take along. Now my better 9/10 wants me to take cooking lessons, but I never could fry chicken like that, or roast pork either.

On our way to Indiana we stopped off to see the old fort at Fort Recovery. It was raining but we enjoyed it anyway. In Indiana there are signs along the highways warning motorists they'll be fined $100 if they throw rubbish along the highways. That should work in this state for we didn't see any trash any place.

From somewhere—The young son of the house, gazing out through the window at the rain, turned to his mother and asked, "Mummy, why does it rain?" "To make things grow," she replied. "To give us flowers and apples and pears." "Then why," he wanted to know, "does it rain on the pavement?" . . . At a certain naval base a WAVE lieutenant dropped her handkerchief, which was promptly picked up by a sailor with a smiling: "You dropped this, toots, sir" . . . Couldn't Explain Problem

Without the mental capacity to explain his trouble the boy suffered untold torture and discomforts. The problem was probably the result of an old injury, Dr. Watkins explained.

The next step presented a major problem. Dr. Paul Miller, an orthopedic surgeon offered to do the operation for the cost of the prosthesis. But where was the money going to come from?

As many problems which arise everyday at the state school, the money problem was placed in the lap of Ferguson.

Within 20 minutes after given this problem Mrs. L. W. Jackson, president of Chapter ARC (aid for retarded children) called Ferguson and said since completing a project recently, they now had $75 available to get busy on another project.

"I was startled," said Ferguson, "that was the exact cost of the operation needed by the boy here."

Ferguson explained the situation to Mrs. Jackson and she readily accepted the opportunity to help the boy.

There are many members of ARC who live on the Hilltop and West Side, Ferguson explained. They are a very active group helping at the school, he said.

Operation Forthcoming

Now it only remains to set up the time for the operation and the boy can go on into a training program to fit him for an active place in society. The lad will be able to use his leg and it may be beneficial in more than just one way in his development, Ferguson pointed out.

This story happened just yesterday. Throughout the year at least 20 Hilltop and West Side organizations have offered their hands, hearts and money in service to the mentally retarded at the state school.

Some of the groups cited at the May 8 volunteer recognition program during Mental Health Week at the state school include: Parents Volunteer Association, Mrs. Robert J. Nuessle; St. Aloysius Council of Catholic Charities, Mrs. Paul Vogelpohl; Sisters of Mercy, Holy Family Church, Reverend Mother Superior; St. Agnes Church Women, Nancy Russell; Highland Avenue Friends Church, Mrs. J. A. Tippin; Glenwood Church, Mrs. Bertha Pressler; Burgess Avenue Church of Christ, Mrs. Jack Reagan; Charter ARC, Mrs. L. W. Jackson; Westgate EUB, WSCS, Mrs. Geneva Suver; Avondale WSWS, Mrs. Donelda Stierhoff; Avondale EUB Church, Mrs. Frank Taylor; Hope Memorial Church, Mrs. Herton Ryan; Oakley Avenue Baptist Church, Mrs. Robert Beatty; Gooding Amusement Co., Inc., F. E. Gooding; Columbus Public Library Hilltop Branch; Chicago Avenue EUB Church, Mrs. Ralph Vickers; Hilltop Lions Club; and West High School Girls Athletic Club, plus many others.

These people and their organizations have been of inestimable help to the school, Ferguson stated. They have helped public education in handling 120 speaking engagements to approximately 3,000 people; going on 182 tours involving 18,000 visitors; and making numerous television and radio programs to publicize mental health and the state school.

16,000 Hours Of Service

Personal service is perhaps one of the major factors of service given by these west side people. Along with other Columbus and Ohio service groups, there were 16,000 hours of volunteer work for the school in 1954.

In no small way did this volun-

Hilltop YMCA Holds Residential Membership Enrollment Kick-Off

Approximately 200 workers and division chairmen held their residential membership enrollment kick-off Monday 6 p.m. at Hope Memorial Presbyterian Church. Harry Dailey, general chairman of the Hilltop YMCA membership enrollment presided at this meeting and introduced Rev. A. J. Weld, host pastor who gave the invocation.

Edgar Planck, the assistant general chairman of the enrollment was introduced along with other guests, Ray F. Wunderlich, general chairman of the Columbus city wide YMCA membership enrollment, C. J. Dyer, executive of the Columbus YMCA, C. Carlton Hartley, member of the Hilltop YMCA Board of Management, Miss Jane Owen, director of the Hilltop YWCA.

Dailey emphasized the great need for a membership enrollment effort at this time of the year and pledged his personal support and the support of his co-workers in making this enrollment a success. Dailey stated that through the efforts of the workers personally the YMCA will have a wonderful opportunity in telling and promoting the program of the Hilltop YMCA.

The guest speaker of the evening was Dr. Gene Stone, secretary of the International Christian Endeaver.

General Chairman Dailey introduced the residential division co-chairmen Mrs. Mack Pemberton and Mrs. Howard Lloyd, in turn Mrs. Pemberton introduced her section chairmen, Section A, Mrs. Richard DeWitt; Section B, Mrs. Richard Hill; Section C, Mrs. Dorothy Hutchinson; Section D, Mrs. Robert Wilson; Section J, Mrs. Terry Sanders. Mrs. Lloyd introduced the following section chairman, Section E, Mrs. Harry Grashel; Section F, Mrs. Virgil Furry; Section E, Mrs. Rose Trigg; Section H, Mrs. Glenn Johnston; Section K, Mrs. Karl Kruckeberg.

John Roman, member of the YMCA Board of Management instructed the workers as to their basic responsibility in securing general information and the procedure in contacting all prospective members. Immediately following this instructions period the section chairmen and their workers adjourned to separate meeting rooms at which time they received their prospect cards and additional instructions.

The figures given here represent only a portion of what has been done by groups and individuals during the past three years. They do not include the fact that at each Christmas the school has received 8,000 gifts for its patients, allowing three gifts for each patient along with what the school normally provides, Ferguson pointed out.

During the past three years 11 TV sets have been given and many record players and radios have been provided for the patients by volunteer groups, he said. Two fully equipped playgrounds and three fenced-in play areas were given by volunteers, the service officer said.

Bond Issue Will Help School

Ferguson opened a phamplet and pointed to several factors which no amount of volunteer help will conquer . . . mental hospitals are overcrowded and getting more so every year.

The only salvation for this is to get some benefit from the $150,000,000 bond issue to finance construction of needed mental hospital facilities and other capital improvements.

According to the phamplet it would take $140,000,000 to bring mental and penal facilities in Ohio up to normal standards. This includes replacing or remodeling "mental hospitals built over a hundred years ago (which) are still in use in Ohio."

Due to recent state legislation, the Columbus Psychiatric Clinic at The Columbus State Hospital, has become a reality. Anyone with an emotional problem may take advantage of this treatment. Among well known staff members are Dr. O'Connell, psychiatrist; Dr. J. M. Kolarik, physiologist and former member of the faculty at the University of Pittsburg and Dr. James Fries, social worker, and graduate of the University of Washington. Both Dr. Kolarik and Dr. Fries with their families are new residents of the Hilltop.

Ferguson concluded by saying, "The volunteer program has given new hope to hospital and school employees and it has given a bright tomorrow for many who had lost all hope for the future."

Cowboys Lasso Marion Harding In Season's Opener 13-6

Watkins 47-yard Punt Return Is Game Climax

By Bill Haire

Taking advantage of six Marion Harding fumbles, West High's Cowboys corralled the Presidents 13-6 before a near-capacity Mother's Night crowd at Magly Field last Friday. It was the seasons opener for both teams.

Just as last week coach Mack Pemberton was distressed by the showing of his defense in the Arlington prevue, this week his cause for concern will probably be the poor showing of his offense which was able to gain but 83 yards (all on the ground) against the Prexies. The game-saving factor was the work of his now-solid defense spearheaded by Gary Nebinger and Dave Randall.

Although Marion was able to punch out 207 yards (181 rushing, 26 passing), the Cowboys always stiffened their defense when the chips were down.

The Prexies uncovered one glaring weakness however, in the Hilltoppers 5-4-2 defense as they swept West's ends for 120 yards.

Cowboys Give Lightening Openings

The Cowboys scored with lightning-like suddeness in the opening stanza as, on the second play of the game, Nebinger picked off a Harding aerial on the Prexies 42 yard line and returned it to the 12. After two running plays netted four yards, Cowboy quarterback Denhis McDonald started to the left on the split-T option play, cut off his left end, and sped the remaining nine yards untouched for the score. The clock showed only 1:45 gone as Dick Furry's extra point attempt was blocked.

Real Battle Until . . .

The two teams battled each other back and forth until midway in the second period when an offside penalty nullified a Marion punt and forced the Prexies to boot again and subsequently provided the most spectacular play of the evening.

Limelighter George Watkins received the kick on the Harding 47 and swung to the east sideline, was sprung loose by a key block by Nebinger, and raced on into the end zone with 4:41 left to play in the half. This time Furry's kick split the uprights and the Broncos led 13-6.

In the second half the locals Dave Randall broke through to block a Harding punt with Cowboy end Ralph Tittle recovering on the Prexies 34 yard stripe. Three plays later West was on Marions 23 yard line where a 15-yard holding penalty was levied against them, stopping the march.

The last quarter opened with West in possession of the pigskin, but the Cowboys were unable to move and Bill Spratley kicked 30 yards to the Harding 14.

Coach Gordon Larson's charges then put together their only scoring drive of the evening.

Halfback Harold Jones skirted West's ends on runs of 42 and 10 yards as Marion drove to the Cowboys 30 yard mark. Dick Wilson got behind Wests pass defenders and Marlow Barrett pitched 26 yards to him on the Broncos four. Here it looked like the Cowboys might hold as Nebinger nailed Jones for a six yard loss. On the next play, however, fullback Tex Burns tore up the middle from the 10 to rack up the score. Coy's placement went wide to the left as the score stood at 13-6 with 5:34 remaining in the game.

The Cowboys took the ensuing kick-off and merely ate up the remaining time with running plays as they chalked up their initial victory of the season.

West's snappy marching band delighted the Mother's Night patrons with an appropriate "Salute to Mother" as they formed a few of the sights mother may have seen as a little girl as she strolled through the park. Under the direction of Clair Barnard the band formed a see-saw, an ice cream cone, a sliding board (with the majorettes sliding down), and ending up with a large merry-go-round . . . Statistics-wise, Marion gave the Cowboys somewhat of a trimming as they scored 7 first downs to the locals 8. West was penalized 35 yards and Marion 20. Marion also had the evenings only completed aerial, that 26-yarder that set up their touchdown. The Cowboys were superior in the fumble department though as Marion fumbled six times with the locals pouncing on three of them. West fumbled four times but recovered all of them . . . Halfback Dave Randall was Wests leading ground gainer as he marked up 43 yards in nine tries. Harold Jones led Harding with 64 yards in six carries . . . Dennis McDonald, who has been battling seniors Bill Spratley and Ray Williams for the quarterback post stepped into the job Friday as the latter two were hobbled with injuries and did a good job displaying excellent coolness under fire. He's a junior . . . Center and punter Bob Courtney had a muscle tighten up on him while punting in the third quarter Friday, but the injury is not serious and he won't miss any action . . . The Cowboy forces were weakened somewhat last week as ace halfback Bob Conley quit the squad to work after school. Also apparently giving up the sport is [illegible] sophomore quarterback Ken Clapsaddle as he has been absent from the last few practice sessions . . . The Broncos travel to Upper Arlington this Friday to do battle with the Golden Bears, members of the Central Buckeye League. The Bears dropped their opener last week to South 12-7 . . . Neither team was penalized during the entire first quarter Friday but Marion suffered two early in the second period. (Their only penalties of the game. The Cowboys were penalized four times.)

Franklin Township Trustees and the three fire companies will hold formal dedication of their new Fire Headquarters Building at 4700 Sullivant-av on Sunday afternoon, Oct. 16, it was announced this week.

All residents of the area are being invited to attend the open house as well as public officials throughout Franklin County.

Built at a cost of $36,997, the new headquarters building was designed to house up to six fire and emergency vehicles and provide living quarters for eight men. It has been in use on a limited basis since early July.

A committee of volunteer firemen and township officials held its first meeting last week to start drafting plans for the occasion. Details of the program will be announced later.

Complete Work On Route 40 By Fall

Re-construction of Highway 40 between Columbus and West Jefferson should be completed soon, according to George Alfdorf, head engineer for Division 6 out of Delaware of the State Highway Department.

Part of the route is being resurfaced for 1.829 miles because of bad holes and joints pumping out, Alfdorf said.

The entire job is expected to be completed by winter, Alfdorf stated with completion date set at Nov. 30, 1955.

Mifflin Township Was Established Back In 1799

By Gilbert F. Dodds

Before recent annexations took place, Mifflin Township was one of the original county surveyed townships of five miles square designated as township number one, range 17 of the United States Military Lands.

The first settlement of this township was made about 1799 by emigrants from Pennsylvania. Some of the first settlers included Frederick Agler, Matthias Ridenour, Daniel Turney, George Baughman, William Simmons and William Read, who later became Judge Read. Judge Read was probably the first resident of Mifflin township. He purchased several hundred acres of land in the southwest part of the township and lived near the present location of St. Mary's Seminary. Since all the early settlers were from Pennsylvania they gave their Ohio settlement the name of their governor—Mifflin.

Two principal streams flow through Mifflin Township from north to south—Alum and Walnut Creeks. The bottom lands of these streams were unusually fertile, while the uplands were composed of a fertile soil generally known as the "Yellow Oak soil" which originally bore a heavy growth of timber, largely of the oak variety. This fact accounted for the large number of saw mills that made an early appearance in the township. Ebenezer Dean built a saw mill on Alum Creek, which he ran for a number of years and in which was sawed a vast amount of lumber used in building the houses in Columbus. Judge Christian Heyl was at one time owner of this mill, the first in Mifflin Township. James Park also built a saw mill on Alum Creek about a mile upstream from Dean's Mill. A settlement grew up around Park's Mill which soon became a post office of the same name. There were several other mills later established which continued until all the timber was cut and sawed.

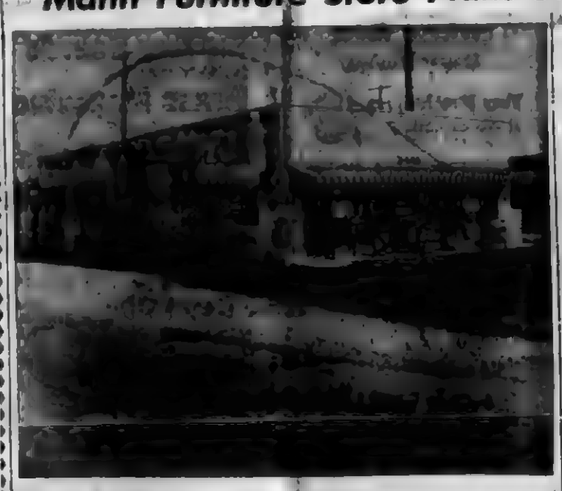
The 1955 Columbus Day parade, co-sponsored by the Franklin County Historical Society in association with Columbus business and industry, will take place Wednesday, Oct. 12, beginning at 8:30 p.m. The parade will march down E. Broad-st, starting at Washington-av, and stop at city hall. Here will be dedication of a 20-foot Christopher Columbus statue, a gift of the City of Genoa, Italy. Richard Nixon, vice-president of the United States, will participate in the dedication ceremonies along with Genoa's deputy mayor, Giuseppe De Andre, and city officials of Columbus. The parade will include 14 colorful floats sponsored by Columbus business and industries.

Forest W. Fox, of 272 Lockner-av, is building a one story steel building.

'It Tastes Mighty Good, Mom'



Sampling the merchandise, and finding it very good, is Jean Frey, daughter of Mrs. Paul Frey, 42 S. Huron-av. The cake is being prepared for the sale to be conducted by the West District Camp Fire leaders on Saturday, Sept. 24, at Swan Cleaners, W. Broad-st at Hague-av. There will also be homemade noodles and popcorn balls. Proceeds will be used for craft material, equipment and miscellaneous expenses. STAFF Photo

Garden Club Holds Exhibit

Green thumbs were very much in evidence as judges reviewed the colorful exhibit held at Westgate School! This annual display was the culmination of the Columbus Public School Garden Club program which is practiced throughout the city schools. Flowers, fruits, vegetables and specialties raised during the summer by Westgate pupils complemented the school's halls. Garden club director at Westgate School is Avale McKinley, a member of the staff. Shown left to right are the judges, Mrs. W. D. Xander, 226 S. Westgate; Mrs. L. E. Saunders, 135 Bowhaven-av; Mrs. W. Eureka Park Estates Will Open Soon

Construction is progressing so rapidly on the Hilltop's newest housing development, the Eureka Park Estates, that it should be ready for open house in the next two or three weeks, according to Thomas Safford, vice-president of the Eureka Construction Company, the builders of the project.

The 200 home project, when finished, will cost around $8,500,000. It is located east of Brookshire Park at Eakin, Wayne, and Richardson-ave.

President of the Eureka Company is Harold K. Luft, 1408 E. Livingston-av. James R. Bolin, 948 S. Richardson-av is secretary-treasurer.

The 47-acre tract of land is a very desirable purchase, said Safford. It is a flat level field close to transportation, schools and shopping areas. It is very close to downtown, he pointed out.

The first home is only one block from the bus line. This is very unusual as it is more than likely in most subdivisions that the first home is built way back, he said.

Project homes include a wide variety of homes, no boxes, but excellent houses with basements and full air conditioning, Safford asserted.

There will be three-bedroom, ranch-type homes, featured at the price range of from $12,000 to $18,000.

The development will be handled by a group of Columbus builders. All sales will be handled by the Safford Realty Co., 1894 Sullivant-av. Stockholders of the new corporation include Luft, Bolin, Safford, L. R. Green, 879 E. Livingston-av, and Louis Rinelli, 881 Harrison-av.

Rev. William F. Maloney, pastor of St. Aloysius emphasized that Protestants attending the meetings would not be obligated to join the Catholic Church.

Your Market Basket

LET'S GO SHOPPING for squash, new potatoes, grapes, plums, bacon, and sausage.

Fall and winter varieties of squash are making their appearance and soon you will find them in good supply. Choose your favorite variety—butternut, acorn, buttercup, turban, golden delicious or hubbard.

A good quality squash is fresh, fairly heavy for its size, free from blemishes and has a good green stem. Usually squash is old if the stem is dry, blackened or shriveled.

Fall and winter squash may be stored for two to six months in a cool dry place. They keep best at a temperature of about 50 to 55 degrees Fahrenheit and a relative humidity of 70-75 per cent.

Squash are high in food value and low in calories—only about 147 calories per pound. Like most yellow vegetables, squash is high in Vitamin A. One-half cup of cooked squash will supply the average person with all his daily requirement of this vitamin. In addition, squash contains Vitamin B, some niacin, phosphorus and a little iron.

When cooking squash—go easy. Cook them just enough to bring out their best flavor, using little or no water during the cooking period. Squash should steam tender in 35-40 minutes. Allow 40-60 minutes for baking but only three to four minutes in a pressure sauce pan.

For a real treat on a cool fall day serve baked squash with sausage. When squash is about tender, sprinkle it with brown sugar or honey. Place a sausage cake, which has been previously browned in skillet, on each serving of squash. Continue cooking until squash is tender. Tossed salad, apple pie and milk will complete your menu.

Cake-Baking Contest Offers Many Prizes

"Cakes for Charity," a cake-baking and decorating contest sponsored by General Mills, Inc., will be a part of the Homemakers' Festival to be held at the new Veterans' Memorial Building, Sept 28 through Oct. 2.

Contest entry blanks are available now to contestants at all grocery stores. Women or men contestants need only bake their favorite cake and bring it with an entry blank to the festival on Sept. 29. All cakes will be sold by World Neighbors on the premises.

Cakes will be first judged by a group of experts on decorative appeal. It is suggested that cakes be decorated on a "world neighbors" theme.

In the first day's competition, three cakes will be judged winners and their creators will then bake the cakes before an audience on the stage of the Veterans' Memorial as part of the Friday competition. Four finalists will be chosen to participate in the bake-off for the grand prize on Saturday.

Prizes include an electric range, electric skillet, mixer, roaster, rotisserie, electric blanket, deep fat fryer, waffle baker and an automatic coffeemaker.

Other features of the festival include the annual all-electric cooking school, a fashion show and laundry clinic, exhibits of modern electric living, and color television in operation.

Homemakers' Festival is sponsored by electric appliance distributors of Columbus and the Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric Company. Tickets are available at all electric appliance dealers' stores.

OFF THE RECORD

If the failures of your past hang heavy over you, let God take them off the record. Jesus died so that the dark record of past failures could be forgiven and blotted out. "Christ . . . blotting out the handwriting . . . that was against us . . . nailing it to His cross." Colossians 2:11,14

It Takes More Than LUCK!
. . . to make your advertising pay off at the cash register!
Advertising success is almost always a matter of good management rather than of "good luck." The advertiser who consistently gets the best results, persistently follows this simple formula: (1) Advertise the right merchandise at the right price, (2) Time your advertising to suit the buying habits of your market, (3) Place your advertising where it will have the best chance of being seen by the greatest number of those who are ready to buy. Capitalize on the fact that when people are about to make a purchase, they usually turn to the advertising column of this newspaper for information that will help them buy wisely and well. Give them this information then and there . . . and watch your sales go up. If you call this "luck," fortunately it's the kind you can make for yourself!
The increasing newspaper ad lineage figures prove that more and more advertisers are realizing that the printed word delivered at home in your weekly paper makes a more lasting impression on the reader and it is more economical for the advertiser because it pays off.

Scouter 16 Years To Receive Key In Recognition

Frank L. Haley

Frank L. Haley is the District Chairman of Camping and Outdoors Activities for the Southwest District this year. He is also chairman of the troop committee for Troop 79 of the Burgess Avenue EUB Church and Merit Badge Counsellor. These are but three of the many positions he has successfully held in his 16 years of Scouting.

Haley will receive his Scouters Key at the Scouters Convention being held at Capital University next Sunday, at which time Mrs. Haley will be awarded the Scouters Award.

Haley and his wife, Phyllis and son Jerry Lee live at 108 S. Ogden-av. He is a freight conductor for the New York Central Railroad.

Serving on Haley's special activities committee this year will be Ralph Duncan, Harold Arnold and Robert Lockard.

Among the many awards Haley holds, 52 in all, is the coveted Eagle Scout Award. A true Scouting family, his son, Jerry, has completed three years as a Cub Scout with Pack 56 and is now a Scout with Troop 79. Mrs. Haley has completed three years as den mother with Pack 56 and is now a member of the faculty for the Scouters Training in the Southwest District.

Haley served two terms in the US Army, 18 months overseas during World War II, and one of the things he noticed was the outstanding ability of all former scouts in taking care of themselves under any conditions. They were utilizing the Scout Slogan "Be Prepared." These men were called upon time and again to instruct their fellow soldiers in pitching tents, outdoor cooking, fire building and the many other outdoor skills learned in Scouting.

Anyone interested in participating in the great Scout Movement may contact Haley or call Boy Scout Headquarters at FE. 5614.

One of the first activities planned by Haley is the South West District Camporee at Camp Pine in Fayette County on Oct. 1-2.

Civil Defense is Theme Of West PTA Meeting

West Junior-Senior High School PTA will hold its first meeting of the school year on Thursday, Sept. 29 at 7:30 p. m. in the school auditorium.

A "Canteen" serving doughnuts and coffee will follow the meeting. Hospitality committee will include Mrs. Carl Kuntz, Mrs. Harold Howe and Mrs. [redacted] Lloyd.

Second Graders Visit Record; Get Out Own Paper

Second grade students of Room 7, Westgate School, toured the Hartley Printing and Publishing Co. plant on Thursday, Sept. 15. After seeing the presses running and the linotypes in action, the children went back to school and put out their own three-pager.

The front page read "Our Trip To The Hilltop Record."

"Yesterday we went to The Hilltop Record. We saw a big machine printing papers. There was a big roll of plain paper that went round and round. It went over a metal roller with ink and letters on it. Then it came out folded and cut. We saw next Friday's football program for West High. It had been printed by a small machine that picked up sheets of paper. The paper went through the machine and was printed. We saw the linotype machines. The man typed the things that would be in the newspaper. Pieces of metal with the letters came down. We enjoyed the trip!"

On page two was a selection from their reader, while page three contained a notice concerning the children bringing 25c for their "Weekly Reader."

Items about the birthdays of two fellow scholars and various pieces of art work also decorated page three.

Second grade teacher, Patricia F. Scheel, said, "Any similiarities between this weekly reader and the Record are not readily apparent, but I know you can read between the lines!"

Little Bobby Lehman wrote Bill Hardgrove, Record classified advertising manager, "Dear Mr. Hardgrove, "We enjoyed the machines. We loved the linotype machine. We also enjoyed the ink machine. We loved the building."

The class wrote C. Carlton Hartley, publisher, "Dear Mr. Hartley, Thank you for letting us see how they make The Hilltop Record. We loved the trip! The trip was very interesting."

BAKERY ROUTE SALESMEN

If your present salary does not make ends meet and if you are ambitious enough to look into something different, why not come in for an interview and see what we have to offer you.

This is not high pressure selling and we do have a guaranteed salary. The routes are established and we have many salesmen who make over $100 per week. The more incentive you have plus your desires and abilities will determine the amount of money you take home. In other words, if you work harder than the next man it shows in your paycheck. We have a group insurance plan, days off with pay, paid vacations, a paid training period in the classroom and other benefits. If you are not completely satisfied with your present standard of living, come in and let's talk it over.

Interviews being held Monday, Sept. 26, thru Fri. Sept. 30, 9 a.m. to 1 p.m.

End School Change Tift At Franklin

The problem of where 80 children will go to school reached an agreeable solution in a meeting of the West Franklin School Board with approximately 45 parents Tuesday night.

Though most of the 80 children had been transfered to North Franklin School without undue remonstrance from parents, 18 children still were not settled in the new location.

"The school situation was explained to the parents so that they saw the necessity and value of the transfer," said Vaughn J. Ullman, administrative head of the Franklin Township Schools.

Many questions were asked by the parents on school procedure. Each question was answered honestly and justly, the school head indicated.

There is no overcrowding at North Franklin School, Ullman assured the parents. There is enough room for all of the students who have been transferred. No student who has been assigned to the school will be turned away.

Georgian Heights parents have claimed that their children were being sent to schools a long distance across busy streets and railway tracks

Of the total of 80 youngsters involved in the transfer only about 18 were still in a state of indecision as to what school they must attend this week.

Overcrowding was the only reason that youngsters were sent to North Franklin School from the new West Franklin Elementary School. Only the children in the upper grades where there were several classes of the same grade were in the transfer move, Ullman pointed out.

Students involved in the recent uncompleted annexation of Miriam Addition area who are now permitted to attend Columbus schools are supposedly taking up the space of those students who are being transferred. Ullman said that there are only a few of these children still at the school and they are not causing the overcrowding.

A REALLY CAPTIVE AUDIENCE

Over 600 Lives Saved By Consecrated Doctors

By Herb Boiorio

Walk through the guarded gate on N. Wheatland-av just off W Broad-st into the Juvenile Diagnostic Center. Meet Dr. Roger M. Gove, superintendent. Look over the children there, they could be your neighbor's children or even your own.

There are only 130 boys and girls there now, but during a year's time over 600 are processed. Yes, surprising, but the word processed is just what it is!

These boys and girls may have no greater problem than being habitually truant — or they may have committed murder. Thirteen psychologists are working daily with these children of a chaotic world and trying to look into the dark recesses of their minds to find the problem which set them on the wrong path.

Only after searching out the problem of each individual youngster can these competent doctors and eight social workers recommend the proper institution for treatment.

In the hands of 170 staff adults at the Juvenile Diagnostic Center lies the future of 600 children every year. Will they be committed to a penal institution or a corrective institution, or a mental institution? An error could ruin the life of an American citizen in his youth.

According to a recent survey made by Dr. H. Ashley Weeks, New York sociologist, who directed an Ohio State University survey of the state's juvenile program:

"The study showed most youngsters felt they got more help at the Juvenile Diagnostic Center than at the institutions."

Dr. Weeks has since ascribed this to the fact that they were given more individual care and treatment

Under the Department of Mental Hygiene and Correction, the center has been set up to develop treatment programs which really rehabilitate, according to Dr. John D. Porterfield, director.

Development of a treatment program at the Industrial School is contingent upon a professional diagnosis of the needs of each boy and girl studied, Dr. Porterfield pointed out.

For this reason, including overcrowdedness, after Jan. 1, 1956, all of the bed space at the center will be used by the department for the expansion of the central reception and classification program, he added.

All girls 12 through 17 years of age and all boys 10 through 14 committed to the Industrial Schools will be received first at the center. This means that all girls and about one-third of the boys committed will receive this service, Porterfield stated.

Plan Child Rehabilitation

"Officials in Ohio, as in other states, know that the answer to delinquency is not in punishing the children, but in rehabilitating them," Dr. Weeks insisted.

"And to rehabilitate the child you must first find out what is wrong with him—what made him the way he is. Then you can make an intelligent decision as to what type of treatment he needs," he said.

"And, finally, after all the other preliminary work, you can give him the attention and treatment he must have to be returned as a useful citizen to society."

Under the sponsorship of Porterfield, a new legislative step was

'Confederate' Jackpot Goes Begging; Insignia Value Currently Worth $25

Some Hilltoppers apparently have money to burn or are perhaps wrapping their garbage with paper that has a lot more value than newsprint.

In any event, readers have completely overlooked the insignia which have appeared in 12 copies of The Hilltop Record — six last week and six the week before.

Just what to look for is described in a nearby column and, thanks to those who have overlooked them in the past, the jackpot award is worth $25 this week — and there are also the customary five awards of $1 each.

Why is the jackpot $25? Here's the way it works. Each week The Hilltop Record contributes $10 to the "Confederate" currency fund — $5 for the jackpot and five $1 insignia. However, the value of those which are not found is added to the jackpot the following week.

Why "Confederate" currency? Because the payoff to those who find the insignia and present the entire copy of the newspaper at The Hilltop Record office by no later than Saturday noon following publication will be paid in currency printed by this newspaper—a facsimile of the money used during the War Between the States by the Confederacy.

This "Confederate" currency may be used at 100 cents on the dollar at any business concern advertising in The Hilltop Record, in the same edition in which the insignia was found.

So, be on your toes, wipe off your glasses and read The Hilltop Record ads in your copy—it may be very valuable to you.

Here's What To Look For

If you find the above insignia stamped in an advertisement in this copy of this newspaper, take it at once to the office of The Hilltop Record (before Saturday at noon). It will be redeemed for $25 in "Confederate" currency, which can be used to make purchases at any Hilltop business establishment advertising in this issue.

The above insignia has a value of $1. Follow the same procedure for "cashing in" as outlined above.

Car Stolen As Man Pays Insurance

Last Wednesday afternoon George Painter, a Hilltop grocer at 1641 Sullivant-av parked his car in front of Shank & Saunders Insurance agency, 2552 W. Broad-st, and went inside to pay his car insurance premium.

Painter returned to find an empty space at the curb where he left his car — it was gone, stolen.

Two youths, escapees from the Juvenile Diagnostic Center, 2280 W. Broad-st, had taken the car. They were apprehended Thursday in Bell Canter as they attempted to rob a service station, Painter said.

Painter noted that there was only minor damage to the car—a missing ash tray and sprained hood springs, but he's going to file an insurance claim all the same, he confided.

From now on he's going to pay his premiums by mail, he said.

Any eighth or ninth grader who is interested in dramatics and would like to join the Dramatics Club, may attend the first meeting, Tuesday, Sept. 20.

Meetings are held on the third Tuesday of each month in room 112 and the dues are 80 cents a semester.

Plays produced at Starling are class and club projects. The club takes care of the tickets and publicity, while members of the class do all the acting.

The work a member does in the club is counted by points and at the end of the semester, members get a certificate. The three degrees are degree of honor, degree of excellance and degree of distinction.

Social activity includes one party and one picnic.

In November the classes and club will present three one-act plays.

Let's Go Shopping

As common as the potato is, there is still considerable question in the consumer's mind about how to select good potatoes in the market.

One of the best ways to get quality when shopping for this important vegetable is to note the grade mark on the package. Most potatoes now are sold in 10 or 15 pound bags on which the packer's label is printed. Such containers also show the grade, based on federal standards. This grade mark is the consumers best guide to the quality of the potatoes in such bags.

You can't always tell by looking at the outside of each potato what it will be like inside, but there are some indications of quality that are visible. Take the skin for instance. Potatoes with thick, dry skins, often flaky or netted in texture, are likely to be well matured and to store well.

Good quality potatoes are firm and smooth, not rubbery or spongy or wrinkled. The skins should be evenly colored, not blotchy, and they should have a fresh clean appearance. Eyes should be shallow, and the fewer the better. A well shaped potato of medium size is a more economical purchase for the shopper. This may have nothing to do with the quality of the item, but it will mean less waste in using the vegetable.

A Scene Looking From Broad Street Toward The Columbus State School

Stately and proud, a picture which might well have been taken 100 years ago, since that is the approximate time these buildings were built, is shown here. The Columbus State School structures with the surrounding grounds present a beautiful picture for visitors to Columbus. Dr. Wendell Butcher, superintendent of the school, pointed out that though the picture is pretty, it is no more than a lot of white elephants which must be remodeled and reconditioned to prove really useful for training and helping the mentally deficient people housed there. Dear Editor

This newspaper invites letters from its readers on subjects of timely interest. All letters are subject to the approval of the editor. Editorial revision will be made in all letters to correct grammar and spelling. All letters MUST be signed by the writer . . . his name will be omitted if requested. The Editor.

Dear Mr. Editor:

The sincere thanks of Veterans Of Foreign Wars Post 3441 for the publicity your paper gave our open house and we wish to say that it was well attended and that from the remarks made to our members by those who did attend, it was enjoyed by all.

The children had a field day with the miniature merry-go-round furnished by the soft drink concession, our thanks to them for furnishing us with this added attraction.

From comments gathered by our members from residents of that addition, known to us as the Rain Bow Addition, to others as Rea Beau Addition, we gather that these citizens of the county are sincerely interested in seeing some modern improvements made in that addition.

As a result of those conversations our Post had ordered the housing chairman, Roland Wolford, to call a special meeting at the Post Home, of the Post officials and those interested in such improvements, who reside in this addition; if such persons will watch the Hilltop Record for the announcement of the date of this meeting, we feel quite sure that by working together we can bring about these long over due improvements in this older addition, one that has far too long been ignored by county and township officials.

We of the Post realize that such things as decent streets, sanitary sewers etc., will increase taxes, but that the increase of all property value, due to such necessary modern day improvements, will far offset any tax increase to all of us.

We have invited the citizens of that community to join us in these improvements, many times before, but to-date they have not seen fit to do so. Let us hope that this time they can and will see their way clear to do so. The Post is not interested in publicity or in assuming leadership in the community, but has a sincere desire to become a part of the community in which the Post Home is now located, by working in the best interests of all, to better the community in which the home is situated.

May we remind the County Commissioners that when a proposal was made to annex many sections of the county to the city of Columbus, that they have always contended that the county could and would furnish the residents of the county, the same advantages and improvements that city residents now enjoy, but to date have refused to do that very thing, so we now find it necessary to force such action and hope through this meeting of Post and citizens of this addition, to bring about that very condition.

THE OLD RANGE,
R. M. Hartman

Dear Editor:

"Vice is a monster of such frightful mien,
To be hated needs only to be seen;
But seen too oft, familiar with her face,
We first endure, then pity, then embrace."

Today the reaction of society to some forms of entertainment, prove the truth of the above lines.

Things that were once looked upon as evil, have become so commonplace that society not only endures them, but has accepted them and some groups embraced them.

Time was when dancers would glide across the dance floor to the rythmic music of a waltz or schottische.

But today what is put on the screen as dancing is more of the type of calisthenics.

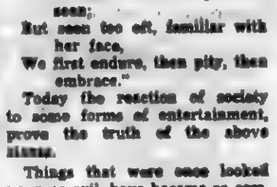
Then we are forced to tune-out the television and radio, or listen to the guttural tones of some one who may think he is singing, but which to the trained musician sounds more like the squawk of an old hen giving her brood an alarm signal.

In instrumental music the clatter that comes over the air we consider the noise that there was made at the old time bellings, with cow bells, tin pans, tin horns, and anything else that would make a noise.

Last to be mentioned, but not least, is beer, beer, beer, on so many programs. Thousands of children, who are not reached by the churches, see and hear only such things as mentioned above.

And yet institutions that are supposed to mold character are complacently standing by without even entering a protest against the atmosphere in which children are being raised.

The fault is not with the television. It produces the things presented to it.

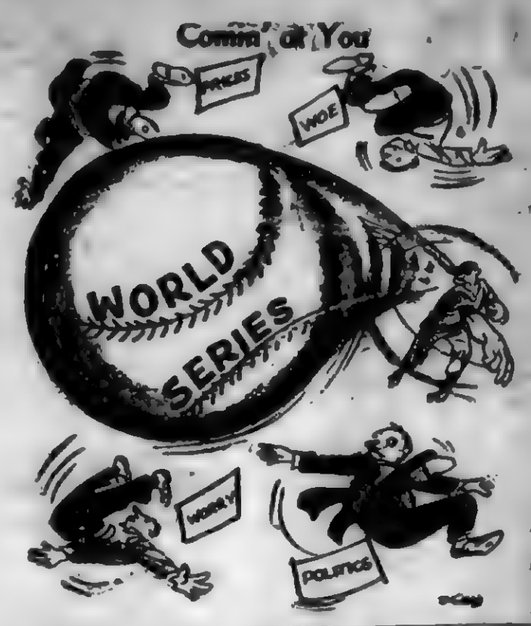


Then where does the fault lie? Think over these things, then form your opinion.

I have mine, which is a drift toward the material things of life, to the neglect of the moral and spiritual sides of life.

"Seek ye first the kingdom of God, and his righteousness," then the material things will be taken care of.

Do the signs of the time indicate that the above is in reverse.



J. A. Downey

Father, forgive them; they know not what they do.—(Romans 8, 11.)

Reading these immortal words, the prayer of Christ Jesus as he hung dying on the cross of Calvary, how can we hold resentment, hatred, unforgiveness in our hearts? These are cancerous growths that can destroy us, and it is so easy to rid ourselves of them if we will but follow the glorious example set before us.

In Passing

LATE SEPTEMBER

Gold has been laid on gold, until the sight
Recoils from too much light.
And every hillside bears the print of the sun,
Where the cicada under a brittle leaf,
Ochre or cinnamon,
Rasps one dry note. The aromatic sheaf
Holds only summer's bright and empty husk.
Across this air
Now draws the delicate dusk;
Brings down the dark. Let summer's image be Still stamped in light behind closed eyelids, there
Incised indelibly.

Betty Page Dabney,
in The Lyric.

Late September — Goldenrod, haze on the hills, football, talk, football practice, smell of ripe apples and grapes, hay fever, harvest plans for winter, mothers frantically buying new coats and snow suits, dry leaves falling, gardens looking tired, glads and mums, pumpkins, new fall fashions, talk of Santa Claus in the pig-tail set, pre-Halloween beans hitting the windows, fall housecleaning and football.

It is remarkable how one pint-sized guy—age 17 months — can make his family deliriously happy after days and nights of worry and desperate praying and waiting. Our own special little character succeeded in turning his family into jibbering idiots with joy today, by deciding not to be ill any longer. Of course the doctors and nurses helped him make his decision. He had seen a bottle of furniture polish and wondered if it would taste as good as it looked. Now after four days and nights in the hospital he will be home again to take up his interrupted exploring. Prayers are prayers of gratitude now and all's right with the world. All's right with the world for his family, but we all think of the children in Children's Hospital and other hospitals whose families are still waiting and praying for their recovery.

Heard in passing—The greatest truths are the simplest; so are the greatest men . . . One way a girl can tell her boy friend is getting serious is when he starts to spend less and less money on dates (or maybe it proves he is losing interest) . . . Dictators always look good till the last ten minutes . . . A good listener is not only popular everywhere, but after a while he knows something . . . A professor is one who talks in somebody else's sleep . . . Keep your dreams, for in them lies joy denied to men grown wise.

Harried city fathers in several parts of the country are experimenting with an electronic device which emits a supersonic shriek which is above the range detected by the average human ear. It is designed to annoy starlings to the point where they'll leave a community.

First County Fair Was Held 104 Years Ago

By Gilbert F. Dodds

The first Franklin County Fair was held one hundred and four years ago under the direction of the Franklin County Agricultural Society which was organized at City Hall on Sept. 6, 1851. In October of the same year, the first County Fair was held on the State fairgrounds in Sullivant's Grove near Franklinton.

To encourage the holding of county fairs, the Ohio Legislature passed an act, Feb. 28, 1846, stating that any organization holding a county fair should receive $200 from the county treasurer. Cash amounting to $339 had been received from the 339 members of the Agriculture Society and $59.50 had been received from the sale of admission tickets, making a total of $598.50 the fair board managers had to spend. The board paid for premiums and expenses of $329.36, leaving a balance the first year of $269.14.

The Fair Board managers then turned their attention to the purchase and improvement of grounds of their own, on which to hold future fairs. In July, 1852, they purchased eight acres near Alum Creek from Samuel Barr, upon which they immediately commenced their improvements. And in October of the same year, the second Franklin County Fair was held on their own grounds.

The names of some of the men who were most active in the Fair Society included Samuel Medary, William Dennison, David Taylor, Samuel Brush, G. M. Peters, William L. Miner, Pliney Curtis, Joseph O'Harra, W. H. Harey, Jacob Slyh, Robert Hume, Benjamin Blake, M. L. Sullivant, E. F. Jennings, Lucien Buttles, J. W. Baldwin, Moses Seymour, C. W. Speaks and others.

Autumn Bus Tour

The Franklin County Historical Society will conduct its first autumn bus tour Saturday, Oct. 22. Busses will leave the Greyhound bus terminal at 9:45 a. m. This will be the first Autumn Pilgrimage that the Historical Society has ever planned outside of Franklin County. It will include historic sites in the beautiful hill country of Highland, Adams and Ross counties. Members will be asked to take picnic lunches which will be eaten at Serpent Mound State Park. Coffee will be furnished by the Historical Society. Cost of tour for members is five dollars, six dollars to non-members. Send your reservation plus check to the society's office, c/o Columbus Public Library, 96 S. Grant-av, or phone CA. 4.6071 for your reservation no later than Oct. 13.

Cowboys Are Not Mudders, Splashed By Arlington 6-0

By Bill Haire

"I don't see how we'll beat anybody," lamented Cowboy grid mentor Mack Pemberton last weekend as he looked forward to a rugged six-game City League schedule

A week earlier, his West High gridders slipped by Marion Harding 13-6 even though they showed very little offensive punch. A solid defense pulled them out of that one.

Last Friday the Cowpokes ambled over to Upper Arlington where they dropped a 6-0 swimathon to the Golden Bears. The score was held this low only because of the extremely large amount of rain which fell all day Friday and also throughout the contest.

It was reminiscent of the 1948 North game in which West splashed to a 19-0 victory over the Polar Bears.

Holds Pessimistic Attitude

"We just never could get going," said Pemberton of his waterlogged grid machine which crossed over into Golden Bear territory only once in the game, that coming in the third period when Bill Spratley hit Dick Fury with a 14 yard pass. Furry fell across the 50-yard line as he was tackled. (The Cowboys lost the ball one play later as Spratley was nailed for a substantial loss).

A look at the game movies, however, revealed that even though the Cowboys were able to gain but 82 yards net, they still came within a whisker of pulling the game out of the fire.

On one play Bronco Halfback Bob Conley broke through for a 30-plus yard gain. The last man who could have got him tripped him up. Pemberton felt that if Conley had gotten away from that one defender the score quite possibly could have been West 7 - Arlington 6.

Arlington, however, deserved the victory as they rolled up 232 net yards (103 in the opening chapter) to West's 82 (35 rushing, 47 passing). The Bears also bested the Broncs in the first down department 10-5.

All the damage was done in the first period as the two clubs exchanged punts, Arlington taking over on their own 48 yard stripe. Halfbacks Lew Dulin and Chuck Hittson, who were thorns in the Cowboys side all evening, then took over. Hittson skirted left end for 22 yards. Dulin then bobbed up the middle to the 12. Little Lew cracked away twice more advancing the pigskin to the one from which Hittson lugged it over. The extra point attempt was wide to the right.

Stopped On 12 Yard Line

Arlington threatened seriously twice more in the game, being stopped on the 12 yard line and then on the three by "dat ol' debbil," Mr. Fumble.

The six points were enough, however, as West's offensive picture was every bit as murky and bleak as the weather. For the optimist, though, it might be pointed out that the Broncos did complete three passes (completed none against Marion).

"I thought surely we could win that one," said a very disappointed Pemberton of the Arlington mud-bath.

Probably adding to his concern is the fact that South, figured to be a weak team in the league this year, thumped Arlington 12-6 in the opener a week earlier.

Haire-Pens

Pemberton did find one cheerful note in the Cowboys' dirge, the outstanding line play of 190-pound junior tackle Ed Richardson. In the same breath, however, he expressed great disappointment in the play of the rest of his defensive line, especially the tackles and ends . . . Ace Halfback Bob Conley last week decided it was more fun playing football than working after school and rejoined the squad. In addition to bolstering the Cowboys' defensively, he could bring a lot of light into the locals' dim offensive picture . . . Also rejoining the squad last week was Ken Clapsaddle, a sophomore quarterback. He'll play with the reserves . . . It is unfortunate for both spectators and players that games must be played under such terrible weather conditions. But scheduling difficulties make postponements virtually impossible . . . The field was so sloppy at halftime that neither band was able to perform . . . I was amazed at the number of people in the stands at the kickoff. The Arlington side was close to full and the West side about two-thirds full. Even more surprising was the number remaining at the start of the second half. Only about one-fourth of the patrons left during the intermission. The remaining ones probably figured they couldn't get any wetter . . . In their desperation to move the ball the Westerners employed their "A" formation with one halfback lining up behind the end, the fullback behind one guard, and the other halfback behind the remaining guard. The quarterback lines up as the "tailback" about seven yards back. This formation is generally a passing set-up with a few running plays mixed in to keep the defense "honest." . . . The Broncos play host to their annual rivals, the Aquinas Terriers this Friday. Coach Ellwood Petchel will bring a veteran Terrier squad into Magly Field, one of the best to represent the school in recent years. Aquinas will come into the contest undefeated in two games, holding decisions over Cambridge and Chillicothe. This should be a real tough one for the Cowboys. One thing is for sure however, and that is the locals won't be giving up as this is the one they want most to win. So Friday promises to be an action-packed evening at Magly Field.

JUNIOR TILTERS TO BEGIN TOSSING

'Set 'Em Up,' Bowling Season To Open With A Bang

"Set 'em up" is the cry being heard from youngsters all over the United States and even in foreign lands as they prepare to launch a new junior bowling season.

Hillcrest Lanes will be one of the over 2000 leagues participating in the program of the American Junior Bowling Congress this year. Come Christmas time all the leagues throughout the country will swing into action in the annual AJBC singles, doubles, and mixed doubles tournament.

Each of the AJBC members will be aiming at participation in the National Team Mail-o-graphic Tournament which will attract over 2,500 teams of junior keglers. The tournament is held the last Saturday of March as a windup to local league play.

The tremendous interest in junior bowling is in part due to the extremely interesting and efficient program of the American Junior Bowling Congress. Features of that program include the previous mentioned tournaments; an official monthly magazine; arm chevrons, medals and trophies for local champions; and special awards for high games, high series, triplicates and conversion of difficult spares.

Hillcrest Lanes will open for Junior Bowling, Saturday, Oct. 8, from 9 to 11 a.m. Everyone interested in the program is asked to register at this time. A 25 cent fee is charged each person. This sanction fee entitles the bowler to a membership card, in AJBC, reduced bowling rates, monthly magazine, league trophies and chevrons.

At Hillcrest Lanes, there will be two leagues; bantam, which are boys and girls between the ages of 8 and 12; and teen league, which includes boys and girls between the ages of 13 and 19.

For boys and girls, who have never bowled before or who want to improve their game, a special school of bowling will be conducted on Saturday, Oct. 15 at the lanes from 9 to 11:30 a.m. There will be no charge for this. Besides registering for League Play on Oct. 8, children must register for the bowling school.

The league will be supervised by Julianne McDonald of Sunshine Recreation Center. Mrs. McDonald will also conduct the bowling school.

Oct. 22 is the date set aside for organizing the boys and girls into teams. On this day, there will be no league play, only free bowling.

Oct. 29, Hillcrest's Junior League will cry "set 'em up" and you will know League has began for the younger set.

Visit The Shrine Of Columbus Pioneers, Franklinton Cemetery Has Well Clipped Lawn, Interesting Stones

By Mrs. Norbert L. Beierle

If it is a shrine, it is an unpretentious one . . .

An abandoned railroad bed circles around to the rear, industry, decay, and old shacks crowd in on it, and passing motorists don't give a sideward glance at the Franklinton Cemetery on McKinley west of Sandusky.

Is it important that a soldier of Revolutionary War fame might be buried in this plot which Lucas Sullivant gave to the first Columbus church in 1811?

Soldiers of the War of 1812 probably are there . . . the stones are now tumbled down and the sun, wind and rain have washed off the inscriptions from the sandstone.

Historical Research Underway

Gilbert F. Dodds, research director of the Franklin County Historical Society, is piecing the facts together. He says that General William Henry Harrison was stationed with his soldiers in Franklinton in the summer of 1813 just before his march to Ft. Meigs near Toledo.

At least six of General Harrison's soldiers are known to have died here and are believed buried in Franklinton.

You may walk through the 2½ acre plot yourself and squint at the 25 or so sandstone markers remaining from some 200 of Columbus' pioneers. Many of the markers are separated from their bases and stand indefinite along the rough stone fence, to weather some more before their last day is come.

The gravestones show all stages of weathering. Some are entirely blank, showing the aged fossils embedded in the stone. Others with their poetic epitaphs have faded, still have readable names and the ages of the persons down to the months and days.

One very readable marker is the recent memorial shaft erected in 1931 by the West Side Board of Trade. It reads:

"In memory of the pioneers and Lucas Sullivant, founder of Franklinton, later called Columbus in 1797. Erected by the West Side Board of Trade. Committee: Mayor J. J. Thomas, Col. W. H. Duffy, C. D. Green, H. J. Kline, J. W. Reller, R. L. Banker, Sr., J. G. Thomas . . . 1931."

Looking through the old battered gate of the Franklinton Cemetery on McKinley-av, west of N. Sandusky-st. Few tombstones are to be found in the ancient graveyard. Each marker bespeaks of the well-known people who founded Columbus as we know it today. STAFF Photo

Lucas Sullivant not only gave this tract of land and the building for the first church of the community, but he was also buried here (although later removed to Greenlawn Cemetery).

Other "firsts" made him a pioneer of prominence. He was first clerk and recorder of court, built the first jail, supervised the erection of the first court house, built the first schoolhouse, and built the first bridge to span the Scioto River.

You may wonder what this city was like when Sullivant presented this church and land to the first Presbyterian congregation in 1811.

Records are incomplete, but show that the population of Franklinton eight years before was probably 50 settlers.

An atlas at the downtown Columbus library shows that two railroads ran east and west near the cemetery, the Little Miami and the Cincinnati - Springfield - Columbus.

Franklinton Cemetery Has Long History

Most of the land surrounding the churchyard was owned by Sullivant, extending from the railroads on the north to the National Road on Broad-st on the south, and west to beyond the state hospital.

Other landowners on the south side of the National Road were Dr. J. Hawks, R. Sinclair, the Rev. L. Cunningham, the Rev. L. Hall and Mrs. M. A. Long. To the north near where the Scioto River branches were the White Mills, S. S. Rickly, an inn house, and J. F. Jaeger.

Preacher Preached in Court House

Dr. Hoge, the Presbyterian minister, came here in 1806 or six years before the church and yard were presented to the community. He held worship services in the house of John Overdier, a two-story frame building north of Broad and Sandusky.

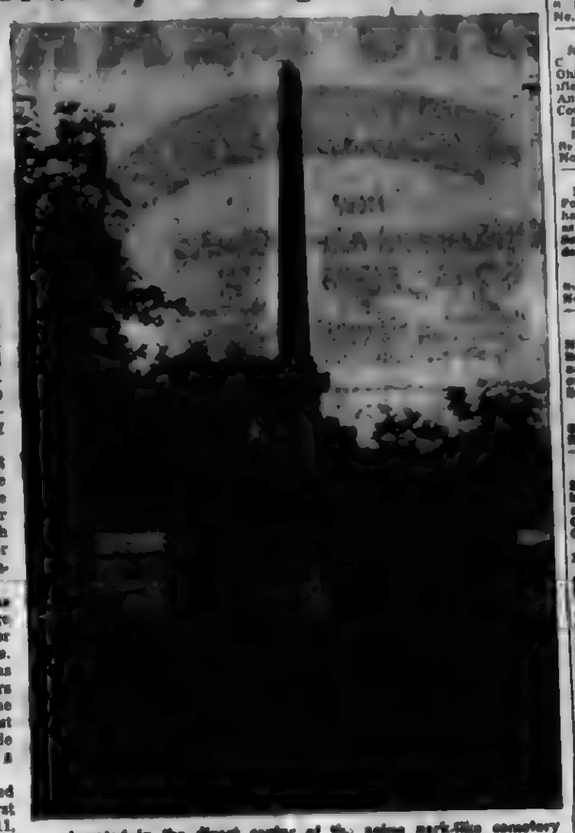
Hoge preached in the court house in 1807 and in that same year was called as pastor. Before that a young Revolutionary War refugee and patriot, the Rev. Seth Noble, had conducted services for the 13 Presbyterians of the community.

When Pastor Noble died and was buried in this cemetery, Dr. Hoge was called as pastor and served for 50 years in the growing village.

In the beginning Dr. Hoge was paid $300 a year. Many travelers coming through Columbus on the great stage line from both the east and west soon carried far and wide the fame of Mr. Hoge as a preacher.

Though the good pastor assumed his pastorate in 1807, the first meeting house was erected in 1811. The reason why it does not still stand (decadence excluded) on this Franklinton Cemetery is an interesting one.

It was a small brick building. Before it was finished it was taken over by the commissary department of the government and was filled to capacity with grain. When heavy spring rains came in 1813, the grain swelled and burst the walls of the church."



If you search the gravestones carefully you can "collect" family members. The markers of the niece of some first settlers from Pennsylvania, Col. Robert and Elizabeth Culbertson, speaks this message: "Why, lovely friend, indulge that tear? Why, trembling, view my dark abode? Though you with me must molder here; yet faith can wing the soul to God."

Mrs. Rebecca Smith, daughter of Andrew and Esther Culbertson, was born Sept. 20, 1786, died Feb. 7, 1838.

Two daughters of Col. Robert and Mrs. Culbertson, Kezia Brotherton, who died in 1811, and Margaret Keller, still have readable memorials.

Another early settler, originally from Maryland, may be buried here. There is a marker for Irvin Domigan, William and Sarah Domigan's son, who died at the age of one year, seven months, 17 days.

The William McElvains, who came to Franklinton from Kentucky in 1797, are on record as being buried in Franklinton Cemetery. Their names were among signatures on the incorporation of the First Presbyterian Society of Columbus along with James O'Harra. No stone can be found for O'Harra himself, but there is a marker for "James W., son of J. R. and R. A. O'Harra, died Feb. 16, 1822, age 14 years," near the west wall. Another marker mentions "Margaret, wife of Bartley Boyd O'Harra and daughter of Jas. O'Harra. Died July 12, 1749, age 41 years, 1 month, 2 days." She has the earliest birthdate of all the remaining gravestones, 1708.

Located in the direct center of the aging park-like cemetery is a spire monument of the people of Columbus to Lucas Sullivant in 1931 to the memory of the founder of Franklinton in 1797 which later came to be called Columbus, Ohio. STAFF Photo

One interesting marker which is fast fadin, is "In Memory of William Brown, born in Antrim Co., Ireland, 1774, died Sept. 27, 1830."

The latest marker in evidence is that of Charles Kemmerle, who died in 1872.

By Civil War time Franklinton Cemetery was headed into disuse as an active burial plot, wrote Elmer Parkin in the 1952 article in a leading Columbus newspaper.

"Its hallowed ground — first bearing a church, then our first burial plot—should cause it to be regarded as a shrine . . ."

Do you agree? It is open for anyone to visit.

New Booklet Is Released By Development Co.

A west side business location is featured in a brochure called "A Home For Your Business," released Thursday by the Peoples Development Company. The builders of Lincoln Village employ the slogan "Half A Day From Half the U.S.A." in the publication and tell why industry should locate in the 350 acre industrial area of the model city development.

It points out that already the Ohio Oil Company, The Texas Company, Oliver Corporation, Ag-Lab Products, Inc., Surface Combustion Corp., Fruehauf Trailer Co., and others, have located here.

The text is devoted to location, transportation, labor, housing, utilities, the advantageous tax structure, the trade area, and the stability of Central Ohio.

Copies may be obtained by writing the Peoples Development Company, Lincoln Village Operations Office, 188 N. Murray Hill-rd.

Mulholland Named Business Manager At Hall Ridge

John Mulholland

John Mulholland has been named business manager for the Hall Ridge Club, Gus Bierberg, president of the club's board of directors announced today.

Mulholland, 4622 Hall-rd, was formerly president of the West Side Board of Trade, athletic director of Holy Family School and director of Sunshine Recreation Center. He also was manager of the St. Vincent De Paul shops and owned and operated a grocery store on the West Side called Johnnie's Grocery Store, 96 S. Sandusky-st.

Until recently Mulholland owned and operated a business in Lancaster. He plans to move his family to the Hilltop at the end of the school year. His wife Bertha, two sons, Pat 17, Michael 14, and a daughter, Carol Ann 12, live in Lancaster.

Mulholland, 43, is a graduate of Holy Family school and also attended Ohio State University.

In announcing the appointment, Bierburg said that the new full-time business manager would keep up winter activities and prepare for the Labor Day program to open summer festivities. Mulholland indicated that preparations are now being made for a Halloween Carnival. Plans are being made to enclose the large shelter house to allow for its use this winter, at least until Christmas.

Included in the enlarged program to keep members well informed of the club's activities, Mulholland will issue a monthly paper.

'Less Feuding,' Council Candidate Asks Of Officials

Robert Forman

A meeting to discuss problems of municipal government was held at the home of Russell D. Drake, 105 N. Chase-av, on Sept. 20. Robert T. Forman, 1454 Highland-av, candidate for council, was the guest speaker.

Forman pointed out the need for less fueding and more cooperation between city officials. He said that in some cases "city government has almost come to a standstill simply because of personal differences between two parties." The candidate suggested regular meetings between the mayor and council to exchange views without regard for political parties.

Forman decried the withdrawal of the ordinance which would have permitted the mayor to appoint a finance director, which the candidate indicated, is vitally needed.

In conclusion Forman said, "Most voters do not care if their city is run by Democrats or Republicans. What they want is honest efficient government which returns to them the most for their tax dollar in the way of city services."

Since 1950 Forman has been pastor of the Galloway Presbyterian Church and is an attorney. He came to Columbus in 1924 and is a graduate of the city school system, a theological seminary, and a graduate of OSU law school.

For and About Hilltop Women

Patty Pryor And Donald Clippinger Are Wed In Double-Ring Ceremony

The light from seven-branch candelabra and tapers illumined Hilltop Lutheran Church Saturday evening, Sept. 10, as Miss Patty Pryor and Mr. Donald Clippinger were united in marriage. Rev. John Hydinger officiated at the double-ring ceremony before an altar banked with white gladioli and greens.

The bride, escorted to the altar by her father, wore a princess gown of white Chantilly lace over nylon tulle, with a short chapel train. The fitted basque bodice, strewn with iridescent paillettes, had brief sleeves. She wore white lace mitts which tapered into points over the hands. The extremely bouffant skirt over layer upon layer of nylon tulle cascaded over a Dior hoop and billowing crinoline petticoats. Her fingertip veil of imported silk English illusion fell from a matching Chantilly lace cloche. She carried a purple-throated white orchid centered among stephanotis atop a white, lace-covered Bible. Among her accessories was a carved silver bracelet from India. She became the sixteenth bride to wear it.

MRS. DONALD CLIPPINGER

Miss Donna Mayhew served as maid of honor, and Miss Peggy Hatton and Miss Carolyn Mattox, cousins of the bride, and Miss Shirley Egelhoff acted as bridesmaids. They wore identically styled waist-length gowns of crystalette made with fitted bodices and portrait necklines formed by crystal pleating. The maid of honor wore pervanche blue, and the bridesmaids, bluestone.

The attendants each carried an arrangement of pink carnations on lace and satin covered fans.

Little Christine Hatton was flower girl, and wore an ice blue floor-length gown with a bandeau of pink carnations and carried a basket of pink and white shattered carnations.

Master Ricky Porter served as ring bearer.

Mr. Robert Clippinger acted as best man for his brother, while the guests were seated by Mr. Ed Leppert, Mr. Garry Beckett, and Mr. Keith Porter, cousin of the bride.

Hostesses for the reception were Miss Carol Cress, niece of the bridegroom, Miss Janet Martin, Miss Phyllis Truitt, and Miss Marlene Spence.

The mother of the bride wore a dusty rose taffeta dress with navy blue accessories and a pink-flecked orchid. The bridegroom's mother was attired in an aqua frock with brown accessories and wore a brown-flecked orchid.

The new Mrs. Clippinger is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Pryor, 385 S. Warren-av. She was graduated from West High School and Capital University where she was a member of Kappa Sigma Theta and Kappa Alpha Pi, honorary.

Carol E. Cristee Is Bride Of Myron Deily In August Rites

MRS. MYRON BONHAM DEILY

Miss Carol Elaine Cristee became the bride of Mr. Myron Bonham Deily in Glenwood Methodist Church, Aug. 10 at 6:30 p.m. Rev. Joseph B. Shellhaas officiated at the ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wellington D. Cristee, formerly of 254 N. Ogden-av and now residents of 318 Monroe-st, South Charleston, W. Va. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Mercedes C. Deily of Elkins Park, Pa. and the late Dr. Myron D. Deily.

Imported chantilly lace over ice-blue nylon tulle and taffeta fashioned the ballerina-length bridal gown. The bodice was styled with a low scalloped portrait neckline edged with tulle, fitted basque bodice and short sleeves. She wore short mitts of scalloped lace.

The fingertip length veil of illusion draped from a lace demi-bonnet crowned with seed pearls and she carried a bouquet of white gladioli and blue shattered carnations. Her only jewelry, a gold bracelet, was a gift of the bridegroom.

Miss Clara S. Deily, sister of the bridegroom served as maid of honor and Miss Charlene Cristee, cousin of the bride, as bridesmaid.

The honor attendant wore a ballerina length, princess style gown of pink silk organza, carried a bouquet of deep rose gladioli and shattered carnations, and wore a cluster of the same flowers in her hair. The bridesmaid's gown was in aqua crystellet and she carried a bouquet of light pink gladioli and shattered carnations.

Mr. Gene H. Abels served as bestman and wedding guests were seated by Mr. Frank Rutledge and Mr. John Behling.

The mother of the bride chose a gown of orchid organza over taffeta with matching accessories, pink hat and a corsage of orchids. The bridegroom's mother chose a gray lace frock over pink organza with pink and white accessories and an identical corsage.

A reception was held immediately following the ceremony at the church. Hostesses were Mrs. William H. Haire, Miss Joanne Horn, Miss Phyllis Phillips and Miss Marlene Tague.

The couple is now at home at 254 N. Ogden-av.

The new Mrs. Deily was graduated from West High School and is enrolled as a senior of the College of Arts and Sciences at Ohio State University. Her husband is a graduate of Mayaguez High School, Mayaguez, Puerto Rico, served in World War II and in Korea with the U.S. Army, U.S. Marine Corps and U.S. Air Force. He is now enrolled in the College of Law at Ohio State University.

Rev. Koster Assumes Pulpit Of Hilltonia EUB Church

Rev. Gerald M. Koster, new pastor of Hilltonia Evangelical United Brethren Church, Columbian-av at Springmont-av, was assigned to the local pulpit at the denomination's annual conference, held in Newark last month.

Rev. Gerald Koster

Rev. Koster is the son of the late Rev. Fred Otterbein Koster and Rev. Mrs. Beulah B. Koster, both ordained elders of the Evangelical United Brethren Church.

He was graduated from the Otterbein College, of Westerville with a B. A. degree and from the United Theological Seminary in Dayton with a B. D. degree.

Before coming to the Hilltonia Church, Rev. Koster served for five years as pastor of the Pataskala Evangelical United Brethren Church and before that, at the First Evangelical United Brethren Church of Corning for four years.

He will be commissioned in the near future as chaplain in the Ohio National Guard, and is a veteran of World War II.

Rev. Koster is married to the former Marjorie Echo Pittenger of Shelby, O., who travelled for a number of years as a song evangelist, with her sister, Rev. Twyla C. Pittenger, an evangelist of the Church of the Nazarene.

The couple is now at home in their parsonage at 522 Columbian-av.

William Oger, Well Known Entertainer, Dies In Hospital

William "Bill" Francis Oger, 46, 2915 Palmetto-st, well-known Columbus guitarist and vocalist, died Saturday morning in St. Anthony Hospital, where he was taken Friday evening by the Egan-Ryan ambulance.

For the past four or five years, he had been a salesman for Montgomery Ward.

He recently had had a cocktail lounge trio and had played at the Deshler-Hilton, the Ft. Hayes, the Neil House and the Chittenden.

He had sung on all the Columbus radio stations during his career and for many years was on the Oger and Workman Show on WCAH.

He had appeared on WBNS-TV about a year and a half ago.

A graduate of Aquinas High School, he had always been interested in music and had entertained many of his schoolmates. He played first the banjo, then the four string guitar, and the six-string guitar.

Surviving him is a sister, Mrs. Anna Mary Montoney, and one brother, Joseph of Columbus; three nephews and one niece.

Services were held at 9 a. m. Tuesday in St. Mary Magdalene Church under the direction of the Egan-Ryan Funeral Home.

Couple Marks Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Ira B. Briscoe, 175 S. Brinker-av, observed their 50th wedding anniversary on Friday, Sept. 23. On Sunday, Sept. 28, in honor of the occasion, a family dinner was held at the Seneca Hotel.

Mr. and Mrs. Briscoe moved to Columbus in 1902 from Spencer, W. Va., when he retired as district superintendent of the Hope Natural Gas Co. of West Virginia.

They have three children, Ira Lee and Bessie McLinn of Columbus and William A. of Chelyan, W. Va. The couple also has seven grandchildren.

Malcolm Grove, Hilltop Pioneer, Dies At Age 83

Malcolm C. Grove, 83, a Hilltop pioneer who contributed much to the development of the community he loved, died Wednesday, Sept. 14 after a long illness.

A founder of West Gate Lodge, F&AM, he was one of three who were granted permission to form the lodge on Oct. 23, 1912. He served the lodge continuously as an officer, first as a trustee and for 36 years as secretary, until his retiremeat five years ago.

In addition, he was a charter member of West Gate Chapter and West Gate Council and belonged to the Masonic Veterans Association, Blue Lodge Secretaries of Ohio Association and to the Scottish Rite.

He and his wife, Maud, built the brick double which is still standing at 2657 W. Broad-st when they were first married 52 years ago. At that time, there was no other building closer than Highland-av.

The couple lived there until 1922, when they moved to 1540 Neil-av. Despite the change of address, Mr. Grove identified himself with the Hilltop always, and his interest remained here until his death.

In addition to his wife, he is survived by two nieces and two nephews.

Funeral services were held in West Gate Temple, to which he had contributed much, on Friday, Sept. 17. Arrangements were by Jerry Spears Funeral Home.

HBA's First 'Tea Party' And Style Show Delights Guests

By Betty Doft

The Hilltop Business Association gave its first "tea party" last Thursday afternoon. The fashion show and tea was presented to entertain wives of HBA members and their guests.

Evelyn Jones, secretary of the Hilltop Business Association and director of Welcome Wagon in this area was the gracious hostess for the "ladies afternoon out."

Among the prominent Hilltop women present were Mrs. M. E. Sansenbrenner, Mrs. Robert Draper, Mrs. Noble Allen, president of the Lions Auxiliary; Mrs. Charles Neil, president of Kiwanikwe and Mrs. Harry Lasck, president of the Ohio State University Mothers Club.

In addition to the many well-known local women, there were those who were comparatively new to the Hilltop. The affair served, for these women, as an introduction to the friendly, community spirit of the Hilltop, so well exemplified by the HBA with its sincere interest in Hilltop affairs.

The community room of the City National Bank, 3100 W. Broad-st was decorated with autumn leaves and chrysanthemums, an appropriate setting for the latest fall and winter fashions shown by Seiller's Department Store. The fashion show was arranged by Mr. and Mrs. Jack Merriman and directed by Mrs. Mary McGinnis, all of Seiller's.

Members of the Hilltop Business Association, their wives and children served as models for costumes for every age group and for every occasion from leisure-time to party-time.

Modeling, with professional ease and obvious enjoyment were Jeffrey Case, Janet Clay, Jane Leighninger, Annette Bates, Diane Westlake, Susan Jones, Mrs. Jerry Spears, Jr., Mrs. Hazel Moss, Mrs. Dorothy Holt, Mrs. C. Carlton Hartley and Loreene Edgar.

Many gifts, all donated by members of the HBA added to the fun.

Party-fare of dainty sandwiches and cookies were served buffet-style with tea and coffee.

The delighted guests left with the avowed intention of making speeches to their husbands to the effect of "It was just wonderful; how about doing it again next year?"

LET'S GO SHOPPING this week for—Better breakfasts, fall fruits and vegetables, broilers and pork cuts.

Five years of research has convinced a team of State University of Iowa scientists that breakfast skippers rob themselves of potential alertness and efficiency during the late morning hours, and that dieters are wrong if they think omitting the morning meal is a practical way to lose weight.

For all the fifty subjects, ranging in age from 12 to 53 years, the omission of breakfast lessened their physical and mental alertness in the late morning hours. All subjects showed changes in weight but omission of breakfast had no influence on the weight changes observed.

The study of various breakfast plans included breakfasts built around cereal and milk and those based on bacon and eggs. No significant differences were found in the two types in terms of physical and mental alertness in the late morning hours.

The studies also included the effects produced on the blood sugar level by breakfasts which contained 10, 15 and 25 grams of protein. Results showed that 10 grams of protein was inadequate, 15 grams was on the borderline, and that 25 grams—which might be found in a meal containing cereal and milk or eggs and milk—was entirely sufficient for maintaining the blood sugar at a normal level during the morning hours.

This research, showing that breakfast is a necessity, prompted the national promotion of "September, Better Breakfast Month" five years ago in the interest of mental and physical efficiency. Are you planning your meals, your food budget, and your time to include an adequate morning meal of fruit, cereal and milk, or eggs, toast and milk?

taken to meet the state's mental health problem. The law creates a Bureau of Psychiatric Training and Research in the Mental Hygiene and Corrective Department.

What Do Doctors Look For?

In making a diagnostic study of a youngster, doctors evaluate the background of the child, study his social history, family relations, school progress, adjustment to community situations, and they study how the child gets along with his peers, adults, and cottage parents at the center.

A complete medical and neurological examination is given, including laboratory studies, chest x-rays, electro-encephalographic tracings (brain wave tests), and a psychiatric examination if deemed necessary.

The main function of the center is to try to find out what the child's problems are, assist in servicing his needs and help him to adjust to life and society, said Dr. Gove.

Wards range from high-grade mental deficients to those who have committed murder, Gove pointed out. The youngster stays at the center from eight to 10 weeks and is returned to the referring agency after the diagnosis is complete. In this way the law protects the child. If his home or institutional life is disastrous to his personality, therapeutic and rehabilitative care can be given or suggested, Dr. Gove added.

Too many times a child in an institution is lost in the many or the group and no one-to-one relationship exists to help him with his individual problem, the superintendent said.

"We teach the child that he must act in socially acceptable ways. We do not encourage him to break windows. Earlier; this type of expression was encouraged to have a youngster destroy property," he said.

"Behavior which is not socially acceptable is not encouraged or tolerated at the center.," Gove stated.

Residents living nearby have complained about the actions of youngsters held at the center. When the boys are out at play in the play area they have been heard to use foul language. Dr. Gove asked that neighbors who have such complaints call him directly at the center.

"It's unfortunate," he said, "that these boys have done this. The activities you see at the center are the same as those you would see in any other group of teenagers, but here we have a captive audience. Many youths walking along the street can be heard to be using the same unsavory language, but unless a guardian is immediately at their side little can be done. We do not tolerate it when we are aware of their bad language."

If a youth has been found to be careless in his language he is taken aside and an attempt is made to have him correct this and is told of other means of getting rid of his aggressive attitude, Dr. Gove said.

"We are keenly sensitive to the impact we might make on the people of our neighborhood and every effort to alter the program in our power here is taken not to interfere with the rights of our neighbors," the center head insisted.

Therapeutic Atmosphere Sought

In every way possible, said Mrs. George Huhta, administrative assistant at the center and public relations officer, a therapeutic atmosphere is sought.

No long-term treatment is started at the center, she asserted. Children are received from the juvenile court and other referring agencies as young as six and up to 16. It is the problem of the center to first overcome the child's fear of the people who will work with him, then probe into the problem which sent him to the center.

(Next week the story of a child from the time he enters the center until he leaves will appear in this newspaper.)

Great Books Discussion To Begin Soon

Hilltop's first Great Books Discussion Group will hold its organization meeting on Friday, Oct. 21, at the Hilltop YMCA building, 2723 W. Broad-st.

First meeting will also serve as a demonstration of the great books discussion technique. Hilltop adults who have not yet made up their minds about joining the program will also be invited to attend. All sessions will be held from 8 to 10 p.m. Succeeding meetings will be held every other Friday evening.

Co-sponsored by the Hilltop YMCA and the YWCA Hilltop Center, this first-year course in the great books will involve the discussion of 16 selections, it has been disclosed by Bob Schmidt, executive secretary of the Hilltop YMCA.

Included are the Declaration of Independence; Plato's "Apology" and "Crito"; Sophocles' "Antigone"; Aristotle's "Politics, Book I"; Plutarch's "Lycurgus and Numa"; The Gospel According to St. Matthew; Epictetus' "Discourses"; Shakespeare's "MacBeth" and Marx and Engels' "Communist Manifesto." Other authors include Tolstoy, Thoreau, Milton, and Machiavelli.

The Great Books Foundation of Chicago, a non-profit corporation, will make available an attractively bound, nine-volume set containing these readings to each member for $11. Schmidt has disclosed that a group purchase of the books may lower the cost to $9.25 for individual members.

Participants must also be members of either the Hilltop YMCA or YWCA, Schmidt said. A year's membership in either costs only $2.

Books will be ordered at the first meeting and should arrive before the second. Those taking part in the initial session will be asked to read the Declaration of Independence, which may be found in dictionaries, history textbooks, or in books available at the Hilltop Public Library.

Great books discussion course was first launched during World War I by novelist John Erskine and later advocated by Dr. Robert M. Hutchins, chancellor of the University of Chicago, now has participating adult groups throughout the nation. Great books first came to Columbus in 1940.

One definition of Great Books states that they are "the books which deal most incisively, most eloquently, and most timelessly with man and his world."

Great Books groups are led by specially-trained leaders who seek to bring out different points of view by every participant on man's basic problems. The meetings are neither lectures nor formal classes. An ideal group would be one composed of men and women representing all nationalities, religions, and occupations.

Joining in great books has no educational prerequisite. The only requirements are the desire to think about and discuss common problems and the ability to read.

Great Books promotional literature advocates the program as an opportunity "to learn to read with greater understanding and discernment, to learn to communicate your ideas with greater ease, to learn to evaluate the opinions expressed by others, and to learn to think for yourself."

Interested adults are invited to telephone the Hilltop YMCA or YWCA Hilltop Center or call in person to register or secure additional information.

CARE OF TROPICAL FISH

Many people have become tropical fish hobbyists during the summer months. BE SURE THAT YOUR TROPICAL FISH ARE WARM. The great majority of fishes that are kept as pets are tropical and cannot be kept in temperatures less than 72 degrees F.

To be healthy they must be kept in temperatures ranging from 74 to 76 degrees and must be protected from sudden temperature changes, especially from chilling. Unless they are kept in rooms with constant high temperatures, there is only one practical way to keep them heated properly, and that is by means of an electric thermostatically controlled heater. The heating element is simply an electric heating coil in a waterproof jacket.

The control is a thermostat that should be adjustable and sensitive to within a couple of degrees. Some aquarium heaters are built with the heater and thermostat in one tube. Some have two tubes, the thermostat in one, the heater in the other. Both types are adjustable. Mr. Trabert cannot emphasize too strongly the necessity of heat control at this particular time of year due to the warm days and cool nights.

Trabert's Aquarium at 2241 W. Broad St., is the place to go for bona fide information regarding your finny pets. Care should be taken not to use a heater that is too small for the size tank it must heat; otherwise a burned out heater and dead fish may result.

For more detailed information on this timely subject, stop at Trabert's Aquarium, 2241 W. Broad St., and get some professional and technical information for more healthy fish. They are open 12-8 p.m. daily and Sunday. — Adv.

Maybe you weren't a 'Davy Crockett' when you were a boy... but you weren't very much different from today's youngsters.

Remember how you longed for a bicycle, just like that of the boy next door, a snazzy sweater, a football or a wagon? Remember the wonderful feeling when you acquired it through your own efforts?

We're sure you and every reader of this newspaper appreciates the initiative shown by our youngsters in working things out for themselves—but they need your encouragement.

The Hilltop Record is offering an opportunity for every carrier to win not only a number of wonderful prizes, but also to be rewarded well financially.

When your carrier calls at your home encourage him in his first business venture by agreeing that you will pay him monthly. It costs you nothing down . . . he will collect near the middle of each month for that month and should give you a receipt at that time.

Every Record carrier boy receives his pay based on the number of people who pay him each month. He is entitled to payment if he does a good job for you, is courteous and a good young business man.

Numerous Record paid in advance subscriptions expire in September and October. It is sincerely hoped that all such subscribers will agree to have the Record delivered to them on a 20c a month basis by the carrier. You will not only be helping him win valuable prizes in this contest but will be adding to his regular monthly income.

Persons on the Hilltop not receiving their copy of The Hilltop Record Wednesday evening are asked to call the Circulation Dept., BR. 9-9444.

In paying your carrier boy please ask for the special printed receipt for the current month. Every authorized Record carrier boy has these receipts.

Colony Restaurant Now Under New Ownership

Ownership of the Colony Restaurant, 3178 W. Broad-st, has passed from the hands of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Milner to a group of three well known restauranteurs, one a Hilltopper. The Milners relinquished control of the establishment, which they had operated for about 18 months, because of the ill health of Mr. Milner.

The Hilltopper associated with the new management is Joe Jurlina, 281 N. Burgess-av, who has resided there since 1949.

Others are George and Jimmy Zanes, well known Columbusites, who have had more than 25 years' experience in restaurant operation.

Both Joe and Jimmy are veterans of World War II and Joe also saw service in the Korean conflict. He is a member of the Smith-Barratt American Legion Post.

West Kiwanians In Search For Auctionable Merchandise

Members of the West Franklin Kiwanis Club began an intensive drive this week to secure articles —and services—of value, to go to the highest bidder at an auction to be held by the group Oct. 22 at the Prairie Township school.

"We'll take just about anything of value that can be sold at auction," Clarence Latham, chairman of the affair, declared.

"It could be a gallon of oil, 20 gallons of gasoline or a grease job from a filling station, baskets of groceries, orders for quantities of ice cream or dairy products, a bicycle, horse, lawnmower, certificate for dry cleaning, a tractor, baled hay, electric appliances, or a thousand and one other items.

"One thing is sure," Mr. Latham said, "the great variety of items will add tremendous interest to the affair."

Members of the West Franklin club are endeavoring to contact as many business houses as possible for contributions to the auction. Others having articles of value which they wish to contribute are asked to phone FR. 8-7366, FR. 8-7648 or FR. 8-5805. Arrangements will be made by the club to have them picked up.

All proceeds from the sale will be used for various projects sponsored by the West Franklin Kiwanis Club. A major portion will go to youth activities work.

Preceding the auction, scheduled to begin at 7 p.m., a turkey dinner will be served by members of the eighth grade at the Prairie Township school.

TALKING WITH THE PUBLIC

11 Residents Complain Of Careless Student Drivers

West High School students who drive their cars to school even though they live within walking distance were the target of sharp comments voiced by eleven residents living close to the school

After receiving a complaint the Hilltop Record made a survey asking the question: "Should students be allowed to drive their cars to school if they live within walking distance or have no use for them after school to take them to work."

The opinion of Mrs. Walter Popp, 142 S. Powell-av, is typical of the answers received. "I hate to be tough on the kids," she said, "but it would be a lot easier on people who live around here if they didn't drive to school. We have business meetings in our home once a week and it's getting so that our visitors can't find a place to park."

"There are 21 children in this half-block apartment house," she continued "and I'll tell you that it's dangerous for those kids to be outside. I have my children come in the house when school let's out."

Student driving around West is atrocious!" said Mrs. Ronald Metzger, 216 S. Powell-av. "People around here hardly dare let their children out. A bunch of students will get in a car and shoot off—screeching their tires and speeding down the block."

Mrs. Metzger said that the police had been stationed around the school earlier in the year and that their presence helped the problem of recklessness considerably. However, when the police stopped patrolling, carelessness resumed, she added.

"My answer is definitely no!" said Paul A. Hoene, 190 S. Roys-av, adding that he had witnessed recklessness and immature driving on the part of students. 'Not very long ago," he said, I was talking with a friend and his child in the alley out back by the school. A speeding car, driven by a young student, whizzed by us narrowly missing the little girl."

Henne's wife said that she saw a student "showing off" by dragging his wheels with the result of digging a hole in the just-refinished alley.

Henne continued, saying that he did not want to accuse all high-school drivers of recklessness, but emphasized that his opinions were based on 14 years of living by the school.

"Student drivers are reckless and discourteous," said Mrs. R. B. Beranek, 244 S. Roys av, a member of the board at Westgate School PTA and Campfire Girls leader. The Beranek home is on the corner of an alley and Roys-av. She said that students take the corner at high speeds, making a great deal of noise and seldom stopping. She added that since there has been so much student traffic late'y her husband has gone to the expense of having their garage remodeled so that he would have access to it from another direction.

Mrs. Beranek's next-door neighbor, Mrs. A. M. Smith, re-stated the problem of traffic in the alley, adding that student driving in her opinion is "too luxurious, and not at all necessary."

Mrs. V. J. Fraas, 172 S. Powell-av, said "I think students should walk, if only for the exercise. It does them good," Mrs. Fraas added that she had noticed student drivers approach other children with their cars and then stop suddenly. "I'm surprised that someone hasn't been hurt that way," she said

"Students are careful underneath," Mrs. Fraas continued, "but just don't have safety in the forefront of their minds."

"I don't see why students should not be allowed to drive," said Mrs. I. Petit, 214 S. Powell-av, "although I think someone should tell them not to drive so fast." Mrs. Petit indicated that she had seen instances of speeding and "dragging" of wheels, adding that she did not let her child play outside when school closed in the afternoon.

"When school closes traffic is too congested to allow speeding," said Mrs. Glen Perry, 228 S. Powell-av. "In fact, I've noticed more of traffic problem caused by students walking across the street in groups." Mrs. Perry said she had noticed a great deal of noise created by loud mufflers and squealing wheels.

Quitting? We're Just Starting, Florist Says

An article printed in this newspaper last week told of the purchase by Big Bear Stores Co. of eight acres of land owned by Stephens Flowers. Apparently that's as far as a few readers went, as indicated by several calls received by Walter Stephens, Sr., concerning the firm "going out of business." "

As a matter of fact, a paragraph in the article told of plans now being made by the floral firm for new buildings, including an elaborate garden center.

The new structures will be erected on land still owned by the company in their greenhouse area, to the south of the tract acquired by Big Bear. The present floral shop will be moved to a site near the greenhouses.

"We've been in business for 72 years," Mr Stephens said, "and with my two sons, Walter, Jr. and Sherman, "we're making plans for many, many years ahead. Quitting business? Why, we're just 'starting'!"

Local Merchants Split Over Parking In Cross-Walk

Pedestrian Cross-walk Is Often Blocked By Autos

Numerous complaints have been received by the Hilltop Record about a situation at W. Broad-st at N. Eureka-av, where motorists have been parking in the cross-walk making it difficult for pedestrians to cross the street.

A survey was taken by the Record of merchants located near the cross-walk, the question was asked: Do many people park on the cross-walk in front of your stores blocking the painted cross-walk for pedestrian traffic?" Many of the merchants questioned stated the walk was blocked often.

"Yes, motorists often park and block the crosswalk. It's dangerous, I think. I only wish they would do something about it. It is especially bad for little children and older folks, having to walk around the illegally parked cars in the face of traffic turning onto W. Broad-st," said Lena Cerrell, sales clerk at Vogelsang's Hilltop Bakery, 2425 W. Broad-st.

"Yes cars often block the cross walk, but nonetheless, there are not enough parking spaces in this block. I think there are only two legal parking spaces in this block, and that is not enough for our business needs. We need more legal parking spaces, and I cannot see why there are not more parking spaces all along here," said Eunice M. Otewalt, owner, The Harmony Shop, 2423 W. Broad-st.

"There is a dearth of parking spaces, and when motorists park in a crosswalk they know it's illegal, and they are gambling that they will not get caught while they are transacting business in the area. It is a constant hazard to people crossing the street. The police give them tickets when they pass, but there are cars that do it all the time. They generally continue to do so until they get caught. People crossing from the other side of the street when a car is coming down N. Eureka-av to turn right make a race for life if there is a car parked there. This is probably the worst corner on the Hilltop because of the traffic lights being timed so that not only does the fellow coming down N. Eureka-av turn either direction, but the person going north on S. Eureka-av turns either direction at the same time, and there has been more than one collision because of that set-up," said Lou Klass, owner, Hilltop Jewelers, 2421 W. Broad-st.

"I have seen some cars parked over there. The police give them tickets when they do though. The biggest problem I see is a car coming up S. Eureka-av and going north on N. Eureka-av, when someone is going to make a right turn on Broad-st. There is a big hazard," said Forrest McCammon, owner of Fox Food Shop, 2422 W. Broad-st.

"Sure. There are quite a few who park in the crosswalk. I don't blame them. There are not enough parking spaces around. I don't see that the parking is as dangerous as the people coming along, trying to turn. There are not very many of them parked there too long, and I don't see that it is too dangerous," said George Sheehy, owner of Story's Cleaners, 2420 W. Broad-st.

Hague Avenue Site Chosen For Proposed Church Of The Savior

Pictured above is the architect's perspective of the first unit of the proposed new Church of The Saviour. The church will be built entirety of brick and stone and the first unit which will cost $120,000, will include a chapel, educational wing with Sunday School rooms, Boy Scout room, fellowship hall with facilities for administrative offfices and a kitchen. The outdoor recreation area will be developed to include a baseball diamond, tennis courts and an open air chapel. Sketched in at the left of the drawing is the sanctuary, to be added as the need develops. Ground breaking is scheduled for the first of the year. Architects are Bryant and Gilfillen.

New Church Plans Extensive Youth Program; Day Nursery

By Betty Daft

A new name as well as a new location has been decided upon by the congregation of the Apostolic Gospel Church, now located at 1074 W. Broad-st. The four-acre plot of ground on the west side of N. Hague-av, just south of Fisher-rd, has been purchased for the new edifice and the church will be known as the Church of The Saviour.

The congregation was guided in its choice of the location by the recommendation of the Columbus Area Council of Churches that this fast-growing area was in need of more churches.

An innovation in the church's program will be the operation of a full-time day nursery for children in primary grades and of pre-primary age. Rev. Arthur Witherspoon describes the plan with, "The nursery will be in response to what we feel is a definite need of working parents. We have studied methods of a similarly-operated nursery in Cincinnati, but to our knowledge this is the first to be operated in this area entirely by the church, and not as a Red Feather agency."

The church, a member of the Columbus Area Council of Churches, was founded nearly 40 years ago by Rev. W. T. Witherspoon who also served as pastor until his death eight years ago. Since that time his son, Rev. Arthur W Witherspoon has served as pastor, putting into practice his ideas of a community church with emphasis on a program for young people.

Rev. Witherspoon has also served as chaplain of the Girls' Industrial School in Delaware for more than a year and he works closely with doctors and other pastors throughout the city in a counseling service.

He is president of the West Side Ministerial Fellowship and is a member of the County Committee of Columbus Area Council of Churches.

Rev. and Mrs. Witherspoon and their family are now at home in the new parsonage at 175 Alton-rd.

Members of the building committee of the new church are Mrs Cleo Judson, Gerald Macklin Peter Berg, Richard Cooley James Ecker and Don Spangler, chairman. The day nursery committee is composed of Lillian Williams, chairman; Mrs. David Demos, Mrs. J. Taylor and Mrs. George Williams.

Board of trustees of the church, which approved all plans for the new building program include Peter Berg, Mrs. S. Rowland, Lloyd Coiffish, Floyd Lee and Thomas Ray.

YMCA Membership Enrollment Tops Goal

Membership drive of the Hilltop YMCA went over the top with the aid of these division heads: James Goudy, Mrs. Mack Pemberton, Mrs. Howard Lloyd, and Ed Planck, [illegible] enrollment chairman. Enrollment [illegible] 10 per cent. STAFF Photo

The Hilltop YMCA at its recent victory report meeting successfully completed the 1955 membership enrollment with a 10 per cent increased enrollment over the 1954 membership.

On a total of 2,634 members the final report showed 2,705 members for the YMCA during the 1956 program year. The residential division, under the leadership of co-chairmen Mrs. Mary Pemberton and Mrs. Vella Lloyd report 1,840 members, the business division under the leadership of Al Stephens, Jim Goudy, Bill Burns, John Kuhn and Wilbur Hessler reported a total membership of 750 members.

The industrial division under the leadership of John Nippert reported 75 members for their division which included reports from Columbus Plastics, Nippert Electric and the major oil companies on the Hilltop. C. W. Coconaugher served as chairman of the oil companies division. The school division under the leadership of Miss Harriette Brown reported 40 members.

Harry Dailey general chairman of the 1955 Hilltop YMCA membership enrollment stated that "This overwhelming response by the residents of the Hilltop again reemphasizes the interest of the community in seeing that an adequate youth program is assured for the coming program year for all of the youth of the Hilltop. This type of interest is another stepping stone toward the eventual realization of an adequate "Y" facility for the Hilltop Community."

Any Hilltop residents that were missed during the membership enrollment may become a member of the Hilltop YMCA by sending their name and address and $2 for an adult and $1 for a youth membership to the Hilltop YMCA office, 2725 W. Broad-st.

Drum And Bugle Corps To Start At Smith-Barratt

Crook Custer of Smith-Barratt Post 249 has revealed plans for a new drum and bugle corps to represent the post in the various competitive meets throughout the state.

Any qualified veteran whether experienced or otherwise, if interested, has been asked to contact Custer or Walter Meyers at the club rooms.

The annual fall trip sponsored by the Hilltop YMCA and the Hilltop Lions was a big success, according to Bert Korte, of the Y. About 120 fellows boarded two chartered buses and headed for the Wright Patterson Air Base.

The first stop at the base was made at the museum which houses things from the oldest to the newest in aviation.

While in the museum the boys saw a film put out by Walt Disney which showed the chronological development of Aviation

In the museum the fellows saw such interesting things as the world's largest airplane tire, a helicopter, some of the first planes built and a few jets and everything else related to the air force.

The next stop was for lunch. First they relaxed and ate at the picnic area on the base. After this there were football and baseball games for all those interested.

"We then boarded our buses and drove to the Wright Memorial which is located off the base. From the vantage point of the memorial we were able to look down and see the Air Base in the distance," Korte said.

The last part of the tour included a bus trip around the test lines to see jet bombers, fighters and cargo planes. No cameras were allowed on the test lines due to the experiments which are carried on here.

"We boarded our buses and headed for home after spending a very enjoyable and profitable day. All the fellows appreciated the part which the Lions Club played. Besides paying for the buses they also sent along members of their organization to help handle the fellows," Korte concluded.

Family Escapes Death, Train Demolishes Car

Six children and a woman, occupants of a car stalled at a railway crossing, escaped injury when their vehicle was struck by a 42-car freight train in Franklin Township Tuesday.

The driver of the car, Thurman E. Six, and his wife, Wanda, of 909 Lewis-av, made a frantic but vain attempt to push the car from the tracks as the train approached.

"We couldn't get the car started, even though it was down hill," Six said. The tracks, on Clime-rd, are on a 12-foot embankment.

None of the children, ranging in age from 1 to 8, was seriously injured, although Mrs. Pearl Riggs, Six's sister-in-law, received cuts on the face and right ankle. She is in fair condition at Mt. Carmel Hospital.

Mrs. Riggs' two children, Skeeter, 2, and Dorence, 1, and four Six children, Thurman, 8, Laurence, 4, Janet and Joyce, 3, were treated for minor cuts and bruises.

Six told deputies he was taking the children and the two women to his mother-in-law's for the day.

While he attempted to cross the tracks, he said, a car stopped in front of him and his car stalled, its front bumper projecting over the tracks.

Finding himself unable to start the car, Six and his wife attempted to push it backward down the slight grade. Then, seeing the east-bound Baltimore and Ohio freight, they sprang out of the way just before the crash.

The train hooked the car's bumper and pushed it down a small embankment. The impact drove the car through a four-by-four-inch railroad marker post and down the embankment at the side of the road, demolishing the front end.

The injured were taken to the hospital by the Franklin Township emergency squad.

Despite the theory, local situations often require special solutions in a democracy, and there is no one rule by which all people can be governed alike.

There is a good chance that Agriculture Secretary Benson will soon propose a program to alleviate the pinch on the farmers. If not, Congress will and should.

Dodge Introduces Push-Button Driving

It's fin tailed and a V-8, the new Dodge Lancer.

The new 1956 line of Dodge passenger cars will be introduced to the public Friday, Oct. 7, at West Side Motors, Inc., 1350 W. Broad-st.

Outstanding among many mechanical improvements is the revolutionary new "magic touch" push-button drive selector which completely eliminates the necessity for any kind of gear-shift or drive control lever.

Four separate series comprise the 1956 line of Dodge cars: Coronet, Lancer, Royal V-8, and Station Wagon.

Many new features have been incorporated into the new Dodge. An engine designed to give greater fuel economy, a car designed to fuel economy, a car with a record player playing 45 minutes of uninterrupted music, the newest in interior fabrics, newly designed dash panel with eye-base instrument reading, safety door latch, and a completely new 12-volt electric system.

Boy Scout Notes And News

By Robert Meeds
Scout Executive

Boy Scouts and scouters of the Sonuthwest District spent a weekend at Camp Pine in Fayette County. The occasion was the annual Fall Camporee, and boys and men alike thoroughly enjoyed the lovely autumnal weather and the activities, fun and fellowship of camping outdoors. Frank Haley organized and administered this annual fall outing.

A South West training course for all cub, scout and boy scout leaders is in progress, meeting each Thursday at 7:30 p. m. in the Hope Memorial Presbyterian Church on Broad-st. This Thursday evening, Oct. 6, Ralph Duncan will conduct the session on "meetings," while Thaddeus von Jasinski will conduct the cub session of the den meeting. All scout leaders, including cub and scout leaders and their assistants, den mothers and pack and troop committeemen, are cordially invited to take advantage of this training.

Two Hilltoppers — a man and wife combination—were recently honored together by being presented the three-year training awards for meeting certain rigid scouting requirements over a three-year period. They were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Haley.

C. O. Rawlings was the recipient on a recent Sunday morning of a scout trophy, awarded in the West Park Methodist Church by Scout Executive Charles Byers of Chillicothe. Rawlings was honored by the scouters of the Southwest District for serving in this area for 18 years in volunteer service to scouting. The brief morning ceremony, preceding the regular morning church services, were conducted by Vernon Sanford, the present chairman of the Southwest District. Byers, a former member of the West Park Methodist Church, and now a scout executive in Chillicothe, once served as scoutmaster at West Park and was recruited by Rawlings.

Vernon Sanford, district chairman of the Southwest Scout District, announces that the October meeting of the district committee will be held at the St. Matthews Lutheran Church, 80 Martin-av, on Monday, Oct. 17, beginning at 7:30 p. m. All chairmen of operating committees, members-at-large, and all institution representatives are invited and urged to attend this meeting which is planned and designed for their benefit.

October scouting roundtables for the leaders of all units will be held at the St. Matthew Lutheran church, 80 Martin-av, beginning at 7:30 p. m. Wednesday, Oct. 21. This monthly meeting is concerned with developing a better program in all three divisions of the scouting program. Den mothers, unit leaders and committeemen, as well as local commissioners are urged to take advantage of the time, place and hour of this monthly meeting, and then make a special effort to be present.

District Commissioner Harry Keller announces that the commissioners of the district will meet Wednesday, Oct. 5, 7:30 p. m. at the home of Neighborhood Commissioner Richard Rasnor, 122 Dakota-av. All commissioners of the district, as well as men who are interested in the scouting program are invited to be present.

Members of Troop 79, sponsored by the Burgess Avenue RUB Church, of which Rev. Irvin H. Lane is pastor, held an annual birthday party in the basement of the City National Bank on Monday, Sept. 26. After the ceremonies were concluded at which time the annual charter was officially presented, delightful refreshments were served to all those present.

FRIENDSHIP

I do not wish to treat friendship daintily, but with roughest courage. When they are real, they are not less threads of frostwork, but the solidest thing we know.

Emerson.

There is nothing new or revolutionary to be said about true friendship, by anyone—much less by this tired alleged columnist. But the older I get the more I appreciate loyal friends. Last week end two long-time friends came to visit. We had not seen them and had not heard from them except at Christmas time, for a lot of years. Yet how comforting and warming it has been to know they are "there," and to know they are faithful, and love us; our family and our faults! How good it is to be with real friends—to be able to let down one's hair and not have to weigh each word before it is spoken! And how good to know they did not come to look into corners for dust (if they had, they wouldn't have been disappointed) and to later discuss Esther's alleged house-keeping. These two friends still not read what I have written but they will know anyway. That's a truly wonderful thing about a friend—he always knows, without being told.

Of interest to poets is the following information sent to me by Mrs. Tessa Sweazy Webb, founder of Ohio Poetry Day:

Mr. Robert Smith, critic for the Greater Cincinnati Writers' League, will be speaker at The Ohio Poetry Day banquet Saturday evening, Oct. 15, at 6:30 in the Southern Hotel, Columbus. Mr. Smith, Amherst graduate and later an instructor there, was awarded the Croix De Guerre in World War One, and following the war he was with The American Book Co. for many years.

Cash awards will be given for winning poems in four contests conducted this year for Ohio poets. Dr. J. L. King of Denison University, will read the winning sonnet in a contest sponsored by Prof. Robert K. Marshall, Delaware. An award of $50 will be given for a humorous poem, sponsored by Mr. Carr Liggett of Cleveland and Mr. Ralph Kinsey of Navarre. A lyric contest was sponsored by the Dayton Poetry Group, and another sponsored by The Ohio poetry Society.

An afternoon meeting will be held in the same hotel, with Dayson, Toledo and Youngstown poets in charge. Both meetings are open to the public, but reservations are necessary for the evening banquet. Tessa Sweazy Webb, 251 W. 8th-av, Columbus, is general chairman. Mrs. Beth M. Shorb, 1343 Glenn-av, Columbus, is Secretary of The Ohio Poetry Day Ass'n. Both ladies will take reservations for the banquet. I'm sure the day will be enjoyable for all who are interested it poetry.

Peace and beauty and repose are supposed to slam the door on the doctor's nose. A new hat will do the same, girls.

Far be it from me to take the joy out of October's bright blue weather, but if you insist, I'll count up the shopping days till Christmas for you.

A fine place for an impromptu skit is a highly polished floor. That wasn't a plane busting through a sound barrier or whatever it is they do, or an earthquake. It was Esther falling on her face on a friend's h.p. floor the other night. The floor wasn't hurt but my dignity was.

Some "boners" from high school exam papers: Justifiable homicide is when a woman kills her husband . . . Julius Caesar was murdered by the Ides of March. HOW!

Now is the time to wish for a divine wind to blow and remove entirely all selfish and aggressive ideas and all treacheries and guiles following them, leaving not even tiny specks.—Shiuase (Tokyo)

IT HAPPENED IN FRANKLIN COUNTY

'Riflemen,' Formed During 1812 War, Were First Militia

By: S. L. Collmer

The first two organizations in Franklin County of which we have any record were the Franklinton Riflemen and Franklin Dragoons. They were volunteer militia companies developed by the War of 1812 and were in existence for many years thereafter.

Joseph Sullivant (son of Lucas Sullivant, Franklinton founder) described the Franklinton Riflemen in his memoirs . . . as a boy I had the most unbounded faith in their (the Riflemen) prowess which I had frequently seen tested in sham battles; and I knew that on parade days they consumed prodigious quantities of tobacco and whiskey, exploits only then possible to hardy men."

Sullivant further described the uniform of the Franklinton Riflemen as being quite showy, "white breeches and a yellow cotton-cloth hunting shirt with white fringe; a leather belt around the waist, carrying a hunting knife and a black scabbard in front, and in many instances a tomahawk behind. The plume in the hat was tall but rather stiff, being composed of white chicken feathers tied on around a stick. Each man carried an old fashioned rifle with shot pouch and powderhorn."

The Franklinton Dragoons was organized as a company under Captain Joseph Vance who assisted in surveying the first plat of Columbus. It was this fine outfit that performed valiant services during the War of 1812.

Successive commanders of the Dragoons were Joseph Vance, Abram I. McDowell, Robert Brotherton, P. H. Olmsted, Joseph McElvain and David Taylor.

Capt. Vance was a fine military officer and served in different grades of office during the war and was among the early settlers of the county. He married in Franklinton in 1808 and remained a resident until his death in 1834.

McDowell, Brotherton, McElvain and Olmsted all attained the rank of colonel. All of these men were early settlers and were prominent citizens of Franklin County.

Your Market Basket

LET'S GO SHOPPING this week for: Broilers, grapes, pears, squash and peppers.

Right now broilers are lower in price than they have been for quite sometime. Broilers weigh from 1½ to 4 pounds dressed and may be used for broiling, frying, roasting and barbecuing.

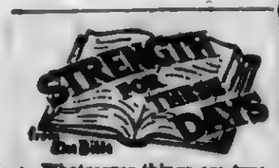
Chicken contains fat for energy, protein to build and repair the body and regulate body processes. It contains several of the vitamins, iron and phosphorus.

When buying broilers allow ¾ to 1 pound per person because of the high percentage of bone. If you plan to cut chicken from the bone, for use in meal preparation, you can count on ¾ to 1 cup of cooked meat from each pound of cut-up chicken.

Select broilers which have clean, soft, pliable, smooth textured skin with few pin feathers. The breast should be wide, round, plump and flexible. The wing joints should yield readily when turned backward. There should be small streaks of fat beneath the skin, along the backbone, sides of the breast and over the drumsticks. Bruises, dry or purplish skin are often signs of age or careless dressing.

A freshly dressed, well cared for chicken will keep in your refrigerator two or three days if loosely wrapped in waxed paper, aluminum foil or parchment. A whole chicken keeps longer than one which has been cut in pieces. Chicken keeps satisfactorily in a home freezer from three to six months if properly prepared and frozen. Thaw frozen chicken 24 hours in the refrigerator in its original wrapping before cooking. If necessary to thaw more rapidly place the package of frozen chicken in a pan of cool running water for one-half to two hours.

If you have tried to figure whether or not it is more economical to buy a whole chicken or certain pieces the following cost guide may help you. The chart shows the amount of ready-to-cook chicken needed to yield one pound of edible meat at local prices current this week.



Form	Pounds needed for 1 lb. edible meat	Cost per pound	Cost per lb. edible meat
Whole	3½	59c	$1.97
Breasts	2½	99c	$2.22
Legs	2 4/8	89c	$2.49
Backs	10	10c	$1.00
Wings	5	39c	$1.95
Liver	1	84c	$ .84

Buckaroos Thrown By The Terriers 21-6 For Second Loss This Season

Coach Mack Pemberton rails out against an alleged unjust play when the Cowboys lost to the Irish 21-6. STAFF Photo

West High's Cowboys, trying to rebound from a 6-0 mud-bath defeat at the hands of Upper Arlington, had their hopes under an avalanche of green-jerseyed Aquinas Terriers last Friday at Magly Field. Coach Elwood Petchel's Irish flailed the Broncos by a 21-6 count.

By Bill Haire

Aquinas fielded a veteran 11 headed by Captain and halfback Ray Bellisari as they danced through the West defense to the tune of 460 yards, registering 100 or more yards in each of the first three quarters. Their defense was equally adept too as they limited the locals to 121 yards, eight less than the 120 Bellisari alone banged out.

Defensively, West posed no problem to the Terriers' hard-charging line and quick backs who ripped off sizeable gains almost at will. Most of the damage was done at the ends as the Irish chalked up 232 yards there.

Aquinas received the opening kick-off on its own nine but was unable to move and was forced to kick from the 14. The punt went to West Fullback Gary Neblinger on the Terrier 33, but he was unable to hold onto it and the Irish recovered the bobble on their own 16. Aquinas' single-wing attack then began to hit on all cylinders as they racked up four first downs while driving 73 yards to the Cowboy nine with Bellisari and quarterback Lee Miller showing the way. On the next play, fullback Marcel Genereux plowed across for the score with 3:24 gone in the game. Bellisari added the extra point via placement and Aquinas led 7-0.

West took the ensuing kick-off on their own 32 and ran their only three plays of the first quarter, showing a net gain of 3 yards, before Bill Spratley booted 37 yards to the Irish 28.

Genereux ripped off-tackle for 23, Miller turned end for 35 more and suddenly Aquinas was on the locals six as the quarter ended. Bellisari swept end to go in standing up, but the play was nullified and the Irish penalized to the eleven. On the next play Bellisari repeated and this time there was no penalty. Bellisari's placement made it 14-0 with 11:44 remaining in the half.

The Cowboys scored their touchdown later in the period after Bob Courtney had returned a Terrier punt 14 yards to the Aquinas 31. With Bob Conley and Dennis McDonald leading the assault, the locals marched to the one in seven plays. An off-sides penalty shoved them back to the six but they weren't to be denied as McDonald shot West's first aerial score of the season to End Dick Furry in the end zone. Furry's extra-point attempt was off to the right and West trailed 14-6 at the half.

On the second play of the third stanza, Irish back Tom Rhodes picked off a Dennis McDonald aerial on his own 43 and lugged it to the Bronco 47. Eight plays later Miller scooted off right and for eight yards and the final score of the tilt. Once again Bellisari converted and the score read 21-6 with 6:46 left in the third period.

Aquinas continued to pour through the Cowpokes' defense the remainder of the fray, once driving to the six yard mark before a 15-yard holding penalty halted the march.

West also put in a determined bid late in the final period as the Broncos opened a full scale passing attack with Bill Spratley pitching three passes to Dick Furry for gains of 6, 30 and 3 yards. The locals powered from their own 19 to the Terriers 14 before two Spratley pitches went awry giving the Irish the pigskin on downs with 23 seconds left. One play later the gun sounded and the Cowboys had suffered their second setback in a row and their first in City League competition, bringing their record to one win and two losses.

The locals weren't without a few bright spots, however. King-sized Halfback Dave Randall ran with more drive and power than he has shown all season, as several times he carried defenders with him as he picked up extra yards after being hit. Also standing out was jack-of-all-trades, senior Ray Williams, who started the season as a quarterback, was later switched to halfback, and broke into the line-up as an end in the second half Friday and did a bang-up job.

John De Felice carries the ball for Aquinas with a Cowboy just about to throw him down for a loss. The green-jerseyed Aquinas Terriers last Friday clobbered the Cowboys with a score of 21-6 at Magly Field. The Buckaroos fought back valiantly, but were downed with only one goal.

Glenwood AC Wins Sunday Ball Title

Glenwood Athletic Club, Glenwood Center's representative in the Sunday Independent Baseball League, won the league title Sunday, Sept. 25 by defeating Belmont Club 7-6 in the play-off. Glenwood and Belmont finished with identical 7-5 records.

Glenwood trailed 6-4 after seven innings of play, but Jim Hatfield's double and singles by winning pitcher Paul Thompson and Bob George tied the score. In the ninth, Sam Patmon walked, advanced on an infield error and scored the winning run on Larry Crawford's hit.

Hatfield had four hits for the champs. Dom Stewart got three for Belmont. Don Morris, Belmont pitcher, fanned 13.

In league play, Glenwood defeated McFarland Insurance 3-1, Grove City 12-4, London Merchants, 3-1, Urbancrest 17-5, Atlas Construction 18-4, Belmont Club 4-1, and Perrins Upholstering 9-3. Glenwood dropped a 16-13 decision to Hudson Carry Out in a 15 inning battle and a 7-0 game to Commercial Point.

This league was formed by Len Wright of Glenwood Recreation Center for the purpose of offering young adults a chance to participate in baseball. Each team contributed three dollars for the season to cover the cost of paying an official for each game. One ball was also furnished for each game by both teams.

Wright concluded his 27th year as a manager-coach. Among his more recent accomplishments was coaching the Glenwood Little League team to the city championship in 1951, the first year the recreation department organized and conducted Little League baseball in Columbus.

YOUR YOUTH

After Saturday's trip to Wright-Patterson Air Base the fellows on the Hilltop should know quite a bit about the latest in Jet planes. About 120 boys took advantage of this Fall Trip which was sponsored by the Hilltop YMCA and the Hilltop Lions.

Saturday the Gra-Y clubs will start their touch football league. Games will be played on the West practice field. Some of the teams have been looking good in practice and this should prove to be a very interesting season.

Regular schedule of movies and craft classes are being given much attention by the children on the Hilltop. If you haven't attended any of these events you'll want to get in on some of the fun.

We'd like to thank all the workers who made our Membership Enrollment Drive a success. The results of this drive will mean a better program for your youth.

Mrs. O. S. Thompson, 220 S. Powell-av, said that she had noticed the high-school students to be "pretty reckless" drivers, adding that she believes that they are "showing off" and that "perhaps a series of lectures on safe driving would help this problem."

Joyce Northrop, 190 S. Roys-av, a student at West High School, said that "being able to drive keeps the kids from being late. There are some hot-rodders and reckless drivers who shouldn't be permitted to drive, though. Maybe students should be required to get their parents' permission to drive to school."

Miss Northrop added that the school has two driving courses—for 10th grade boys and 12th grade girls.

Jackpot Winner—

Both winners followed our simple instructions for playing the game. They glanced through their copies of the paper, reading each ad and found the insignia, hand-imprinted in distinctive bright blue ink, in plain sight on an ad.

Their "Confederate" dollars, exact replicas of the Civil War days currency, may be spent for merchandise of their choosing from any merchant advertising in last week's issue.

The jackpot value this week is $9 and includes the $8 the Record adds to the jack pot each week, as well as the four unclaimed $1 insignia from last week.

In addition, the usual five $1 insignia are also included.

How about it? Couldn't you use nine "easy come, easy-go" dollars? Even one dollar can be a lot of fun to spend.

Read the rules in the accompanying box and then look carefully through this copy of the paper. When you find the lucky insignia bring your complete copy to the Record office before Saturday noon and receive your "Confederate" dollars.

Happy hunting!

Whetnall, Thimmes Featured in Columbus Speedway

Elzie Whetnall and Gene Thimmes dominated the feature wins over the past weekend, at the Columbus Motor Speedway, with Whetnall copping the Friday night 20-lapper and Thimmes taking the Sunday night top event.

Friday night's activity was the wildest of the season, with no less than six restarts in the feature. On the 16th lap, with Ossie Osborn and Jack Bowsher running 1-2, they both collided coming into the turn, badly damaging Osborn's car and demolishing Bowsher's No. 21. Whetnall moved into the lead on the restart and came home the winner, ahead of Ralph O'Day, Gene Thimmes, "Duds" Grice and Emerson Sayre.

Numerous wreck.. and restarts Sunday night, made it a long program, but the fans were treated to some fast action. In Sunday's feature, Whetnall moved out in front, but a spin-out caused him to lose two laps, as Gene Thimmes moved into the first spot and went on to win. Thimmes was followed across the finish line by Ralph O'Day, Emerson Sayre, Bill Maloy and Ossie Osborn.

The Columbus Speedway will not run this coming Friday, but will finish up the season Sunday afternoon, Oct. 9, with the Season Championship races.

For and About Hilltop Women

Rosemary Thorpe, Saturday Bride Of Dr. W. Schmelzer

MRS. WILLIAM C. SCHMELZER

Arrangements of white gladioli and white pompons graced the altar of Our Lady of Victory Church for the Oct. 1 wedding of Miss Rosemary Thorpe and Dr. William C. Schmelzer. Rev. J. Arnold Favret assisted by Rev. Joseph B. Taylor and Rev. George Shorr officiated at the 10:30 solumn nuptial mass.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Lawrence R. Thorpe, 1680 Tremont-rd. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Carl S. Schmelzer, 281 N. Ogden-av and the late Mr. Schmelzer.

The bridal gown was fashioned of pure silk taffeta, designed with a winged portrait neckline and long sleeves that tapered over the hands. The basque bodice featured velvet appliqued petal motifs that continued into the full skirt, with a swan swept back that formed a brush train.

Her finger tip veil of French illusion was held in place by a ring of pearl-outlined taffeta petals and she carried a cascade of white mums and pompons.

Miss Mary C. McCann was the maid of honor and bridesmaids were Miss Wilma Schmelzer, sister of the bridegroom and Miss Carol Hassey.

Their ballerina length gowns were of aquafoam silk taffeta, designed along semi-princess lines. The close fitting bodices were fashioned with a low, round neckline, cap sleeves and full skirts. Small hats of velvet leaves with face veils were worn in matching colors.

Each wore a single strand of pearls, gift of the bride and carried a cascade bouquet of golden and toast pompons.

Mr. Carl J. Schmelzer served as best man for his brother. Ushers included Mr. John J. O'Meara, Dr. Thomas Drake, and Dr. Rodney Thorpe, brother of the bride

Hostesses at the reception held at the Colony Restaurant were Mrs. John J. O'Meara, sister of the bridegroom; Miss Patricia Sherrard, Mrs. G. Phillip Hall and Miss Gwen Stinsley.

The bride is a graduate of South High School and Mount Carmel Hospital School of Nursing.

Dr. Schmelzer is a graduate of Aquinas High School, received his bachelor of arts degree from Ohio State University, and graduated from Georgetown Medical School, Washington, D. C. He is now in private practice.

Photo of Jones Lumber Company Selected For National Exhibition

Jones Lumber Co., 37 N. Sylvan-av, has been notified that a photograph of its store has been selected for national recognition.

Enlarged to mural size, the photograph will be shown as a part of a display at the Building Products Exposition sponsored by the National Retail Lumber Dealers Association.

The purpose of the display of specially selected photographs is to show the evolution which has occurred in the retail lumber industry. Specifically, it will illustrate dealer expansion and the improved efficiency of their merchandising operations.

The exposition, to be attended by retail lumber dealers from all parts of the country is being held to acquaint dealers with the wide variety of services they may offer customers interested in building or modernizing homes and other structures.

Other features of the exposition include product displays by several hundred of the country's largest manufacturers and a series of clinics at which dealers will learn about new trends in lumber yard management and merchandising.

Plan To Open Portion Of New Sandusky Interchange Saturday

Franklin County Engineer Guy Elbin announced Thursday that motorists will have an opportunity of using a part of the Spring-Sandusky Interchange about Oct. 15 when a section of the new highway system will be opened to traffic.

The roadway to be put into use is situated on the rebuilt section of land approximately opposite the west end of the Spring Street Bridge. It will be utilized by motorists who enter Sandusky-st southbound from either Dublin or Olentangy River-rd and wish to proceed directly south to Broad-st.

Presently motorists who are southbound reach the Broad and Sandusky area by proceeding down Sandusky-st in the right-hand lane of traffic, through the intersection of Spring and Sandusky-sts.

Approaching the new road, drivers on Olentangy River-rd, will continue to pass the WBNS-TV station, while drivers on Dublin-rd will continue to pass the Columbus Outdoor Advertising Co. Traffic merges at this point and passes under the tracks, all cars bound for Broad-st will bear right onto the new road, travel west of the Spring-Sandusky intersection and return to Sandusky-st approximately opposite the Naval Reserve training station.

Use of the new roadway at the early date is planned so that traffic will be removed from a section of roadway where new paving must be installed for the expressway system. The new paving also will necessitate a barring of left turns for traffic headed west across the Spring Street Bridge.

The necessary prohibition of left turns, engineers pointed out, will make it advisable for motorists to use Broad-st for traffic bound from the downtown Columbus area to or through the Broad-Sandusky area.

Elbin, who hailed the use of the new roadway as the "first step motorists will be able to appreciate by actual use," said easily-read signs will be prepared by his office for guidance of motorists.

"We are moving toward one of the most modern highway systems in any metropolitan area," he said, "and we shall see to it that motorists are kept informed at all times as to the turns they should make and the routes they should take to make driving as comfortable as possible."

He said the temporary changes in southbound traffic on Sandusky-st are being made "to avoid delaying motorists while the expressways system is being put into operation."

Sullivant-av Will Get Street Lamps Within Month

Representatives of the Hilltop Business Association and the Sullivant Avenue Civic Association were informed by Supt. Robert Tucker of the city division of electricity this week that long-awaited street lights will be installed along some sections of Sullivant-av within the next month.

The two business groups have awaited this action for about two years, Joe Goodwin, of the Hilltop Business Association executive board, informed the Hilltop Record, Tuesday.

"We asked that the lights be installed two years ago," Goodwin said, "but we were told that funds

Annual HBA Employe-Employer Draws Crowd Of Close To 240 Tuesday Night

Goodwill Relations And Shoplifting Discussed

"WATCH" was the word passed out to close to 240 employers and employes of Hilltop business firms as they attended the annual Hilltop Business Association Banquet at the Westinghouse Plant, Tuesday, Oct. 11.

Goodwill or public relations, was the theme of the evenings program. Featured speaker, Frank Kovac, assistant public relations director of the Standard Oil Company of Ohio, pointed out to the listening group, "Everything you do or say affects your business in some way."

"Public relations is what is left after all the tangible aspects of business are removed," Kovac insisted. "Public relations today is the cornerstone of all business opportunities, everyone is in public relations work to some extent."

Intelligent understanding of the needs and wants of your customers is vital to good relations with them, the director reviewed. "Your business operations are open to the public as a goldfish in a bowl. What you project to your customers is reflected back again to you as through a mirror . . ." in both sales and goodwill.

Many employers indicated that they were not able to hire high priced men, but Kovac pointed out, "You are your own best public relations experts. You can not buy public relations, you must create it in your own organization."

Goodwill is important to any sized business, Kovac assured his audience.

"An organization serving the public does not exist for the convenience of its management and employes. Getting your organization's attitudes right is the foundation of good public relations," he said.

So many times the word "service" has been used by employers to what is expected of employes. This is incorrect, the director stated.

"Service is important, expert service, but the customer resents an attitude of indifference by the employe. Before we can expect our employes to be right with our customers, we must be right with with them," Kovac asserted.

Kovac said that though ways are devised for perfection in service, without the right attitude on the part of the employes, this perfection is incomplete. The employer must help the employe gain the feeling that he is truly important to his job. Then the employe can give the customer the ultimate in "service."

Who Should Get Credit . . .
In The Obligation

This is the season of the year when we are called on to make contributions to a number of worthwhile projects.

Outstanding right at this time is the United Appeals Drive. Thousands of workers all over the country are going house to house and business to business making solicitations to make it possible to carry on the work of all the many agencies which will participate in the results of this giving.

Persons who give of their time to do this job are to be highly complimented. Those who give generously and willingly will be doing their part in turn.

Nothing can be more discouraging to a worker than to be told that "I just don't believe in it," or "I'm going to pass it up this year" or some similar excuse when the worker knows only too well that this is only an excuse.

True, if you really can't afford it, then say so. But don't hand a worker a measly $2 if your share should be $25 or more!

We should all share in our community obligations. Be considerate of the worker who solicits you. Give and give generously!

TALKING WITH THE PUBLIC

900 Children To Walk Streets To New School, Residents Demand Sidewalks

When Hilltonia Junior High School is completed, estimated to be sometime in 1956, approximately 900-1000 students will make their way along Mound-st to the 2300-block, where the school will be located. In a recent survey, residents favored installing sidewalks.

Currently, there is some question as to how these students are to "make their way" — shall they walk beside the street, climbing over hedges and shrubbery which in many cases extends to the edge of Mound-st, or shall they walk in the street where the speed limit is 35 m.p.h.? There is no sidewalk.

Last week the Hilltop Record made a survey of most residents living on the south side of Mound-st between Hague and Wheatland-ave, the route which students will take when the new school opens. The question was:

"Do you think a sidewalk should be installed on the south side of Mound-st from Hague to Wheatland-av to allow children better access to the new Hilltonia Junior High School when it is completed?"

"I am very much concerned about this lack of a side walk on W. Mound, answered Ray Harris, 722 S. Harris-av "Children have to walk in the street along here now to get to school. There are people down the block who have shrubbery across city property clear down to the street. Further down there is a fence out to the street. I have thought about putting in a sidewalk where my property borders Mound, but it would have been almost useless for such a short distance. I'd say a sidewalk is a must! Definitely!"

"I understood that a sidewalk was to have been built here five years ago," said Mrs. M. M. Willhoite, 740 Racine-st, "when Mound-st was extended out here. But you can see, it has not been done yet. Yes, I think we should have a sidewalk. I have seen children walking along the narrow path on both sides of the street, but in some places there are flowers, and in order not to walk over them, they have to go in the street."

Nickolas Tankoolah, 783 S. Richardson-av says "I can hardly agree to it. I am paying terrific assessments now for two streets—Mound and Richardson-av, and that sidewalk would cost me too much in taxes."

T. Clark Miller, 770 Burgess-av, also says "No." "I do not think a sidewalk is needed on either side of the street," said Miller. We have a place to walk off the street, and I don't know of another area through here that even has a path. Right now the children are walking the other way to school. We can take up the question of a sidewalk when the school opens."

"I would say yes, a sidewalk is needed, answered Mrs. A. J. Pufahl, 758 S. Ogden-av. "I often walk to the store with my small children. It is a nuisance to carry one child in your arms and try to keep the others off the street. There's only a little space to walk. Then, around the house here, the

Readers Overlook Jackpot Insignia In Last Week's Record; Value Is Now $19

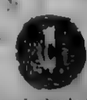
Money does not grow on trees, not anywhere in the world — but it is free for the finding in Hilltop, USA! We're speaking, of course, of "confederate" money, free for the finding to observant readers of The Hilltop Record.

Lucky insignia in six copies of last week's Record, which would have meant "confederate" cash in the pocket of the finders, were undiscovered last week.

However, the misfortune of last week's readers means increased good fortune to this week's jackpot winner, for the value of the jackpot is now $19.

Each week's jackpot equals the value of all undiscovered insignia from the previous week plus the usual $5 added each week. In addition, five $1 insignia are imprinted on ads in five other copies of the paper.

You need only examine each ad as you read this copy of the Hilltop Record. The insignia, hand-imprinted in bright blue ink, are never hidden but are in plain sight on an ad.



When you find one, take the complete copy of the paper to The Hilltop Record office before noon on Saturday, and exchange it for "Confederate" dollar bills. These may be spent at face value with any merchant advertising in this week's Record.

Replicas of the insignia are shown in the accompanying box. Take a good look, polish off your glasses, and read the ads in your copy. YOU may be this week's jackpot winner!

Here's What To Look For

If you find the above insignia stamped in an advertisement in this copy of this newspaper, take it all once to the office of The Hilltop Record (before Saturday at noon). It will be redeemed for $1* in "Confederate" currency which can be used to make purchases at any Hilltop business establishment advertising in this issue.

The above insignia has a value of $1. Follow the same procedure for "cashing in" as outlined above.

IN FRANKLIN COUNTY

City Of Columbus Is Named Future Capital In 1812

By Gilbert P. Dodds

Columbus, the Capital City of Ohio and seat of Franklin County, came into being in name only on Feb. 21, 1812 when General Joseph Foos, then in the State Legislature located in Zanesville, offered a resolution naming the future capital after the discoverer of America.

The city is situated on a plateau 777 feet above sea level and overlooks the confluence of the Scioto and Olentangy (formerly named Whetstone) when the two rivers unite to form the Greater Scioto. The site was chosen because it was a healthful location and near the geographical center of the state.

When surveyed in 1812, the site was little more than a wilderness, but Joel Wright, agent for the state and noted surveyor, envisioned the future greatness of the city by laying out wide streets and good planning.

The four proprietors who owned the plateau had combined their interests and offered a town site of nearly 1200 acres in which the state through its agent, could select two squares of ten acres each; on one of the squares they would erect a State House and other public buildings and on the other a penitentiary. Three buildings should cost not less than fifty thousand dollars.

In 1816 the State House and office building were ready and in October of that year the capital was removed to the wilderness city from Chillicothe. The legislature met for the first time in the new capital, Dec. 2, that same year.

Also in 1816, Columbus was incorporated as a borough and in 1834 it was incorporated as a city. In 1824, the county seat of Franklin was removed from Franklinton to Columbus. Factories were started and in 1830 the city's growth was aided by the coming of the Ohio and Erie Canal and in 1833 the National Pike was extended to the city. In 1839 ex-Governor Jeremiah Morrow laid the corner-stone of a new capital building, which was completed in 1860 and still serves its purpose.

In 1850 the Columbus & Xenia railroad was running through trains to Cincinnati. Now the city is served by five major railroads and three major airlines at Port Columbus, its Municipal Airport. In 1847, Asa D. Lord was appointed superintendent of schools in Columbus, the first appointment of its kind in the entire Middle West. Today our city has an excellent public school system and fine parochial and private schools.

Three universities, Ohio State, Capital and Franklin serve the community well. Among the Catholic institutions of higher learning are Josephinum Pontifical College, Diocesan College Seminary of St. Charles Borromeo (for men) and St. Mary of the Springs (for women).

The city has two outstanding museums, the Ohio Historical Society and the Columbus Gallery of Fine Arts. (The Franklin County Historical Society will move into the Old Memorial Hall late this year where a county historical museum will be established. Here schools will learn more about the history of the country through illustrated talks and museum exhibits.

The state holds an agricultural and industrial exposition at the Ohio State Fairgrounds in Columbus each year which ranks among the largest and best of its kind in the United States. The city has two Sunday newspapers, the Columbus Dispatch and the Columbus Citizen which are also dailies, and one morning newspaper, the Ohio State Journal. The Sunday Star, a tabloid, is published weekly. In addition there are 25 weekly newspapers published in the city and county.

Columbus also has four commercial radio stations and three commercial TV stations. Ohio State University will also have a new educational TV station.

Columbus is governed under a home rule charter with a mayor and a seven-man council elected for four year terms on a nonpartisan ballot and preferential voting and referendum. A variety of civic improvements are in process of completion and a number are being planned which will enhance the Capital as a place to live comfortably and to engage in many industrial pursuits. Columbus is noted for its number of fine churches and large percentage of church-going citizens.

Were Columbus among us today, he should certainly be proud to have his name borne by such a progressive city.

Nationwide Mutual Introduces New, Simplified Automobile Insurance

Nationwide Mutual Insurance put on the market here today its new basic policy containing pictures, large print, and only half as much wording as previous policies.

"We believe it's the most concise auto insurance contract ever wkritten," said R. Watts of Major-Rielly Waits Agency. "The company has long felt that an insurance agreement should be as well understood by the man-in-the street who buys it as by the insurance technicians who write and service it."

The policy was developed last spring, Walt said. Its introduction was timed for after Sept. 1 when the firm, formerly Farm Bureau Mutual Automobile Insurance Company, changed its name to Nationwide Mutual Insurance.

In transforming its old basic policy into the new, the company cut the number of words from 6082 to 2942, he said. It increased the size of type, widened space between lines, and placed illustrations throughout the contract.

Also, the company reduced from 20 to 4 the policyholder's duties after reporting an accident, saving many of the usual 600 words of explanation.

From somewhere—some bachelors never quite get over the idea that there are things of beauty and boys forever . . . Her very first kiss he remembers yet—she forgot to remove her cigarette . . . It's a good idea to keep your words soft and sweet because you never know when you might have to eat them . . . Once you let a giggle get out of hand there is danger of its turning into a sob.

Mail—From Columbus: October seems to be the month for remembering. I like to remember the farm in Hocking County where I was raised, the bittersweet on the old rail fence and applebutter cooking in the big copper kettle out by the spring house and how the applebutter tasted on fresh bread my mother baked. The hills were beautiful and so were the corn fields. I know it has been said a thousand times, but the shocks of corn did look like teepees, and we kids used to play Indians in the cornfields. October is my favorite month for anything and especially for remembering . . . From my favorite shutin: Oklahoma had better keep its fingers crossed if you are pointing your car in that direction. I remember that the week after you were in New England they had that awful flood, and a short time after you were at Niagara Falls the big hunk of sock fell out of the falls. So maybe someone will give Oklahoma back to the Indians after you leave.

After all the tired old westerns and gory murders on television, shows like "There's Always Jan," "Father Knows Best" and "Make Room For Daddy" are refreshing. Maybe it is because children have prominent roles, I dunno. But I like them.

How lucky can one woman be, exclamation point. I hear via telephone advertising that I can get hundreds of dollars' worth of merchandise and car-service for the small sum of $4.95! The Better Business Bureau might have another name for it, but the gal who called said I was "lucky," or would have been, if I'd bitten.

Cowboys Run Over By North 25 - 0

By Bill Heire

North's Polar Bears scored twice in the first half and twice more in the last five minutes of play to put a 25-0 deep freeze on West High's punchless Cowboys last Friday on a rain-soaked North field.

Junior fullback Mark Grim was the chief villain as he blasted out 135 yards in six carries while he chalked up two touchdowns and set up another with a fumble recovery.

In the opening quarter, North moved deep into Cowboy territory before the drive stalled. The Broncos, however, found the ball a little too slippery to handle and Grim covered the first of seven Cowboy fumbles on the locals' 16 yard stripe.

West put up its best defense of the evening here as it took North six plays to move to the one, from which point quarterback Gary Clinard sneaked over on fourth down. Jim Bennett kicked the extra point with 2:26 left in the first quarter. The rest of the quarter was played in muddy midfield with neither team threatening.

Cowboys Pounce On Fumble

Early in the second period North drove to the Cowboy 10 before the locals pounced on a fumble to halt the surge. With halfback Dave Randall carrying the mail, the Westerners moved out to their own 27 where another fumble put them in hot (or should I say muddy?) water once again. Two end sweeps and an off-tackle blast moved the Bears to the 22 yard mark. Here Grim took over and cut off-tackle, bounced into the clear and slashed the remaining distance for the tally with 2:40 gone in the period. This time Bennett's kick was no good and North led 12-0. The two defenses then took charge and the two clubs again wallowed in the mire unsuccessfully until the half. At this point it became extremely difficult to tell who was playing for whom, as both teams were wearing the same color uniforms—muddy gray.

The locals returned the second half kickoff to their own 43. Randall smacked into the line twice for gains of three and nine yards, and fullback Gary Nabinger got one at end. Here it looked as if the Broncos might get something started, but Bill Spratley's second-down heave was picked off by North and returned to midfield. With Grim as their battering ram, the Bears clawed their way to the eight but Cowboy backfielder Bob Conley rose to the occasion and scooped up a fumble, stopping the threat.

Cowboys Execute Long Drive

The Cowboys then put together the longest drive, in amount of time consumed and number of plays, of the season. Starting from their own eight and churning out short gains, it took them 20 plays and the remaining minutes of the third quarter and half of the final period, to drive to the Polar Bears' 31. With fourth and one, Conley was stopped short of the first down and North took over. The drive covered 61 yards with Dick Furry's 10 yard sweep being the longest jaunt.

Grim then ended all doubt about the game's outcome as, after two plays, he burst through the middle and sped 68 yards for the Bears' third score with 4:39 remaining in the fray. Cowboy linebacker Bill Link broke through to foil the extra point attempt, leaving the score at 19-0.

Hilltoppers continued to delight North's homecoming game crowd as they fumbled on their first play after the kickoff and the Bears pounced on the muddy pigskin on the Cowboys' 27. On the first play halfback John Caronis slipped past the Cowboys and rambled on into the end zone, making the ledger read 25-0. Again the extra point was blocked as Ray Williams broke through and batted it down.

Next time the Broncs ran three plays before North gobbled up a fumble on the West 37 and ran out the clock.

Cowboys Looking Better

Despite the score, the Cowboys looked better than they did the previous week in losing to Aquinas 21-6. Halfback Dave Randall, looking better each week, led the attack as he rolled up 86 yards in 10 carries. Although North chalked up 268 yards to the Broncs' 112, the first downs were comparatively even, with the Bears leading 11-9.

Loss was West's third in four outings while the Bears own a 2-1-1 record.

This week the locals will again be underdogs as they travel to Linden McKinley to joust with a big Panther team which suffered its first loss last Friday to Central, 31-6.

Pre-Season Basketball To Begin Nov. 7

Pre-season basketball leagues will get underway at Glenwood Recreation Center approximately Nov. 7. There will be this year, as in the past, leagues for junior boys (ages 8-13), intermediate boys (ages 14-16), and senior boys (ages 16-18).

There will be room for eight senior and eight intermediate and six junior teams. All boys wanting to enter a team in one of the leagues should call Jack Roberts at Glenwood Recreation Center (BR. 4-7416), or stop at the Center and register for one of the league openings.

The first teams to register for pre-season will be the teams that will play. No more than the stated number of teams will be allowed to participate, so it is strictly on a first come, first served basis.

West High Boys Raise Pigeons In Spare Time

Dale Braskett Photo

By Dave Hise

Raising "racing homers" is the favorite pastime of two West High School students, Bill Miller, 16, and Eddie Hodges, 15.

The boys keep their coop containing about 18 pigeons in Eddie's back yard. The coop measures six feet high and five feet square.

They have one common pigeon, raised by Bill from a squab, but the rest are hybrids. The common one has not been removed from the flock because the boys say they just do not have the heart to do so.

A hen is their favorite, and it has a gestation period of seven to ten days, and she sits on her eggs from 18 to 21 days before the first squabs break their shells.

The young leave the nest in about four weeks. If the babies were of the eating variety, they would be eaten when they are fully feathered and before they fly.

Bill and Eddie earn some money by selling squabs to prospective pigeon raisers. A good squab will bring about two dollars, with a mature pair bringing about five dollars.

Campbell Named To Citizens Committee

E. M. Campbell, 91 S. Westmoor-av and executive secretary of the Hilltop Business Association, has been named chairman of the Citizens' Committee for the health levy. According to Campbell, the proposed levy will provide $1.50 per person for health protection each of the next two years — an increase from the present $1.13 in Columbus but still far below the nationally recommended safe minimum of $2.

JUNIOR KEGLERS

Hillcrest Lanes opens its alleys to junior bowlers this Saturday morning at 8, when a School of Bowling will be conducted free of charge.

The school is open to all boys and girls from 8 to 18. The school is set up so that new bowlers will learn the fundamentals and experienced bowlers will learn more techniques.

Registration was held at the lanes on Oct. 8. Some 50 children signed up for the league and bowling school. Juniors bowlers who did not sign up and still want to, may come to the lanes and register before 9 a. m., Oct. 15.

Oct. 22 at 9 a. m., Hillcrest Junior Bowlers will organize into teams. On Oct. 29 the teams will go into action on their first day of league play.

Post Commends Worker For Help On Fund Drive

"Through the untiring efforts and generosity of comrade Bob Renner and his wife, the drive for the building fund for Smith Barratt Post 249, went over the top in it's quota for the past fiscal year," according to Al Wegner, vice commander.

The rapid increase in the post's membership in the past few years has made it necessary to plan for a new building to house the swelling organization, Wegner added.

Second vice-commander Dave Schuster reports that funds for the annual crippled children's Christmas Party have been coming in from both members and the community at large at a very rapid pace. The mirror which serves as an added incentive to cover with the green is half way to obliteration at the present time, by the currency taped on it.

Look what you don't have to iron...

Sheets, towels and pillow cases dry so wrinkle-free in an electric dryer that you can just fold them up and put them away.

Jeans, corduroys and T-shirts are ready-to-wear just as they come from the dryer—with no ironing.

Undershirts and nightwear dried in a dryer are smooth enough to wear without ironing, and are far more soft and comfy, too.

All in all, an electric dryer actually cuts your ironing time by a third or more!

And the lifting and lugging you save! No wrestling a 10-lb basket of clothes out to the clothesline. No bending and stretching to hang up each piece. All you do is zip your clothes from washer to dryer and set the dial. The electric dryer does the rest.

Between an electric dryer in Houston, clothes come out fresh, sweet and clean. And the cost of an electric dryer, including installation, is far less than for any other fully automatic type. Why not let your appliance dealer show you an electric dryer now? He's offering special values during Dryer-Buyer days.

were limited and that other sections of the city needed lights more than we did. We certainly didn't mind waiting our turn.

"Then, about a year ago," Goodwin continued, "Sullivant Avenue Civic Association made another appeal to the city."

Last week the two groups were called to City Hall to "talk the situation over" with Tucker.

Tucker told the representatives that soon, possibly within a month, a new type street lamp will be installed on Sullivant between Terrace-av and Blane-blvd, Goodwin said.

The new lamps are said to have great intensity," Goodwin continued, "so much that cars would not even need headlights when they are installed."

Tucker was reported to have said that more sections of Sullivant may get the lights later as money and equipment become available.

Walk Hand-in-Glove With Fall's Handsome Hand Fashions

BY EDNA MILES

Outlined with tiny beads and circle-stitched, French glace gloves are close-fitting; washable for carefree wear.

KNOWLEDGE of the leathers you're buying when you go out to add to your fall glove wardrobe is mighty useful.

Did you know, for instance, that doeskin is a luxury lambskin? That glace is a tissue-fine kidskin used for party gloves and that boxlav is a highly polished leather made into gloves that lend a rugged life?

One fine French firm turns out a complete line of leather gloves that are guaranteed washable. This includes party gloves with rhinestone or embroidery trim.

Gloves are a bit longer for fall. Even the shorty now meets the watch strap. The classic mid-arm length is as popular as ever and the longer elbow length is once more in demand.

Colored jewels are used as trim on a long black glove, there's shirring for a doeskin shorty and feathery embroidery on smooth glace. Even the casual boxlav has a trapunto-like pattern.

There's lots of color in these leather gloves. Beige and frosty mist are two very good neutrals. Then there's a soft, chestnut brown, a turf tan, curry, ripe persimmon and avocado.

Rosettes of beads trim these sleek French glace gloves for evening wear, which features new, cuff-like fold.

Plan Grand Opening Of Hilltop Eagle's Candy Store Today

Grand opening of Eagle's Candy Store, 3168 W. Broad-st, will be held Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Oct. 13, 14 and 15, with gifts of free flowers and candy to every visitor.

The 180 varieties of candy, each made from an original recipe of George Eagle, will be manufactured in the plant at 1941 W. Fifth-av.

The plant, incidentally, is open at all times to anyone wishing to watch the candy-making process.

Mr. and Mrs. Eagle are the proud possessors of a blue ribbon, award of highest quality, earned this summer at the Chicago Candy Clinic, sponsored by the Association of Retail Confectioners in America.

With 48 years of candy-making behind him, George Eagle describes his success in the field with, "We use only the finest quality of ingredients in all our candy, including grade "A" butter, cream, chocolate and the best varieties of nuts and flavorings.

George Eagle started making candy in Mt. Vernon at the age of 13. He came to Columbus 36 years ago and operated a candy store at 4 N. High-st before moving to the 1941 W. Fifth-av location.

His two sons also own and operate their own candy stores. John is the owner of the stores at 24 E. Town-st and at 4500 N. High-st, while "Chuck" operates a store in Bexley.

Business hours of the new store will be from 9 a. m. to 9 p. m., seven days a week.

Glenwood Scores Over University View, 46-0

An inspired Glenwood 21 scored early in the first quarter and went on to win their first game of the season over University View, 46-0 Saturday, Oct. 8, in a 12 pound tackle football game at Sunshine Center.

Quarterback Pete Cabora scored four touchdowns, three from scrimmage and one on an intercepted pass. Bob Arthur scored two and left half-back Carl Brown added another.

The Glenwood line sparked by Joe Cronin refused to yield ground and was credited with keeping the University eleven within their own fifty yard line.

The Glenwood offense lost the ball twice by fumbles, but not once was it forced to give up the ball on downs.

This week the team is being groomed for a game Saturday, Oct. 15, with Linden Merchants.

Weekly Market Report

Columbus Union Stock Yards

Cattle Market—Slow, dragging affair, with rates off on most kinds. Strictly choice to prime offerings holding best, will continue about as is.

Hog Market—Early rally with trend lower in latter part of week, due largely to rainy weather. As farmers go back to harvesting, prices will tend to strengthen and increase.

Lamb Market — Fall trend toward large supply. Erratic prices and trend is definitely lower due to large seasonal supply, with limited demand.

Church Plans Extensions, Buys Land

Bethlehem Lutheran Church, Vida-pl at S. Harris-av, has put into motion the first of its planned extension program, with the purchase of the two properties behind the church.

Located on a triangular plot of ground, the newly-purchased lots extend from S. Harris-av to Racine-av.

Bids are now being received for the house on the first property, 606 S. Harris-av. When sold, the house is to be moved by its new owners, providing space for the church's proposed building program.

A sanctuary, Sunday School rooms and kitchen will be included in the new building and the unit will be connected to the present church edifice.

The second property at 617 Racine-av, will be used for a parsonage. Rev. Paul Milheim, pastor of the church, expects to occupy the manse around the first of the month. The old parsonage, now sold, was located at 607 S. Harris-av.

Hilliards Centennial Lauded A Success By Workers On Various Programs

The Centennial Celebration of the Hilliards Methodist Church, was quite a success, says Mrs. Robert Willien, publicity chairman for the affair. The Sunday evening services were especially rewarding, she claims, as the general air of greetings among old friends, and pleasant informalities indicated that everyone found an interest in some phase of the evening's entertainment.

Methodist Youth Fellowship directed by its president, Bob Windle, performed the opening services for the evening. Mart Beerner, president of the board of trustees of the church, dedicated a new pulpit Bible in a brief ceremony.

Returning ministers were introduced by various members of the congregation as Rev. Albert Slack of Miamisburg, presented by Harlan McMillan; Rev. Floyd Rowe introduced by Kenneth Love. Rev. Albert Noetlick welcomed by M. D. Hartsook; and Rev. Clyde Pinnell presented by Dr. Ralph Woodin. Each spoke briefly of their present work, and their pleasure at attending this affair.

Reception For Ministers

A reception line was formed to meet everyone, and this was made up of the former ministers and their wives, along with the 90-yr. members, Mrs. Anna Fahringer, Mrs. Mary Kidwell, Joe Latham, Miss Alda Skinner, Mrs. Ray VanSchoyck, Mrs. Mae Weaver.

One pleasant and nostalgic performance of the evening was the return of Forrest Patterson and Lee Shackson from Westerville, to join old friends, Basil Johnson and Clark Van Schoick, said Mrs. Willien. These four old friends repeated their past performances as an excellent musical quartet. They were well-known around Hilliards in years past, as entertainers. Everyone enjoyed their return engagement, to celebrate the reunion of all past church members, Mrs. Willien said.

The exquisite display of antique articles from this community, under the direction of Mrs. Claude McCann, and Mrs. Nellie Miller, was appreciated by everyone for its historical and religious values, according to the publicity chairman. It was up for casual inspection of guests, following the services.

A tea-reception was held in the basement of the church following the reception greetings in the sanctuary of the church. Mrs. Hazel Johnson was the official hostess in charge of the evening's affairs. Robert Kinney presented several short notes of congratulations from other community churches to the Hilliards congregation.

Centennial Pageant presented at the High School on Thursday evening, Oct. 6, was hampered by the weather conditions, in the matter of attendance of community people, but those who did brave the weather report that it was well worth their time. Mrs. Charles Feldpausch, chairman in charge of this affair, was lauded for her efforts by many people, for she had presented this pageant in an interesting and enjoyable manner, they said.

Three Taken Into HBA At Meeting

During the business meeting of the HBA Tuesday night, Beaver Frost, 2360 W. Broad-st; Kenneth's Inn., Food Service, 2781 W. Broad-st, and Loreene School of Modeling, 2502 W. Broad-st, were accepted into membership in the association.

The association received through a unanimous vote to accept a resolution endorsing the health levy.

Dr. Boo Campbell, asked if there were any persons who had a sleigh, which the association could use in the Christmas parade this year, to call the HBA office. "We'll take good care of it."

LET'S GO SHOPPING FOR: potatoes.

Potatoes are a low-cost, high-energy vegetable, rich in vitamins B and C, iron, calcium, and phosphorus. Contrary to popular opinion potatoes are not a high calorie food, one medium-sized potato containing only 100 calories. The high calories commonly associated with potatoes comes from the generous serving of butter or gravy that we like so well on our potatoes.

There are as many different ways to serve potatoes as there are days in the week, so your family need not tire of eating potatoes daily. A balanced diet includes potatoes once a day, in addition to yellow and green vegetables.

Important commercial varieties of Ohio potatoes are: Katahdin, Cobbler, Sebago, and Chippewa. For greatest satisfaction and economy select potatoes of medium size that are fresh, clean, light in color, well shaped, free of spots, firm, undamaged, and with few shallow eyes.

Quality in potatoes is affected by variety, maturity, and growing conditions. Potatoes with thick, dry skins, often flaky or netted, are mature and store well. Buying in larger quantities usually means lower cost per pound. A good guide to help you select potatoes is the "grade" stamped on the package.

Mature potatoes keep three or four weeks in a dark place at room temperature. They may be stored several months in a dark moist place at a temperature of 34 degrees to 40 degrees fahrenheit, and a relative humidity of 85 to 90 per cent.

You may be interested to know that 20 to 25 per cent of the potatoes produced in Ohio go into the manufacture of potato chips because they have the desired qualities and give a high yield of chips.

Dear Editor

This newspaper invites letters from its readers on subjects of timely interest. All letters are subject to the approval of the editor. Editorial revision will be made in all letters to correct grammar and spelling. All letters MUST be signed by the writer . . . his name will be omitted if requested. The Editor.

Dear Editor:

In a recent letter I pointed out that it is not wholesome for one party to be in power too long.

Yet the veteran councilman, a candidate for mayor, is resorting to every means he can conjure up to maintain a one party government in the city.

The evidence regarding his plan is his refusal to recognize the appointment to fill a vacancy in council.

Instead he drove through council by a 4 to 3 vote the approval of a Republican to fill the vacancy.

By this action he (Jones) denies the right of Democrats who pay taxes to have at least one voice in shaping the policies of the government under which they have to live.

The summit of the veteran councilman's endeavor to maintain a one party government was reached when at election time he opened up a salvo of political propaganda against the mayor which, as he thought, would perpetrate himself (Jones) in office by being promoted from president of council to mayor.

In addition he says that if he is elected mayor there would be no bickering, contention and strife between the executive and council.

Why should we be under a one party system?

In the veteran councilman's 18 point program he states that a 19th point should be added to the effect that the executive should cooperate with the council.

Why not reverse the picture and add a 17th point to the effect that the council should cooperate with the executive instead of a smear campaign of mud slinging politics?

As pointed out last week in our national set up in government, it is the bounden duty of the legislative branch of government to provide means for adequate defense and protection to secure the safety of our wives, sweethearts, and daughters from molestations of sex fiends and our homes and business places safe guarded from those who would break in and steal.

Instead of cooperating with the executive, because he wanted to discredit the administration, he ignored the warning of Safety Director, Lee Phillips, that if council did not furnish means to increase the police force he would not be responsible for the outcome.

Yet Jones has the effrontery to charge the mayor of breaking his pledge to check crime.

Should the veteran councilman's record be contrasted with the spirit manifested by two outstanding Democrats from the South. He would be weighed in the balance and found wanting.

Here it is. Senator Byrd of Virginia and Senator George of Georgia cooperate with a Republican president by furnishing ample means for the defense of America.

That is the type of man that Columbus needs at the head of its government.

Sincerely,
J. A. Downey,
186 N. Wayne-av

About The Hilltop

Words across the sea—the long awaited Columbus Day celebration is here. A scroll of thanks from the citizens of our city to the people in Genoa thanks them for their gift, a statue of their native son, Christopher Columbus. Born in a vine-covered red brick building and christened Cristoforo Colombo, he was a descendant of a family of weavers who could never quite understand their red-haired, blue-eyed, freckle face boy's love and longing for the sea and his passion for adventure that led him to the discovery of this great land of ours, America.

After 46 hours in Japanese waters, Robert (Bob) Hightower, one of the survivors and co-pilot of the Flying Tigers' cargo plane, is recuperating from shark bites in Permanente Hospital in Honolulu . . . Greetings from the John Keefers of Delaware. Their son, Jack, a sophomore at the General Motors Institute in Flint, Mich., is engaged to Mary Ann Parker, senior nurse at Good Samaritan Hospital in Cincinnati. Mr. Keefer owns and operates the Chevrolet agency in Delaware . . . Last week Ray Coffman, optical man and do-it-yourself pro, nearly lost two fingers in a band saw accident at his home . . . Long-time Columbus Dispatch associate, Bill Crum, is retired . . . In the very near future, the Stu Brickers will move into their new home in the Miriam Addition.

The Dube Stouts are proud parents of a nine-pound baby boy (Lawrence Reed Stout) . . . The Tom Clarks of Michigan and their young son, Tom Dawson, are home on a visit. She is the former Pat Goodwin . . . Mary Biegler, City Hall pretty, is back in the swing again after a three-week vacation stay at a resort in Dansville, N.J. . . . This past week-end the Glenn Hamiltons celebrated their 33rd wedding anniversary . . . Newlyweds, the Lee Addies, honeymooned in the Smokies and are now at home to their friends at 2230 Amherst-av (Mrs. Addie is the former Joyce Roberts) . . . Albert Davis is recuperating from a heart attack, at White Cross Hospital . . . The John W. Meadows' daughter, Betty, U.S. Women's Army Corps nurse, is back in "civvies" again.

Former Hilltoppers, the Harold McClaines of Austin, Tex., are back to stay. Mr. McClaine is associated with the New Method Laundry and Dry Cleaning Co. . . . Hubert Leffel of Manchester, Ind., is the newly-appointed manager of the G.E. Henry Co. The company sells school equipment. Mr. Laffel and his family are new residents of the Hilltop . . . L. B. Swineford of Ashland, Ky., will be manager of J. C. Penney's new branch store at Great Western Shoppers. At present they are residing in Westgate Manor.

The public is cordially invited to attend the program to be held before the regular business meeting. There will be no admission charge and orders will be taken from anyone interested in the costumes, all made by members of the Mary Circle.

Hilltop YMCA Mother's Council will meet Oct. 20, 1:30 p. m. at the Hilltop 'Y'. June Wells Dill of the Columbus Dispatch will speak on "Fashions". Mrs. Robert Kerns and Mrs. Neil Pence will be hostesses and a baby sitter will be present.

MR. AND MRS. FRED W. CONSTANS, 674 Wiltshire-rd, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Barbara Ann, to Mr. Albert Ernest Heyder, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest A. Heyder, 226 N. Terrace-av. Miss Constans is a graduate of West High School and is employed by Drs. Leonard and Stanley Wasserstrom as a dental assistant. Dedicate $90,000 Franklin Township Fire Building Sunday Afternoon

Fire Program Assistance Shared As A Mutual Aid

One of the unique phases of volunteer fire protection that looks after the safety of most of Franklin County is the mutual aid program.

Organized about 10 years ago by officers and volunteers from the 20 odd companies then in existence, it is a "help your neighbor" type of mutual assistance pact on a "no charge" basis.

Its operation is as simple as the name implies. If any township or municipality in the county encounters a fire or other emergency greater than its ability to cope with it, a call is put on the air for help through the sheriff's short wave radio network. Immediately several companies from neighboring townships and municipalities come to the rescue. No charge is made for the service by any unit.

The only compensation is the knowledge that under similar circumstances other companies will likewise come to their rescue.

During the 10 years that it has been in operation, it has been used numerous times. The Hilliards fire in 1952 was a typical example. In minutes after the alarm was sent out, fire equipment from more than half of Franklin County was on the way to help. Many companies remained at the scene for 15 to 20 hours with volunteers spelling each other at the scene so that a minimum of men would lose work at their regular employment.

Gentleman's Agreement

In the beginning only a gentleman's agreement to help was in effect. Today, in order to cover volunteer fire fighters under workmen's compensation while at a fire, written contracts are signed every three years. These contracts are interlocking in their coverage, three or more political subdivisions pledging their assistance to each other but all obligated to help out should an emergency threaten to get out of hand.

At present 26 fire companies (volunteer and paid) are a part of the Franklin County Mutual Aid program. Approximately 750 trained men have at their disposal 60 pumpers and 20 emergency squads fully equipped. Recently Franklin Township added a 100 foot aerial ladder truck to its equipment to be used if needed.

Chief Sam Foster of the Upper Arlington Fire Department and others interested in improving fire service throughout the county conceived the idea of the mutual aid pact as a means of strengthening the fire protection in areas where equipment was far apart and manpower limited. At the present time, every township and village in Franklin County has organized fire protection either locally operated or on contract with a neighboring department.

Mutual Aid Idea Spreading

The idea of mutual aid was quickly tied together by two-way short wave radio. All calls are handled by the Franklin County sheriff's office. Recently a complete auxiliary radio transmitter was purchased by the county organization to use in the event of a breakdown or temporary interruption of radio service. This equipment is housed in a trailer and can be moved quickly from one area to another.

The Franklin County Mutual Aid plan has been copied by fire departments from coast to coast. Inquiries have even come in from neighboring foreign countries wanting to know how the program works.

Franklin Township was the last political subdivision to equip itself and become a part of the mutual aid plan. This was accomplished in July, 1951, when the Franklin Township Fire Department assumed full responsibility for fire protection of its area. It now has three pumpers, two emergency units, an aerial ladder truck and a utility truck.

Department Has Five Year History

In event of a serious fire or other emergency, Franklin Township could muster up to 90 trained men today. Five years ago a fire deptartment was only an idea and a rather neblous one at that

Up until 1946 there was no fire protection as such in all of Franklin Township. Fire insurance rates were high and when a building caught fire it usually burned to the ground.

With the passage of a special tax levy, a contract was signed

Chief James C. Moffitt, Volunteers Plan Program

Preparations were completed this week for the Sunday afternoon dedication of the new $90,000 Franklin Township Fire Headquarters Building at 4100 Sullivant-av.

Early in the week invitations went out to 350 public officials, civic leaders and business firms in the township. Mimeographed announcements were to be handed out in the schools on Friday.

A committee consisting of volunteer firemen, Chief James C. Moffitt and the township officials has been working out arrangements for the past two weeks.

The program, scheduled to get under way at 2 p.m., will be opened by a flag raising ceremony. Following the opening, a ribbon will be cut, symbolizing the official opening of the building.

Paul M. Jones, resident manager of Ternstedt Division plant on Georgesville-rd, will cut the ribbon.

Organ music will be provided before and after the program by Robert Jahn, well-known Columbus organist. There will be introductions of guests and reports on the status of the fire department operation.

Highlight of the afternoon will be an address by the Hon. Roscoe R. Walcutt, judge of the Franklin County Probate Court. This will be followed by the awarding of door prizes at the conclusion of the program. Souvenirs will be given to all the children by members of the fire department.

Following the program the building will be open for public inspection. The Firemen's Auxiliary is assisting with arrangements for the [illegible].

Chief Started in 1951

Serving as chief of the Franklin Township Fire Department since its beginning in 1951 is James C. Moffitt.

Moffitt had been chief of the Dublin Fire Department (now the Washington-Perry Township Fire Department) for 12 years prior to accepting the local position. Starting to work here on Jan. 15, 1951, he helped to organize and train the men who comprise the three-company department.

Interested in the protection of their homes and other property, Chief Moffitt and several other men in the Dublin area formed a fire company and headed a drive to raise funds to buy the first fire pumper. Fire protection has been the chief's primary interest both as a vocation and an avocation. He is a former president of the Franklin County Fire Fighter's Association and a former vice-president of the State Firemen's Association. He is a member of Skidmore Lions Club.

Chief Moffitt is an accredited instructor in the Division of Vocational Training under the direction of Kent State University. He served as instructor on indirect application of water at the fire school put on last month by Ohio State University. During the big Hilliards fire following the train wreck in 1952 he helped to direct fire-fighters from all over Franklin County during the two-day vigil that was set up to protect the village.

The genial chief is fond of hunting. He helped to organize the Dublin Gun Club in which he still holds membership and was a member of the 100 Straight Club of trap shooters.

Chief Moffitt and Mrs. Moffitt reside at 632 Wedgewood-dr. They have a daughter, Mrs. Sue Kline, 262 S. Powell-av. She is employed at the Ternstedt Plant on Georgesville-rd.

Emergency Squad Has 556 Calls In Only One Year's Time

Put in service on Oct. 28, 1954, the emergency squad (operated in conjunction with the Franklin Township Fire Department) had answered 556 emergency calls up to the first of this month.

The service is operated on a purely volunteer basis by members of the Fire Department. Two men are on duty day and night to answer calls ranging all the way from nose bleeds and fainting cases to assisting the stork. Every man is trained in advanced first aid before he is permitted to "ride squad."

More than 17,000 hours of vol-

u..teer time have already been served in less than a year of operation not counting the amount of time spent in training for this work.

Three men have logged more than 800 hours of squad duty up until Oct. 1. They are Jim Thompson with 867 hours; Martin Swingle with 856; and Tom Davis with 816.

The squad is outfitted with the latest equipment and supplies. A new emergency squad truck was put in service last winter. It is outfitted with resuscitator, demand oxygen system, backboards, cots, blankets and complete first aid supplies. An OB kit is also among the equipment carried. This was used to assist in the delivery of one baby girl and one boy.

The first emergency call was made on Oct. 25, 1954, when a run was made to 2368 Valleyview-dr.

There, four and one-half year-old Judy Frazee was given first aid treatment. Since that time the squad has averaged almost two runs every 24 hours.

Amazing Land Purchase Offer Provides Site

One of the first major firms in Franklin Township to offer its cooperation in developing a fire department was the Ternstedt Division plant on Georgesville-rd.

When it became known that Franklin Township Trustees were looking for a fire house site in the western part of the township, Ternstedt officials volunteered to give a suitable piece of land on W. Broad-st without charge with the provision that if at any time it ceased to be used as a fire house the land would revert back to company ownership.

It was the reverter clause that upset the deal as far as the trustees were concerned. The prosecuting attorney ruled that no money could be spent for improvements on land that carried a reverter clause.

But that was not the end of negotiations between the company and township officials. A three-acre tract at 4100 Sullivant-av was later offered for outright sale to the township at the per acre purchase price of almost 10 years ago. After several months of negotiations, the present site was sold to the township.

The additional land has made possible a drive-through equipment area with three overhead doors on both sides. There is ample space for six or more emergency vehicles.

The person who does not realize there are two sides to every question is not worth wasting time with.

Four Years Of Service, FD Has 864 Calls

The three companies comprising the Franklin Township Fire Department have answered 864 fire alarms in the little more than four years it has been in operation. These figures were released this week by Chief James C. Moffitt.

Value of property involved in these fire runs was estimated at $1,638,223. This figure does not include the valuation of large industrial plants where a number of runs have been made. It includes only residential, farm and commercial type buildings.

Property loss estimated in connection with fires encountered amounted to $118,967.00, according to Chief Moffitt.

An average of 10 men per fire has been maintained throughout all of these fire runs. Residential and commercial fires have drawn considerably more men per fire than grass, auto and other miscellaneous fires.

A breakdown of all fire runs made shows the following: building fires, 246; truck and auto, 115; grass and trash, 360; miscellaneous, 113; and false alarms, 30.

Pride Of Company Is New 100 Ft. Ladder Truck

Pride of all of the volunteer firemen in the Franklin Township Fire Department is the new 100 foot aerial ladder truck purchased recently. It is the first township-owned aerial ladder truck in the State of Ohio, according to fire officials.

Built on a straight chassis with an overall length of 40 feet, seven inches, the vehicle weighs approximately 26,000 pounds with all equipment. Because of its cab-ahead-of-engine design, the aerial truck can be turned completely around in a radius of 35 feet, making it possible to turn into narrow roads and streets. It is powered by a 375 horse power V-12 engine.

The truck is fully equipped with hose nozzles and other essential accessories. It carries a complement of 200 feet of ground ladders in addition to the four-section steel aerial ladder. The unit carries 300 gallons of water and has a 200 gallon-a-minute booster pump.

Five Year History—

with the City of Columbus for fire protection. This contract was renewed at the end of a three-year term and remained in effect until July 15, 1951, when the newly organized fire department set itself up for 24 hour protection.

Planned for Rural-Urbanites

During 1950 meetings were held and committees organized to sponsor a Franklin Township Fire Department manned by itinerant residents and equipped with apparatus designed to handle rural as well as urban fires. Orders were placed for three pumpers over a six months period—the first one being delivered in the early fall.

Conferences were held with officials of the Ohio Inspection Bureau and the State Fire Marshal as well as Walter G. Strickfadden, chief of the Columbus Fire Department and chiefs of other departments in Franklin County. Training classes for volunteer firemen were organized and training sessions begun at the Jones Flying Service on Sullivant-av. Chief Walter Lauter (now deceased) conducted the training program under auspices of Kent State University.

On Jan. 15, 1951, Chief James C. Moffitt was employed to coordinate the work done thus far and to make plans for a date when the contract with Columbus could be cancelled and the new department put into operation.

Company No. 1 was set up with a pumper housed at 3365 McKinley-av with its primary area of protection the north end of the township, south as far as the Pennsylvania railroad tracks. Angelo Dallas was named assistant chief and placed in charge of Company No. 1.

A central station was opened in rented quarters at 3440 Sullivant-av. With direct fire lines to Companies 1 and 2, it became a clearing house for all fire calls. This also became the home of the No. 2 company headed by Asst. Chief F. L. McCarley.

Briggsdale House Included

Company No. 3 with Woodrow Eckardt as assistant chief, took over the responsibility of protecting the southern portion of the township. Ride for the Briggsdale Fire House at 2196 Frank-rd were opened on May 16, 1951. The building was completed by early fall and dedicated in October.

Note that 50 of the original 83 firemen who signed up for volunteer service are still active. Chief Moffitt and his three assistants have remained intact in their jobs.

Work on the new headquarters building at 4100 Sullivant-av was started late last year. Firemen moved from 3440 Sullivant-av to new quarters late in June of this year, approximately four years after start of operations.

Plans call for erection of a third fire house in the north sector to serve as quarters for the No. 1 company at some future date.

Wins Dishwasher In Contest

Mabel M. Curtis, 300 S. Hague-av, won an automatic dishwasher in Hotpoint's $2,000,000 Golden Anniversary national contest conducted by Elder & Epler, 1620 E. Mound-st. 'Slim' Elder is shown above awarding the dishwasher to Mrs. Curtis. STAFF Photo

FD Has Six Full-Time Men

Supplementing the 90 volunteer firemen in Franklin Township is a nucleus of five full-time men and Chief James C. Moffitt.

These men work 24-hour shifts and along with the chief, provide at least two regular men as duty at all times in addition to two volunteer squad men. These men all work at the headquarters building at 4100 Sullivant-av, and alternate as dispatchers and drivers of the equipment sent to fires.

Oldest men in point of service (not including Chief Moffitt) are Robert C. Bushdorf and Herman E. Rose. These men joined the department in 1952. Ronald Guyton took his job just about one year ago. Edward Lantz, Jr. started in May and Don Welsh just returned to the Franklin Township Fire Department the first of October after several months with the Upper Arlington Department.

In addition to supervising the five full-time men, Chief Moffitt coordinates the operation of the three volunteer companies and operation of the emergency service.

To Study At Radar School

Electronics Field Seaman Apprentice Robert E. Sparks, USN, is home on 14 days leave with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Forrest R. Sparks, 1546 Thomas-av. He recently was graduated from recruit training, having completed nine weeks basic training at the United States Naval Training Center at Bainbridge, Md. Upon completion of leave, Sparks will report to the navy's radar school at Norfolk, Va.

Anzio Nurse Now Serves Franklin FD

One of the unique features of the Franklin Township Fire Department is the availability of a registered nurse, trained not only in her profession but in all the fundamentals of fire fighting as well.

Mrs. Thomas

When prospective firemen were being signed up back in 1950, one of the first to volunteer her services was Miss Hattie Thomas, a trained nurse with more than four years of army nursing just completed.

In the early days of the training program, Hattie attended classes and learned the fundamentals of fighting fires. Today she is one of the most active members of Company No. 2. Although she no longer attends drills, the men in all three companies know that if a big emergency arose, Hattie would be there looking after the men the same as she did during her 10 weeks on the Anzio Beachhead.

Born near Athens, Miss Thomas took her nurses training at Mercy Hospital. She was working as a professional nurse when World War II broke out. When the critical nee ' for army nurses was cited, she enlisted, spending more than 30 months in North Africa and the Italian sectors as a member of the 56th Evacuation Hospital unit. She was discharged as a first lieutenant. She is the holder of three battle stars.

For the past eight years she has been on the first aid staff of Ternstedt Division, General Motors Corporation, plant here as an industrial nurse. She lives at 632 Wedgewood-av.

Next year most Congressmen will seek both tax reductions and more funds for their districts. It is an election year.

'Small Fry'

By J. Curtis Allen

"Hello, Grandpa. I hear you're running for mayor again."

Mayor M. E. Sensenbrenner's little granddaughter seems to be thoughtfully considering her grandfather's answer. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Sensenbrenner, 2805 Fremont-st.

kids have to ride their bicycles in the yard and in the street."

Mrs. O. A. Sheward, 735 S. Ogden-av, also said "Yes" a sidewalk should be installed. Although she seldom walks herself, she feels that the children should be able to use a sidewalk.

R. F. Allen, 811 S. Eureka-av, said that he thinks there should be a sidewalk on both sides of the street. "My little girl goes to school at St. Agnes," he said, "and she takes the long way to school in order to avoid walking in Mound-st. People wait here on our corner for the bus" he added, "and in wet weather it gets pretty muddy there."

"We've wanted a sidewalk along Mound-st for a long time," said Mrs. O. L. Ewing, 816 S. Eureka-av. "My husband has been willing to build our own if everyone else along here would do the same —it wouldn't be much good unless everyone pitched in. We did have our own sidewalk put in on Eureka but that was before the city came in and finished the job all along the block."

W. I. Murray, 800 S. Terrace-av, says that he thinks the sidewalk should be installed, and that it will be worth whatever it costs. "I don't walk much personally," said Murray, "so it doesn't inconvenience me any; but I think one should be built for those who are inconvenienced. The children should not have to walk in the street."

"By all means," said W. L. Williams, 48 S. Warren-av, "we should have a sidewalk. It might cost me a little, but that is all right." Williams said that he does not personally need the walk, since he never walks, but there are people who do walk and need it.

Mrs. L. I. Suskirk, 769 S. Burgess-av voiced about the same opinion. She said that although she has no children who would attend the new school, and although she seldom walks along mound-st, she thinks there is a definite need for a sidewalk.

"Your deeds or actions must have creditability before anyone believes your words," he said.

Public relations, therefore, becomes the business of serving others. By being more than just a seller, you draw the business you want, the Sohio PR director stated.

The responsibility of good public relations rests squarely on the shoulders of the manager of the firm, as does the success of the business, Kovac insisted.

"Good public relation today will help increase your profits for years to come," Kovac concluded.

Shoplifting Costs Millions

The cost to the average Hilltop retail merchant from shoplifters is far greater than it need be, said C. H. Campbell, executive secretary of the HBA in speaking before the group.

Shoplifting across the nation has cost an estimated $250,000,000 every year, he said.

Who shoplifts? Campbell asked rhetorically. In answer, he said, people . . . customers, chiefly women and children. Why do they shoplift? Primarily to get away with things, to be smart. Few shoplifters had any real need. Some did it out of habit.

How can shoplifting be stopped? If each employe watches the people who enter the store, it will be stopped quickly and easily. To stop it . . . watch the person's eyes. A customer watches the merchandise, a thief watches the clerk, Campbell stated.

What to do when one is found, Campbell answered this question next. Watch them, call someone in authority. Only a person in charge should make an arrest.

Private Eye in Employes

Campbell provided a check-list "How Sharp Is Your Private Eye?" in it he stated: A good clerk watches a customer who is "just looking"; acknowledges all waiting customers with 'I'll be with you in a moment.' (Legitimate customers and dishonest ones are then aware the clerk knows they are there; a good clerk keeps tables, counters, racks neatly arranged. (An orderly arrangement discourages quick 'pickups'.

Other ways of foiling shoplifting: quickly return stock or merchandise shown to customers, remove the temptation; ask 'may I help you with that, please?, if you see a customer carrying a piece of merchandise, she either wants to try, buy—or will become shy and relinquish; keep the fitting rooms clear of merchandise; give children and adolescents the same attention you would adults, children are sometimes bored, dared, or ignored, into pilfering; take care not to leave the section unattended; take care not to turn your back on a customer, it's discourteous to legitimate customers, and tempting to shoplifters; and report to supervisor anything of a suspicious nature.

PR-Advertising Confused

Often public relations and advertising or publicity are confused, Kovac stated. Publicity is the function of informing the public, this
